MUSICAL EXPRESS

Nevember 22, 1975

U.S. /@/CM

U.S. 70c/Canada 35c

Stones allums
Stones allums
To be won
To the stones
U.S. TOUR
4-PAGE SPECIAL

SEASON PAGE 3

THE CALM OF A SLUMBERING "Thrills" desk was shattered last week by an irate telephone call from the owner of the two snails who plunged to an untimely death on a railway platform while in transit to a £100 a week gig in a Northern Club. (See last week's Thrills story — "Tragic Death Of Snails On Parish Of Starters") Brink Of Stardom.")

"For a start," rapped their angry owner, "you spelt my name wrong — it's Chris Hudson, not Peter Hudson — and for another thing my contract with the club(s) isn't finished. My snails and I are still performing, and very successfully too."

The worst mistake in our story was, however, the suggestion that the two late lamented molluscs were travelling in Mr. Hudson's pocket when they fell to their doom.

"That would be pretty hard," scoffed Mr. Hudson, "as these are Giant African Land Snails which are ten inches long — the shells alone are the size of a man's clenched fist. The snails were travelling in a bucket, and as I opened the train door, two rolled out and, er, died.

"They looked rather like squashed steak and kidney pies after they'd fallen on the station plat-form," he added a trifle sadly.

The erroneous impression that the snails travelled in Mr. Hudson's pocket had also been received by the RSPCA, who contacted him on suspicion of possible cruelty. They were, however, re-assured.

The story of the snails' death dive has so far attracted eighty press reports around the globe, including two mentions on the "Noel Edmonds"

- owner's fury as death plunge horror mystery grows

Show" which resulted in Mr. Hudson being sent three wreaths.

So how was Mr. Hudson carrying on his act with his stars gone to that great cabbage patch in the sky?

"I had another three snails," he said and since the reports got out about the death of the first two I have been sent another ten giant African Land Snails from West Africa.

"Anyway Monty — he's the biggest snail in the world — wasn't killed. He's eleven inches long — inch longer than the one in the Guinness Book Of Records."

Fascinating, fascinating. But tell us, do they really drink beer as part of their stage act?

"Oh yes, they drink about a pint over a five year period," we were told. "I know that's not much but they do enjoy it."

It was also revealed to an increasingly credulous "Thrills" reporter that Mr. Hudson was currently at work on his debut single, to be entitled "The Merry Mollusks Of Snayelsbury" (sic) which would be written by Nigel Winner, cousin to film director Michael Winner. "I'm negotiating with Bell Records at the moment," we were told. "I've already talked to Jonathan King but he didn't seem too keen on the idea. But we hope the whole thing is going to be like the Wombles — the new fun thing for kids."

Mmmmm, yes, can just imagine those cute lit-tle five-year-olds telling their department store Father Christmas that they want a Giant African Land Snail for Christmas. Made from yellow and orange nylon fur of course. "I know you probably think I'm crazy," said Mr. Hudson, "but it's fun and I think it's going to be really big."

HERB AYSHUS

POP STAR

MICHAEL PHILLIP, whose rented home is his rented castle, has firmly and comfortably ensconced himself in his spacious residence in the small town of Leixlip, Co. Kildare in Ireland. Jagger seems to have settled down to a remarkably ordered style of living rather akin to a smalltown squire or, more fittingly, an Irish peer flitting occasionally to the Lords but returning often to his snug county seat.

Not that the villagers call him squire or anything. They don't. They merely refer to him as "Your man up the way" or "the pop star fella". And don't seem either particularly perturbed. overawed or any other way impressed that one of the world's most famous people is lodged in their environs. Mostly they couldn't care less, which is probably why Jagger's there in the first place.

The castle belongs to Desmond Guinness, the booze heir and an old friend of Mick's. A relationship that stems from the days when Guinness's cousin Tara "he blew his mind out in a car" Browne was, along with the Beatles and Stones, one of the bright young things that made up the "swinging" London set. Not that the villagers call him squire or any-up the "swinging" London set.

Jagger is in Ireland about a half dozen times a year and he usually stays with the Guinness family. but this time wanting to rest from the Stones recent Tour of the Americas and not being allowed into Britain he decided to rent the castle in order to have some peace and plan the upcoming European tour, which ironically will not include an Irish date, much to everyone's immense dis-appointment here. The Stones have not played in Ireland since 1965.

Not many have seen him about. Occasionally he drips down to the local boozer or is seen out in his metallic blue Renault 16 of which he is reported as saying "I love driving but they won't let me in Europe or the States. That's why I do so much here. It's all chauffeurs over there."

He is, on the whole, a stay-at-home sort of person. Every morning he may be seen driving Jade, now three, off to the local Motessori school, Jade, now three, off to the local Motessori school, a short distance from the castle. This is an invariable part of the routine regardless of the hour at which he went to bed the previous night.

Almost to counter "popular" paper reports that Mick's marriage "was on the rocks", Bianca flew into Dublin soon after Jagger had taken up residence — although the two of them were off again within a couple of weeks, Mick to do business in Europe or the States and she presumably to fight the Great Equity Battle.

to fight the Great Equity Battle.

It was unfortunate that Eric Clapton who flew in last week to see his old mate should find the castle bereft of the Jagger presence; but Eric stayed on and waited for his friend to return from

When he does get back, no doubt they will be swilling the home brew that seems to be very "in" up at the castle. The story is told of Irish singer up at the castle. The story is told of Insh singer
Joe Dolan calling on the castle to pay his respects and being entertained by his home brew swilling host. Dolan who says of himself that he's "fond of the oul'pint" was surprised to find himself matched glass for glass by the lithe Michael.
All very domestic and comfortable on a grand scale, no? Let's face it, being the world's greatest rock 'n' roll singer has its compensations

rock 'n' roll singer has its compensations.

ROB GELDOF

Ah yes folks, but is that the hot tap he's running? This pic is taken from the inside cover of Billy Connolly's new album, "Get Right Intae Him". Billy Connolly's new single is called "D.I.V.O.R.C.E." Last week it rose to a dizzy number 2 in the BBC Charts. But they couldn't get Billy on to TOTP. So they used a clip of him from Parkinson's show instead. And next Saturday he'll be on Ronnie Corbett's prog. Meanwhile, they're still trying to get him on TOTP. Only not doing anything like this, of course.

KATE PHILLIPS

Where were you in '62?

Or for that matter any time between 1957 and 1962? Chances are that music played a big part in your life and that many of your musical memories had their origin across the Atlantic.

Relive those memories with London's new series of double albums entitled 'THE AMERICAN DREAM'. The first two are just available and are literally packed with memorable tracks.

THE LONDON AMERICAN LEGEND including tracks by Carole King, Sam Cooke, The McCoys, Erma Franklin, Neil Diamond, Little Eva, Dobie Gray ● DREAM 1-2 ■ KDRE2 8041

including tracks by Chubby Checker, Bobby Rydell, Dee Dee Sharp, The Orlons, The Appell jacks, Don Covay and others

DREAM 3-4 KDRE2 8044

2 record albums at only £2.99 (£3.25 on tape)

Marketed by

ACE have a new album it's 'TIME FOR ANOTHER' ANCL 2013

'NO FUTURE IN YOUR EYES'

The Spiders return with a debut single on Pye,

FROM MARS White Man, Black Man'

7N 45549

On Tour Hull University Dec 5th; Croydon Greyhound Dec 7th; Leeds Polytechnic Dec 8th; Birmingham Barbarellas Dec 9th.

SORRY. In Frankie Miller's case there aren't any spectacular sales statistics to throw at you in this opening paragraph, not even any media hype about how Frankie's doing better here in America than at home.

However, at last night's gig in Detroit he did manage to pull some reaction out of a crowd whose ability to be demonstrative was severely reduced by downers, and although the reformed Quicksilver Messenger Service were headlining Miller says it was he and his band who came out top dogs.

"We tore the house apart," he boasts. Then, in cooler vein: "Well, that's not for me to say. It's just that we got more reaction than the two bands we were on with."

And recently Miller And Band pulled off another good one when they wowed the audience at California's heaviert gies Son Quentin rich.

heaviest gig, San Quentin nick.
Prison concerts are organised by the local Hell's Angels. Convicts are alllowed three shows a year, one country, one folk and one rock, but somehow there hadn't been a rock gig for two years. The Angels heard about Miller's recent album, "The Rock," the title track of which is dedicated to the plight of prisoners and was inspired by Alcatraz itself. They offered him the gig — which he accepted despite the rigorous security. The band weren't allowed to wear blue denims onstage — "We hardly had anything else but deand machine-gun carrying guards surrounded them as they played

Be that as it may, the name Frankie Miller is generally less well-known in the States than it is here, although the situation could be altered if Chrysalis release "A Fool In Love" in America release "A Fool in Love" in America to coincide with Miller's current trek around the West Coast with Ireland's boogie maverick, Rory Gallagher.

"A Fool In Love" failed to make it in Britain despite heavy airplay, but America's natural love of rhythm and blues could produce a more satisfactory result.

Miller should have made it a long time ago. The main reason why he didn't was because, like so many of his breed (more about that later), he didn't have a band and he didn't have a ma-nager to look after him. Instead he spent much of his time hanging out around the London pub circuit, now and then putting his drink aside to jam with bands like Brinsley Schwarz, Ducks Deluxe, and Bees Make Honey all very worthy little bands if not world beaters

But band-less and manager-less, Miller had The Voice. A tough R'n' B voice, not magnificently croaky like Rod Stewart's or as smooth as The AWB's vocal front line, but something that had more in common with Otis Redding.

Like Miller's over-all persona, his voice is gritty, earthy and rough with something undeniably warmer beneath the surface

ON THIS Saturday morning in Los Angeles, Miller's vibe is still strictly Glasgow street-punk. Somehow he always looks oily, steamy, almost as if he's just stepped out of a hot shower.

His ever-so-slightly florid complexion betrays the fact that he and alcohol are no strangers. And his clothes are street-clothes — jeans, sports jacket and T shirt, set off by the ever-present trilby, pushed out of shape so that when Miller wears it, he looks not unlike a gnome.

Like the rest of them (the Lofgrens, Kossoffs, Frasers, Marriotts of the rock world) Miller barely tops five foot and he too walks with that arrogant swagger of a hard little guy who's out to show that despite his size he's a man to be reckoned with.

As said earlier, he's pure Glasgow. He'd rather be in that damp, grimy city than here in LA where the sun never stops and neither does the superficial politeness

In tow with Miller is co-manager Jeremy Salmon who accompanies him everywhere he goes. Salmon, with his English public-school ambience, is the guy who tells the hotel manager that everything's under control when Miller And Band get a little out of control.

Miller himself is not a great talker. He prefers to listen. His speech is slow and he refuses to bitch about anyone he's worked with in the past. So when I ask who contributed what to the Andy Fraser-Miller collaboration, "A Fool In Love", there's a long pause before he says he likes to keep certain things

Frankie was born and brought up in Bridgetown, Glasgow 26 years ago, the son of a bookie-turned-engineer. He remembers singing since he was four years old, although his mother tells him he sang when he was barely old enough to walk.

At seven he was friendly with a local skiffle group. Even then his musical preferences were American — Bill

FRANKIE MILLER: Wowing 'cm at San Quentin . .

Haley, Little Richard and Elvis. He wrote his first song when he was ten.

"It was called 'But I Do" cackles at the thought of it — "I thought it was great. I took it in and let my Ma and Dad hear it. My mother had tears of laughter running down her face when she heard it. That was good, 'cause she never said 'That's good,

"But I went away and said, 'Right, I'm going to write another one'. 'But I Do' was rubbish,' Miller grins.

He got his first semi-pro gigs at 14 with The Deljacks, not an unusual name for a band in the early '60s. The Sabres were next ("They were pretty big in Glasgow"). By the mid-60's he was playing with one Jim Dewar (a close friend to this day, now vocalist-bassist with Robin Trower) in a Stax soul-orientated outfit known as Sock It To Em JB, the title of one of The Barkays instrumental hits.

Miller wanted Sock It To 'Em JB to turn pro, but the rest of the band, including Dewar and John the organist who later went on to form Stone The Crows, didn't want to quit their jobs.

At the time Miller was "on the broo" — Scottish for the dole. On leaving school he'd worked briefly as an electrician but wasn't exactly enam-oured with the job, "I couldna stand that. They were always asking me to get my hair cut. And I was always telling them what I thought of them. They would send me to the worst jobs, those cold high-rise flats. They were a long way from Glasgow, maybe 30 minutes on the train which was a bummer 'cause you had to get up earlier than usual."

That lasted just nine months. And in the late '60s Miller made the inevitable pilgrimage to London, this time playing with The Stoics. Chrysalis had heard demos of the band, liked them and signed them.

The stoics, another R and B band. but this time self-penned, split up after a tour of Germany supporting Ten Years After, then in their hey day.

"The Stoics had their differences," he laughs. "They weren't musical. They were physical. There were one or two of us who never got along."

On tour, Miller always carries a selection of choice cassettes around with him. Music by Otic ("I along) selection of choice cassettes around with him. Music by Otis ("I play Otis a hell of a lot... all the time. Anytime I can get near a record player") Bland, Ray Charles, Randy Newman (surprisingly enough), and, not so strangely, Billy Connolly.

"When I was young I used to copy other singers... Charles, Otis. Or try and copy them. Then you move... It's okay copying people but it's not really where it's at. So maybe I'm an amalgamation of everybody.

mation of everybody.
"There's talk that on 'The Rock' I'm like Otis, and I can see what people mean — especially on 'All My Love To You'. When I was writing that I definitely had Otis in mind, as a feeling."

After The Stoics' demise, Frankie spent some time doing nothing before again teaming up with Dewar in the abortive Jude. The band also included Trower and former Tull drummer Clive Bunker ... a kind of chrysalis band for musicians who hadn't quite seen eye-to-eye with their recent bands. Jude's material was co-written by Miller and Trower. "With that band it was the same thing again. The management was wrong. There was nobody to take care of us. Sure, I need taking care of. I need a manager. If the band (his current one) needs taking care of, Jeremy does it. Jude never had anybody like that. We did some great gigs, man. His first recorded 'product' for Chrysalis came out in 1972 at the height of glitterdom. His album "Once In A Blue Moon', was entirely home-grown, recorded at Rockfield, with him backed by the Brinsleys.

For a first album it wasn't bad, but the Brinsleys' straight-ahead rather funkless back-up wasn't what a singer like Miller needed.

It's the kind of album you could put on and forget all about, but to this day Miller still likes it — "I'll always like it 'cause it's true. It was a good time had by all, although I think the recording could have been better.

One way or another, it didn't do much to spread Miller's name around. And the boy was still band-less, occa-And the boy was still band-less, occasionally playing one-off gigs with bands formed around two rehearsals—like the line-up of Miller, McCulloch, Alan Spenner and Neil Hubbard and the late Robbie McIntosh (some line-up, eh?) which played at London's Finsbury Park Town Hall and The Hope And Anchor.

Chrysalis suggested that Miller

Chrysalis suggested that Miller should go to America and record an album, a temporary solution to his directionlessness. Allen Toussaint was hired and the subsequent "High Life" was a vast improvement on "Once In A Blue Moon", so that it stands as one of 1974's better albums.

The New Orleans producer brought out light and shade in Miller's voice not apparent on "Once In A Blue Moon" and he sounded convincingly 'black' even if the album was a little short on actual spirit by virtue of the fact that, as always, Toussaint employed his own musicians on the al-

Miller's song-writing ability had im-proved no end. Side two's opener 'Devil Gun" was appropriately me-

When negotiations were underway for Toussaint to produce the album, it was agreed that Miller and the New Orleans whizz should contribute six songs each. However on "High Life" Miller has five songs to Toussaint's six, seven if you count the opening filler "High Life" itself.

"High Life" sired three hit singles, unfortunately none for Frankie himself, although the general opinion now is that his version of Toussaint's

"Brickyard Blues" (a number one in the States for Three Dog Night) is the

In America The Hues Corporation had a major hit with the album's lamest song (Miller, in a rare moment of outspokenness, thinks the song duff too), "I'll Take A Melody", which would have sounded more in context in who that have soldided more in content in the hands of a Cliff Richard than on what is essentially a R 'n' B album.

And Betty Wright scored both sides of the Atlantic with Toussaint's "Shoo Rah Shoo Rah".

Despite its lack of success Miller has no harsh words for Toussaint and would like to work with him again, this time with his own band, so he says . . . On his return from New Orleans

Miller persistently tried to get a band together, but despite what seemed like together, but despite what seemed like a potentially productive and commercial liaison with Andy Fraser nothing transpired apart from a couple of onthe-quiet gigs and a lot of demos — of which "A Fool In Love" was one.

Regular visitors to Islington's Hope And Anchor and Camden's Town's Dingwalls would often see Frankie Miller whether they were aware of it or not. Often he wouldn't be entirely not. Often he wouldn't be entirely

"There was a certain time in my life, maybe three months, when I was get-ting very loaded. I just had to stop it and re-organise where my mind was at. There was one time when I spewed blood, you know. I'd been on the binge.

"Me an Henry (McCulloch) had been on the binge for three days. I'd not et nuthin'. I went and had something to eat. Actually it was a hamburger. I remember that. Maybe that burger. I remember that. Maybe that was what made me spew.

"Now I only drink in moderation. Yesterday I never had a drink. Today I'll probably have a drink."

You already have.

"Oh yeah, I'm having a drink," he grins mischievously.

"It was probably due to certain things I was going through. My baby had left me, you know. She was kinda special. That's just one of these things. I don't mourn or grieve at all now but I did at that time."

Another chuckle. "Yes, she was Another chuckle. "Yes, she was beautiful but she couldna handle my

EARLY THIS year Miller arrived in EARLY THIS year Miller arrived in Los Angeles with two musicians—guitarist Henry McCulloch and keyboard player Mick Weaver, himself a veteran of the British rock scene.

McCulloch's career has been strangely erratic too. He's earned a reputation with The Grease Band, and went on to play with Macca's Wings. But apparently he got tired of being told what to play, especially by Macca's Missus.

Frankie himself had spent a frustrating several months in Britain trying to find musicians, failed and decided he'd have more success in America. His search took him to San Francisco where he lived and rehearsed this summer after getting together with an excolleague of McCulloch's, bassist Chrissy Stewart with whom McCullock played with in an Irish band called Eire Apparent.

Drummer Stu Perry completed the

This band is everything Frankie's been looking for. Throughout our conversation he emphasises this. It is very much a band (pardon the cliche) and Miller is appalled at the thought of their being on a wage while he takes their being on a wage home more of a cut.

"I couldna stand that," he says.

"The Rock" was recorded over a couple of weeks this summer, Elliot Mazer producing. It was Mazer who wasn't who wasn't approached Frankie — who wasn't particularly aware of the man's work, which has included recording Neil Young and Janis Joplin.

Miller says: "I'd heard of him but I'd never paid that much attention. All lacked him was availed the thin the line was a sailed to be a sailed to band live. He said, 'Sure'.

And that's what "The Rock" is, a live album with the minimum of overdubs and easily Miller's most powerful to date. "The Rock" packs the proverbial punch with its mid-'60s Stax feel. And it's the first Miller album to capture Miller's true personality.

At the sessions 16 tracks were recorded, including Miller's version of that great John Lennon song "Jealous Guy", which didn't get included on the album but nevertheless is one of the onstage highlights.

Another song, this time one of Miller's "I'll Never Love In Vain," re-mained in the can. It's a particular favourite of Miller's, and he wishes it were on the album in place of the closing "Drunken Nights In The City", a track which barely features the band at all and one of the two songs on "The Rock" which have an unmistakeable Dylan feel.

"I didna want 'Drunken Nights' on the album. I was drunk when I was

Econtinues page 49

He smashed up hotels ... he philandered ... he hated The Road ... yup, he was

Just your average 19th Century Pop Star

THE MOVIE OF THE MAN

DAMN, BUT that Ken Russell's a sharp cookie! He really knows how to get 'em both coming and going. First, he brings culture to rock, and then he brings rock to culture.

And both times with Roger Daltrey, gang!

Listen, if Napoleon had Ken Russell's sense of strategy then Waterloo Station would be in Paris. He has the greatest sense of pure gonzo of any film-maker outside of the guy who made "The Texas Chain-Saw Massacre"; mind you, it ain't necessarily any good but he's still the only gonzo movie-maker we've got.

Personally, I liked "Lisztomania" a lot more than "Tommy", simply be-cause with Uncle Pete's brainchild Russell was trying to up the cultural-validity quotient of what was basically an interesting song cycle with a few classic numbers and fleshed out with a lotta narrative, whereas with "Liszto-mania" Russ Kennell has simply thrown away the book and gone ape

Now let's just get one thing straight up front: I'm jest a plain ol' pig-ignor-ant rock and roller, and I know nuthin' from nuthin' about any of these clas sical guys. People who do have apparently gotten very offended by Russell's portrayals of Liszt and Wagner; me, I don't care at all. "Lisztomania" is amply justified by the trash aesthetic which says, "if it keeps you awake it's probably great," i.e. it's better than an evening at the laundrette. The only point that the laundrette has in its fav-our is that at the end of the ninety minutes all your clothes are clean. Maybe they should show it in laundrettes; combination drive-in movies and laundrettes with maybe a massage thrown in, and a few burgers.

Okay, so we get the tale of how Franz Liszt (a flash piano-walloping weenybop idol with credibility) befriends Richard Wagner (struggling composer and mad bad-ass politico weirdenheimer), abandons his wife and sinister daughter for a dragon-lady princess or countess, falls under Wagner's power during some revolu-tion or other that was going on at the time, gets married to dragon-lady by the Pope (who, quite logically, is played by Ringo Starr), gets caught in bed with a nun, is told by the Pope (who, quite logically, is played by Rin-go Starr) that because his daughter is now married to Wagner (forgot to tell you that bit, sorry) he has to bring Wagner (who has become The Very Incarnation Of Evil Itself) back to cleanliness and godliness, which he almost does (things start getting confused at this point).

Somewhere along the line there's an initially amusing but hideously attenuated visual pun on a Liszt recital and a Rollers show; lotsa bodies (including someone who looks exactly like Little Nell of "R. Horror Show" fame); Daltrey wheeling a six-foot tool around; a Chaplin pastiche; Rick Wakeman as the Marvel Comics' version of Thor (another fine mess you've gotten me into, Stan Lee); Wagner as (a) Dracu-la, (b) Dr. Frankenstein, (c) glam-rock parody, (d) sailor, (e) Frankenstein's monster-cum-Hitler; a castration nightmare; a bit of voodoo and satanism; an epilogue in heaven; a whole bunch of Div. 2 British Character Ac-tors, and several kitchen sinks.

Paul Nicholas plays Wagner, and therefore gets most of the best lines and nearly all of the best costumes. Daltrey, however, gets to go to bed with all sorts of women and act genial all over the place. He gets it on okay within the broad limitations of Russell's script, but then it doesn't matter what kind of performance a Russell actor gives, because the Main Gig is always Russell's. Everybody (especially Kennell) goes so far over the top that the top is lost in the distance.

The Kennell style is basically surreal literal-mindedness. If the point he's trying to make is that Wagner vamped on Liszt, there ain't no pussyfooting; Russell hauls out the Kensington Gore and the fangs and out-Hammers Hammer.

Nothing exceeds like excess.

By completely refusing to acknowledge the existence of anything even faintly resembling traditional concepts of "taste", "relevance", "accuracy" or "aesthetics", Russell creates huge, absurd entertainments that function pureon their maniacal crassness (next week, "The Betty Davis Story"). You get the feeling that Russell could've een commissioned to do a Milk Marketing Board commercial and still have managed to include at least seven of the main events in "Lisztomania"

I mean, you gotta larf, entcha? Tell you what. Go see "Lisztomania" and get somebody else to do the

Charles Shaar Murray THE ACTOR

LISZTOMANIA (A & M)

I HAVEN'T seen the film. But the soundtrack is rather Discussing it, though, becomes a relatively austere exercise; because I'm not in a position to inform you what visuals are appropriate to each track. Should it be Daltrey raping the Pope, or the entire Nazi party raping a cream

Or Wakeman dressed as Tutenkhamen raping Wagner?

General release alone will show. In the meantime, however, you can be fairly sure that something like that be fairly sure that something like that will be going on; and if your imagination requires a jog now and then, show it the twenty stills on the back cover.

Judging from these, but judging mainly from the music, "Lisztomania" is a fairly good joke that has been very painstakingly executed. Not a bad recipe. Take for example the opening track, "Rienzi/Chopsticks Fantasia", with a demented teeny audience chanting 'Franz Liszt! Franz Liszt!" and whistling awestruck as any Frank Mariano fan when Roger/Franzi launches into the Chopsticks break Forget all those pre-release stories about Daltrey learning to play keyboards: all the piano music on the album is performed by one David Wilde, and rather well performed at that — precisely, and yet with a certain teen-hero panache.

THE ALBUM OF THE MOVIE

And the Hungarian Rhapsody is the same old favourite you lived on HMV 78s; souped up by Wakeman, it bustles along here with a cheerful touch of insanity. Or "zaniness", as we used to Leave aside the Hungarian Rhap-sody and the Liebestraum, which has Daltrey lyrics and, I'm told, is per-formed while he takes off in a rocket with all his mistresses, and you've exhausted my classical knowledge. But it's not hard to work out that Wagner had something to do with "Master Race" (or the oh-so-daringly titled "Rape, Pillage and Clap"), while the Liszt-based track "Hell", sung by a synthesised Linda Lewis, is the perfect epitome of Brurnhilde-meets Keith Emerson-during-Ragnarto.

Daltrey, fans, although his idealised mug adorns the front cover, only appears on four tracks. He's in pretty good voice, but then so is Paul Nicholas, who sings the "Excelsior which is, in fact, one of those tracks that do rather make you wish you knew the Story. The whole of the second side, indeed, is somewhat fragmented, with short tracks like "Hibernation" — the only one attributed to Wakeman alone — given no time to develop before they're snatched away.

"The flowering youth of Germany Was raped by the Beast"

I doubt this one'll do a Tommy, but it's still quite . . . pleasant to listen to. Ken Russell, forgive me.

Kate Phillips

THE MAN OF THE MOVIE AND THE ALBUM

DIG DEEP into any dead man's life and you I find what you're looking for. These are just some of the facts.

Franz Liszt was born in Hungary on the 22nd October, 1811, the year of the great comet. A weak, sickly baby who nearly died young, he soon deve-loped into an infant prodigy. His ambitous father saw in his son the makings of a truly great musician. Only the best teachers were hired, the first being Czerny. Beethoven's star pupil, who had a practice in Vienna.

He notes: "He was a pale, weakly-looking child and he swayed on the music stool as if he were drunk, so that I was often afraid he might faint. His playing was quite uncontrolled, undefined and confused, and he had so little notion of fingering that he flung his fingers all over the keys. I was therefore all the more astonished at the talent given him by Nature. He played everything I put before him . . . entirely from instinct, showing all the more . . . that here Nature itself had produced a pianist "

duced a pianist.'

Liszi was nine when he gave his first public performance but it wasn't long before he was playing to packed audiences all over Europe. He moved with his father to Paris and became the toast of the town and a great press favourite. One Parisian newspaper of the time wrote: "I am certain that the soul and genius of Mozart have passed into the body of young Liszt." The reaction was the same in France, Switzerland and England but by 1827 the pressure of touring began to tell,

for a holiday Here his father died. Liszt was 16 when he durn

Paris, alone and disillusioned with life as a concert pianist. For several years he retreated into himself, reading avidly philosophy and romantic poetry, a spectator to the revolution that shook the political and artistic life of the city around him.

For the next eight years Liszt was the European superstar, a legend whose concerts provoked hysteria and whose private life shocked the straight-laced 19th century society. Cartoonists of the time show him pounding the subpage his forg deranged his long keyboards, his face deranged, his long hair flying and walking out of concert halls on the breasts of adoring female fans. Liszt, we are told by some, laughed all this off, preferring to refer to himself as "an invalid ex-pianist." Other sources paint him as a beautiful, vain prima donna, forever throwing moodies and over -indulging himself in the company of his bizarre entourage. George Sand, one of the inner circle. writes of a party held at an inn at the foot of Mont Blanc where a maid informed the management that Room No 13 had been invaded by a mysterious and indescribable gang of people who had long hair like savages, and that it was impossible to tell man from woman, and master from servant.

Liszt was tired of the road however During a visit to England he wrote:: "Always concerts! Always the servant of the public, no matter what . . . No peace by day or night." In 1848 he again retired from public appearances. moved to a castle at Altenburg with his man cultural centre to rival the glories of Ancient Greece

He conducted orchestras, championing the music of the rising young star Wagner, organised festivals and composed furiously. His dreams were never realised however and, disillusioned, he moved to Rome where, much to everyone's surprise, he took holy orders in the Roman Catholic Church and took the title of Abbe Church and took the title of Abbe.

He turned his attention now to teaching, inspiring young musicians like Grieg with his patient and valuable advice. Physically his over indulgence had left him wrecked, but enough energy remained for him to do a final farewell tour throughout Europe, in-cluding a concert for Queen Victoria, before returning to Bayreuth where he died in 1886. During those last years it seemed that the less interest the public showed in his new compositions, the more interested they became in his private life. Publishers pestered him for him memoirs but Liszt was not in-him memoirs but Liszt was not interested.

"I refused them saying that it was quite enough for me to live my life, let alone commit it to paper."

Virtually all the great composers of the turn of the century — Strauss, Mahler, Debussy, Ravel, Busoni, Rachmaninov, Stravinsky, Bartok, were influenced by him — but for many years his fame and fortunes have many years his fame and fortunes have been forgotten. Now, 90 years on, he's

John May

SIX YEARS OF THE ROLLING STONES... THEY COULD BE THE BEST YEARS OF YOUR LIFE

28 Fabulous tracks including Not Fade Away Carol It's All Over Now Little Red Rooster The Last Time Satisfaction Get Off Of My Cloud Out Of Time Paint It Black Ruby Tuesday Jumpin' Jack Flash Honky Tonk Women Sympathy For The Devil Street Fighting Man Midnight Rambler Gimme Shelter

A double album.

• ROST 1-2 = KROSC 1-2

EROSC 1-2

Marketed by DECCA

Crisis? What Crisis?

Hear it on A&M Selectatrack at Record Shops in main cities

SINGLE OF THE WEEK LITTLE FEAT: Mercenary Territory/Long Distance Love (Warner Brothers). An unusual single, this. Like the Ideal

Compilation things everyone gets into from time to time, "Mercenary Territory" C/W "Long Distance Love" is imaginary. The tracks at present reside on the band's "The Last Record Album", an LP which is every bit as good as Pete Erskine said it was in his review last week. But imagine the spare beauty of the latter as the B-side breathing-space for the former's A-side hum-anddanceability -- it's fairly easy if you try.

Relevant outbreaks have been small and short-lived so far — the Average Whites, Ace, Steely Dan, and The Eagles had isolated hits. All it needs is belief and a little vision and it happens: "Pick Up The Pieces", "How Long", "Do It Again", "Lyin' Eyes".

THE IMPORTANT THING to remember is that the chart scene doesn't have to become transformed before an imaginary single like "Mercenary Territory" can make it. A cer-tain amount of transformation in the minds of the media con-trollers — A&R and radio people — would be inevitable, but it's not that much of a leap if it's what people enjoy any-

Things do seem to be on the

a more vital context than any

Capital Radio (in particular Tommy Vance's Saturday night reggae show) and Mike Mansfield's LWT production "Super-sonic" are placing the single in the moribund BBC, with its antiquated notions of communal propriety, has come up with in ten years.

The album charts are, as an NME reader recently observed, rapidly filling up with Greatest Hits collections

All the signs are that the day and that the eight-year domina-tion of the album market is coming to a close.

Could this be to do with a return to financial austerity for the inflation-struck urban West, one wonders?

The time seems ripe.
"Supersonic" is teetering on the brink of becoming 1975's
"Ready Steady Go", although the recent policy of segregating the likes of Baker-Gurvitz, Thin Lizzy, and Procol Harum from the likes of David Essex, Hello, and The Bay City Rollers seems to partake ominously of the Beeb's insidious "Old Grey Whistle Test"/"Top Of The

Three weeks ago The Sweet ntertained on "Supersonic" entertained on well-staged high-impact mod-rock of the kind once a re-gular feature of all the best pop TV in the persons of bands like
The Who and The Move;
there's no gap to bridge.
In addition, there's a new Pops" division.

rhythm knocking on the door just as there was twenty years ago when "Maybellene", "Tuttti Frutti", and "Bo Diddley" all came out in solidarity against came out in solidanty against show-business, swing music, and limp sentimentality. The best singles I've heard this week are Burning Spear's "Resting Place", Peter Tosh's "Legalize It", and Paul Davis' "Midnight Rider" — rebel rock for '55, rebel reggae for '75.

Never has the perennial fan's

Never has the perennial fan's plea to The Stones, The Who, and Led Zeppelin to start cutting singles again been more applicable. There's acres of talent

We never exactly thunk of you as a 45er, Lowell, but stranger things have happened.

going to seed in the slow, premeditated, and expensive al-

All the ingredients and all the conditions for the long hoped-for revitalization of rock through the singles chart are

B. B. SEATON: "Born Free" (Jama); KEITH HUDSON: "Lost All Sense Of Direction" (Atra); SHARON FORRESTER: "Put A Little Love Away" (Vulcan); LOUISA MARK: "All My Loving" (Safari). This week's serving of regae isn't much to shout about. gae isn't much to shout about, but things are obviously coming together in terms of the music finding its way towards a chart formula. B. B. Seaton's solution is to record a sloppy ballad that's already found favour with a wide audience; the result is sloppy reggae — no advance. Keith Hudson is decorating patterns to catch the ear of those who, as a result of radio saturation, can't hear the bass; the decorations are aimless and the title apt, but he's on his way towards something viable.

Sharon Forrester represents the Motown-in-reggae proposition — Diana Ross balladry lightly skanked. An overlush sell-out as far as roots fanciers are concerned, "Put A Little Love Away" is on course for hitsyille nevertheless and regard hitsville nevertheless and reggae — any reggae — is needed in the singles charts, if only to disseminate the message. Louisa Mark, following up the appeal of "Caught You In A Lie", is onto the same idea but Lloyd Coxson seems to have picked the wrong Lennon-McCartney.

Never mind, there's plenty of time yet.

SUPERTRAMP: "Lady" (A&M); SAILOR: "A Glass Of Champagne" (Epic); ABBA: "Mama Mia" (Epic). All slick pop shots these, linked by the use of even staccato keyboard figures as pioneered by Roxy and Sparks. Supertramp have souped up "Dreamer" and the element of conservative recycling is more than compensated for by the record's dan-ceability. George Kajanus of Sailor gives the word "champagne" the appropriate Bowie/ Harley warp, but belies campfollower status with some inventive arrangement and a full-tilt attack — precisely the same elements that rescue Abba from imminent plasticity with "Mama Mia". No damage will be done by having these three in the charts.

THE REST OF THE WEEK'S issues fall into the categories of drones, fads, and Christmas some considerable time yet.

is anything to go by.

Ace haven't come up with the trump-card to "How Long" this time and may never ma-nage it. "No Future In Your Eyes" is a minor hit at most — but not one the group need to

"Anytime", from the Koko mo album, is similarly unlikely to hit, despite its intrinsic quality of tasteful professionalism. "Forever" might have been a better choice, but really the band ought to get down to re-cording a single rather than waiting for their company to direction of Curtis Mayfield, are looser and happier than they have been for a while but again "Let's Do It Again" isn't suits tribut sough for the pharts.

quite tight enough for the charts and it seems pointless to release

it for that purpose.

SLADE: "Can You Imagine" (Polydor); THE WOMBLES: "Let's Womble To The Party Tonight" (CBS); SHOWADDY: "Heavenly" (Bell); MUD: "Show Me You're A Woman" (Private Stock); THE GLITTER BAND: "Alone Again" (Bell); THE BAY CITY ROLLERS: "Money Honey" (Bell). Teen beat is languishing. Slade are now irredeemably on remote control and "Can You Imagine" is completely hollow, a disorientated groping for past orientated groping for past energies in the shape of a plodding tune and transparently automatic lyrics. Mike Batt's

Wombles exercise conforms precisely to previous guidelines and the novelty can't sustain it-self much longer. Nor can Sho-waddywaddy hope for much waddywaddy nope for much more of a future now that their policy has fallen back on erratic one-offs. Mud, The Glitter Band, and The Bay City Rollers are obviously still chart material and will be for just as long as it takes the TOTP myth to pass away — which may be some considerable time yet.

The Staple Singers, under the

be ashamed of.

ransack albums.

it for that purpose.

discs.

The "drones" are the subliminal parts of the "radio backdrop" Kate Phillips discussed in this column a formight back.

Johnny Nash is right there with "Rock It Baby" (CBS), a wishywashy cover of Marley's tune from "Catch A Fire". Once again its presence in the charts can but acclimatize pop-sters to the Kingston beat, even if this cocktail is nine-tenths ice. Melanie pursues the Garfun-DAVID BOWIE: "Golden Years" (RCA); ACE: "No Fu-ture In Your Eyes" (Anchor); KOKOMO: "Anytime" (CBS); THE STAPLE SINGERS: "Let's Do It Again" (Curtom). kel Ferry standard-revival idea with "Almost Like Being In Love" (Neighbourhood). Her with "Almost Like Being In Love" (Neighbourhood). Her "interpretation" is vaguely mysterious and might catch on for that reason. Likewise, Keith Carradine's "I'm Easy" (ABC) might find the sort of dreamy continued the s Bowie heads the cross-over soul lists with an insistent strider that's only handicapped by the absence of a tune. Not as directly challenging as "Young Americans", and for that reason probably stands a better chance of being a bit if the feminine identification it caters for in Altman's "Nashville". Mike Oldfield's "On Horsechance of being a hit if the dance-phenomenon of "Fame" back" (Virgin) has naivety on its side, and not much else.

The success or not of any of these will be no more significant than the success or not of fad fodder like Colonel's "Cokey Cokey" (Ring O'Records) and its competitor by Old Bill on Penny Farthing.

The Christmas records are by Georges Moustaki ("Humb-ly He Came" on Polydor) The O'Jays ("Christmas Ain't Christmas New Years Ain't New Years Without The One You Love" on Philadelphia International), Freddie Starr ("White Christmas" on Thunderbird), Cary Grant ("Christ-mas Lullaby" on CBS), and The Angels Of Islington ("We Want A Superstar For Christmas" on Decca).

The last will probably become popular.

SOME READERS will no doubt be missing the customary critical edge in this week's assessment. Maybe that's not a bad idea.

Rock "criticism", such as it is, was born out of the album scene in 1967. It treats its subject-matter as Art and measures achievement in personal aesthetic terms — enjoy-ment sublimated in specific opi-nionising.

This, in turn, has bred both armchair audiences and a sedentary musical ideal. But in the single chart effects, image, and immediacy breed a dynamic of their own, and any dynamic infusion in the popular music field is welcome right now.

Could be it's time for the critics to hang up their typewriters. If such a course were to facilitate the spontaneous growth of a new popular imagination about what is really vital in to-day's scene — as opposed to what product conforms to the isolated demands of whatever "taste-bloc" — then I'd be only too glad to see rock journalism, and even rock newspapers like this one, wither away like the state's supposed to in post-revolution politics.

It's eight years of talking about music — listening and examining, instead of hearing and reacting — that's reduced the singles charts to a bowling alley for showbiz formula-finders. Blaming "Top Of The Pops" doesn't clarify anything. If objective criticism and subjective enjoyment are, most-ly, incompatible, there's surely no disagreement on which we can mostly do without.

"Let's dance." (Chris Montez, 1962).

There are more things in the Charts, Horatio, than are dream'd of in your Rock philosophy

A carefully-chosen selection from this week's Singles reviewed with Compassion and Enthusiasm by

IAN MacDONALD

THEGREATEST Let's Twist Again/The Twist with CHURBY CHECKER.

HLU 10512

YOU DON'T HAVE TO LISTEN TO THE CAROL SERVICE ON CHRISTMAS DAY.

When the rest of the family crash out in front of the box, you can catch the latest soul/blues band.

Or heavy metal cosmetic rock group.

The built-in loudspeaker makes it sound like you're standing in front of the lead guitarist.

But you don't just have to turn on to someone else's cassettes.

With these Philips cassette recorders you can put together your own.

(Haven't you often thought you do a pretty wild version of those early R & B classics?)

There's a built-in electret microphone and an automatic recording level.

So you won't need a couple of sound engineers along on your debut.

Then again, you can make up a complete rock show.

By recording from a radio, record player or second recorder.*

And playing the whole session back through the same internal speaker. Or if you've got them, external speakers, headphones or amplifier.

Both the models shown here come with a direct recording lead. And a blank C-60 cassette for your first gig.

They're also both mains/battery.

So you don't just have to stash yourself away in your room.

When the relations start crowding in on Boxing Day, you just take off for a friend's.

He'll probably be glad to see you anyway. What better excuse could he have for getting away from the box?

PHILIPS

Simply years ahead.

Suggested selling prices (including VAT): N2218 £39.95, N2222 £46.00. *Recording and playback of material may require consent - see Copyright Act 1956; also the Performers Protection Acts 1958 to 1972.

Meet the queen of the silver psychosis

PLATTERS

Weird scenes inside Gasoline Alley

PATTI SMITH? She's strange, neurotic, and possessed of a powerful, unconventional sexuality; and this is her first album. CHARLES SHAAR MURRAY listened hard, listens harder, blows a subjective gasket or two, and implores you to go and do likewise.

PATTI SMITH: Horses (Arista)

FIRST ALBUMS this good are pretty damn few and far between.

It's better than the first Roxy album, better than the first Beatles and Stones albums, better than Dylan's first album, as good as the first Doors and Who and Hendrix and Velvet Underground albums.

It's hard to think of any other rock artist of recent years who arrived in the studios to make their first major recordings with their work developed to such a depth and level of maturity.

Listen. Last April I saw Patti Smith play CBGB in New York, and she knocked me flat on my ass, which was impressive since my preconceptions weren't helping her any.

I mean, whenever an act is hyped to me — whether it's on a big scale like Springsteen or even a few friends (either mine or the act's) frothing at the mouth some — my first instinct is to come right back at them with a big "So what?" or "Oh, weah?"

What I mean is, like our American cousins say, I'm from Missouri. You gotta show

Believe me, Jim, she showed

Okay, she's a lady poetess, which is generally not the stuff of which rock heroism is made. She also ain't too good-look ing, if you're judging her by conventional gosh-what-a-cutie-nudge-nudge standards.

Plus she's from New York, which means that she isn't available to be checked out at grass roots by British audiences, which in turn means that you're going to have to get hip to her through media instead of discovering her for yourself — just the same way that American audiences are going to have to learn about Dr Feelgood via rock press rather than by those happy accidents that we all know and love, etc.

Three strikes down, Foreign female but not stereotypically attractive, and - f' Chrissakes, a poetess.

Just the stuff to appeal to, let's say, a Mott fan from Brad-

Thing is, it really doesn't work like that. If you add up what Patti Smith appears to be when viewed from a distance, and then go see her or (to get mearer to the point) listen to "Horses", the result of a few weeks of madness and desperain Electric Lady studios with famous Welsh person John Cale riding herd on the opera-tion, the disparities become

"HORSES" IS some kind of definitive essay on the American night as a state of mind, an emergence from the dark under-

Like Patti Smith herself, it's strange, askew and flat-out weird. It's neurotic and unhealthy and dank, a message in a bottle sent from some place that you and I have only been to in the worst moments of self-doubting defeated psychosis.

Part-time secratary of the Keith Richard Appreciation Society.

out of Gasoline Alley, to Desolation Row, a thrashing exorcism of public and private de-

"Horses" is what happens when the fuses blow and the light goes out.

"Jesus died for somebody's sins, but not mine..." Smith's singing voice draws on her received black influences well as the teen-angel school of girl-group vocals.

The playing of her band (Lenny Kaye on guitar, Richard Sohl — known as "D.N.V.", an abbreviation of "Death In Venice" — on piano, Ivan Kral on bass and late-corner law Dea Daughetty on comer Jay Dee Daugherty on drums) sounds kind of amateurish and off-the-wall at first, as does Smith's singing (she can't quite hit a low note straight on), until you realise that they simply lack the kind of standar-dised stylised mechanisation that we've come to confuse with "professionalism"

In this and so many other ways, Patti Smith's album hips you to just what's wrong with a lot of the other stuff you've been listening to, tips you off as to who's really doing it and who's just going through the motions

THE FIRST dive into the maelstrom comes with "Gloria", the old Van Morrison/Them rabblerouser beloved of garage bands since time immemorial.

It's done with grinding stick-shift guitar played off against teeth-grinding methedrine piano, vaguely like the stuff Mike Garson was doing way down in the mix on "Aladdin Sane" and strategic areas of "Pin-Ups".

lt's a stunning opener, achieving almost the same psychotic/sexual/dervish whird as some of The Doors' longer, stranger rides.

In general, there's a Doors feel to the keyboards (particularly the organ) and a Velvets noodge on the guitars, though this is purely coincidental, as no resemblance is intended to any body living, dead or interme-

"Gloria" is followed up by the album's least impressive track, "Redondo Beach", which is a New York impression of reggae (I detect the dread hand of Mr Cale in this track, though he doesn't actually perform on any instruments) and features Ms Smith doing a strange kind of JA Dylan vocal. Not the most immediate piece on the al-bum, but kinda charming. "Birdland", however, is the Building relentlessly over a Building relentlessly over a slow, obsessive piano with a sawtoothed guitar whining someway in the distance, Smith wails like the proverbial lost soul — and here the shade of Mr. Morrison looms inescapably over the proceedings right up until the final strands of shredded-wire feedback.

It's chilling as hell, so keep

It's chilling as hell, so keep yer woolies on for this one, fear

The first side rides out on a fair piece of decompression with "Free Money", written for Smith's current old man, Allan Lanier of the Blue Oyster Cult. It's got a kind of "Johnny Remember Me" production on the voices and metallic Del Shannon style rhythm guitar. Shannon-style rhythm guitar.

Choogling to orgasm, you might say.

WHEN YOU get over to side two, you happen onto "Kimber-ly", a song about Patti's sixer of the same name and very Velvets about the bass and organ, though the latter instrument also has a '50s/Farfisa/Ray Manzarek vibe to it. It's based on an incident that occurred during a thunderstorm, and sounds it.

"Break It Up", co-written with Tom Verlaine of Televission, follows.

Verlaine was Patti's last old man (anyway he was when I saw the two bands together in April), and he plays guitar on the track, a kind of liquidly malevolent electronic burble.

It starts out as a slow almost blues before the piano switches into that distant nursery-echo type of riff that'd go down a treat as the soundtrack to a remake of "The Turn Of The Screw".

Next up is the album's un-questioned piece de resistance, "Land", the piece that com-pletely skulled me out when I saw her do it at CBGB. It's the melange of a mutated "Land Of A Thousand Dances" (Chris Kenner and Fats Domino would probably haveta undergo intensive care if they knew what she's done to their song, ma) and a scorching recitatif about a kid getting beat up in a locker room, blazing into a free-asso-ciation sexual flight which utilises the horse as a sexual metaphor in much the same way as Morrison used the snake.

Except that Jimbo was pretty much preoccupied with his own snake, and Smith's sexuality is far more outgoing as she rides the horse and the sea comes in and the sexual spiral of letting go/breaking through inexorably begins again. Like Van Morrison said, it's too late to stop

Kaye balances vicious guitar razor-slashes against the relent-less base-heavy rhythm while it builds into a Velvety whirlpool.

The dissociation is dramatised by the overdub juxtaposition of Patti singing the lyrics on one track and reciting/performing them on another.

It's a failing, possessed per-formance, fuelled by the kind of energy you run on when there's no energy left, a death-defying kamikaze leap into places you go when you want to either come out different or not come out at all, one step over the line and no direction home.

The last cut, "Elegy", a tri-bute to Hendrix with Lanier on guitar, is over so fast that by the time you've gotten over "Land" it's already gone.

"HORSES" IS an album in a thousand.

I'm not gonna jive you about how influential it's going to be (in terms of it stimulating dozens of toy Patti Smiths to come crawling out of the wood. work, I hope it has no influence at all), but, God knows, it's an important album in terms of what rock can encompass with-out losing its identity as a musical form, in that it introduces an artist of greater vision than has been seen in rock for far too

It may not sell, it may never infiltrate the lives of more than a handful of people, but its existance means that there is some record of the most arrestingly bizarre set of perceptions of the American underlife to be set to music since the decline of Lou Reed and the death of Jim Mor-

The fact that Patti Smith is a woman may well alienate listeners who are prepared to be receptive to a basically passive female intelligence (like Joni Mitchell), but may find an album of extrovert, ferocious female intelligence (like this one) somewhat unnerving.

Not to mention the fact that people always get weird in the presence of a powerful sexuality expressed by someone who they may not happen to find attrac-

And Patti Smith sure ain't Maria Muldaur (thank you, Lord). However, I'll say again . . . first albums this good are pretty damn few and far

News Desk

Procol set concerts in New Year

PROCOL HARUM, who set out at the end of this month on a short university tour, are to undertake a major concert tour at the beginning of the New Year.

As reported last week, they are As reported last week, they are set for a headlining appearance at London Olympia on New Year's Day as part of the Great British Music Festival, and promoter Adrian Hopkins of Chrysalis has now confirmed the band for a string of provincial dates.

They play Bristol Colston Hall
(January 3), Cardiff Capitol (4),
Portsmouth Guildhall (5),

Middlesbrough Town Hall (7), Nottingham Albert Hall (8), Birmingham Town Hall (9) and Oxford New Theatre (11). There is a strong probability that at least one more date will be added to this itinerary.

Immediately after playing these dates, Procol fly out to begin the second half of their European tour — visiting Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Yugoslavia. They have also been invited to play a series of concerts in Poland, which they are considering favourably, since it is an unusual territory for a rock band to visit.

Man nix Olympia, but play Croydon

MAN are to play a special one-off concert at Croydon Fairfield Hall on Sunday, December 7. Tickets range from £1.25 to £2. There will be no support act, and it is understood that Man will play an extended set of both new and old material. The concert will mark the debut of the bin devaled of material. The collective material and decoted band's new keyboards player Phil Ryan and new bassist John McKenzie, who were formerly with the Neutrons and Global Village Trucking Company respectively. They officially joined Man last month, and have since been rehearsing with the nucleus of Terry Williams, Micky Jones and Deke Leonard.

A billing dispute has caused Man to withdraw from their scheduled appearance in the Great British Music Fesitval on January I, when they should have appeared on the same bill as Procol Harum. In view of the vacancy which has occurred on the bill, Barclay James Harvest have now been booked for this date. As reported, the line-up on New Year's Day is completed by the Baker-Gurivitz Army, John Miles, Jack The Lad and Snafu.

Man claim that they were originally booked for Olympia on

McLean to Eire

DON McLEAN flies to Dublin next month to take part in an eight-concert festival to be staged at the National Stadium during the period December 2-13. McLean headlines on December 9, but he is not expected to travel on of the is not expected to travel on to Britain on this occasion. Among other acts set for the event, which is being billed as "On Stage At The Stadium", are George Melly and the Feetwarmers (December 2), Joe Dolan and the Drifters (3), Alan Stivell (8), Thin Lizzy (10) and Horslips (13). the understanding that they would co-headline with Procol Harum. A Man spokesman insisted that Procol had actually asked them to close the show. "But Harum are now evidently demanding top billing on their own, and that's something we couldn't accept", he added. A Procol spokesman commented: "They were always going to top the bill in their own right, and there was never any question of co-headlining with Man."

C-&-W Awards

THE COUNTRY Music Association Awards for 1975 were announced in London on Monday night, with Marty Robbins emerging as Entertainer of the Year and "Stand By Your Man" as Song of the Year. In the Man" as Song of the Year. In the American section, winners were George Hamilton IV and Don Wiliams (tie as Male Vocalist), Tammy Wynette (Female Vocalist), and the Eagles (Best Group). British winners included Pete Sayers (Male Vocalist), Olivia Newton-John (Female Vocalist), and the Grand Ole Opry Road Show and Frank Jennings & Syndicate (tie as Best Group).

PHONE 247 5761 AND HEAR

AMS 5503

SABBATH: NATURADS

BLACK SABBATH were forced to cancel most of the dates in the second leg of their British tour, due to injuries sustained by bassist Geezer Butler and singer Ozzie Osbourne — but they have already rescheduled all but one of the gigs they scrapped.

The problem arose when Butler was involved in a car accident near his home and, although not seriously injured, suffered extensive cuts and bruises. And at about the same time, Osbourne aggravated a previous injury to a back muscle.

As a result, the band were compelled to call off their projected opening gig in Cardiff last Thursday. They managed to play their concert in Manchester the next day but, in the process, Osbourne's back gave out again. This meant the scrapping of sub-This meant the scrapping of subsequent gigs at Southend (Satuday), Ipswich (Monday), Portsmouth (Tuesday) and Plymouth (Wednesday).

appearing at London Kilburn Gaumont State tomorrow (Friday). And their concert at Cardiff Capitol has already been re-set for this Saturday. The band are then committed to return to America for a two-week tour of East Coast cities, and are unable to re-arrange the other gigs until the New Year. These have now been fixed for Portsmouth Guildhall (January 8), Ipswich Gaumont (9) and Southend Kursaal (10).

been possible to re-set the Plymouth ABC date for January, as the cinema will then be featur-ing an extensive "Jaws" season. The box-office is refunding money to Plymouth ticket-holders, and the band say that they will include the venue in their Saul (10).

Existing tickets for Cardiff,
Portsmouth, Ipswich and Southend will still be valid for the revised dates, although they can be cashed in if desired. It has not next tour itinerary. However, this is unlikely to be until next autumn, owing to the band's extensive commitments abroad.

RECORDING NEWS

Wailers' live set released

BOB MARLEY & the Wailers' live album, recorded at their London Lyceum concerts on July 17 and 18, is being released by Island on November 28. Edited from over four hours of tapes, the set includes "Trenchdown Rock", "Burnin' & Lootin'", "Them Belly Full", "Lively Up Yourself", "I Shot The Sheriff", "Get Up, Stand Up" and their hit single "No Woman, No Cry". The Wailers are currently putting the finishing touches to a new studio album in Jamaica, and it is expected that they will return to Britain for a full tour in June.

The Mountain label this week releases a Nazareth "Greatest Hits" compilation, covering the band's releases a Nazareth "Greatest Hits" compilation, covering the band's progression over the past four years. Their version of "Love Hurts" — which has been released as a single in America and Europe, but not in Britain where Jim Capaldi has the hit version — has this week entered the U.S. charts, and it is also being used as the theme of a new German TV series.

The Kinks' new ten-track album "Schoolboys In Disgrace", written and produced by Ray Davies, is now set for late January release by RCA. The band will tour Britain early next year with their new stage show, which is based on the upcoming album. The story line follows the progress of Mr. Flash, who first appeared in their "Preservation" set.

The Bronze label is next week releasing a "Best Of Uriah Heep" album, to tie in with the opening of the band's British tour. It contains ten of their best-known tracks, among them "Gypsy", "Look At Yourself", "The Wizard" and "Stealin".

• The Surprise Sisters, who are currently touring with Chris Far-lowe, are to have their debut single released early in the New Year on the new Good Earth label. Titles will be selected from several they have just recorded under producer Tony Visconti's supervision.

Release of Osibias's new album "Welcome Home" has been delayed one week and it now comes out on November 28. Meanwhile, Bronze are this weekend issuing a single taken from the album, titled unshine Day".

The Tyla Gang have been signed by Phonogram and will have their debut album issued in the New. Year. Gary Tyla has now left the line-up, and his place as lead vocalist has been taken by his brother Shuan Tyla.

Shuan Tyla.

Harry Chapin's fifth Elektra album is scheduled for release next month. Titled "Portrait Gallery", it comprises ten self penned narrative

• The Small Faces' classic album "Ogden's Nut Gone Flake" is being reissued on the reactivated Immediate label on November 28. On the same day, the label releases a compilation set called "The Best Of Chris Farlowe" comprising material from the mid-60's.

Pilot's keyboards player Bill Lyall has written and produced the debut single by Scottish singer and former model Jacqueline Jones. Other Pilot members play on the track, which is called "You've Got To Get Me Higher", for EMI release in mid-January.

Lynsey de Paul and Barry Blue duet a special seasonal single titled "Happy Christmas To You From Me", for release by Jet on November 28. This is now the confirmed release date for new singles by two other Jet acts — "Looking Thru' The Eyes Of A Fool" by Roy Wood and "Evil Woman" by the Electric Light Orchestra.

Fatback Band introduce a new dance called "Do The Bus Stop" on a Polydor single for November 28. And Decca attempt to reactivate a former dance craze by reissuing Chubby Checkers" "The Twist" former dance craze by reissuing Chubby Checker's "The Twist" and "Let's Twist Again" as one single.

The Glitter Band's new album
"Listen To The Band", produced by Mike Leander, comes out on the Bell label on November 28. A single extracted from it, "Alone Again", is out this week.

Joni & Carly -new albums

● Joni Mitchell's first studio album of Dom Mitchel's lists studio about since "Court And Spark" is due for release by Asylum in the first week of December. Titled "The Hissing of Summer Lawns", it contains all self-penned numbers with the exception of the Hendrick-Edison out at the end of this month is the Elektra album "The Best Of Carly Simon". It consists of II tracks and includes songs from each of her five previous albums on this label. A month than are "You're. this label. Among them are "You're So Vain", "That's The Way I've Always Heard It Should Be", "Anticipation" and the Inez Foxx classic "Mockingbird".

Edited: Derek Johnson

Hawkwind: Christmas tour dates

HAWKWIND, who traditionally tour this country immediately before or after the Christmas holiday, have announced plans for their 1975 "Christmas Party" concert tour. It will take place during the fortnight between the heliday break but uplike lest was it will not be the holiday break but, unlike last year, it will not be resumed in the New Year. Reason is that they intend to spend January and February working on a completely new show concept, and they are hoping to go out on the road with this new production in April.

A novel aspect of their ten-date December tour is that, with one exception (Ipswich), all venues are without fixed seating. They include a major London gig at a venue not previously associated with rock, Picketts Lock in Edmonton.

Hawkwind, who are currently recording a new album for March release, have recently been rejoined by Jonathan Smeeton's "Liquid Len & the Lensmen" light show. A support act for their tour has still to be announced, but tour has still to be announced, but the itinerary comprises:

Blackburn King George's Hall (December 10), Birmingham Bingley Halls (12), Southend Kursaal (13), Reading Top Rank (14), Cardiff Top Rank (16), Uxbridge Brunel University (17), Ipswich Gaumont (18), Norwich St. Andrew's Hall (19), London Edmonton Picketts Lock (20) and Southampton Top Rank (21).

Rick lavish again!

RICK WAKEMAN is returing to the RICK WAKEMAN is returing to the field of lavish orchestral spectaculars—but only in South America! Following his spring "King Arthur" specials at Wembley Empire Pool, he vowed never again to stage expensive shows of this nature, because they were not economically feasible. But he has now received an offer to play three concerts in Brazil next month, together with the Brazilian Symphony together with the Brazilian Symphony Orchestra. And because he will not have to finance them himself, he has accepted the invitation. His albums are big sellers in Brazil, and several Gold Discs will be presented to him on his arrival.

Manfred changes

CHANGES IN the line-up of Man-fred Mann's Earthband have seen the departure of guitarist Mick Rogers, and the introduction of two new singer-guitarists, Chris Thompson and Dave Flett. The newcomers are making their debut with the band on a month-long American tour, which opened last weekend. Before leaving London, Manfred commented: "We decided that things were not working out with Mick and that, for our sake rate ways. This split has been perfectly amicable."

Ferry solo delay

BRYAN FERRY has had to delay plans to perform a string of solo con-certs next month, because Roxy Mus-ic will not now be returning from their ic will not now be returning from their American tour until Decmeber 19. Although he will then have over two weeks to spare before Roxy depart again on another overseas trip, he now intends to devote this time to recording tracks for his next solo album. A spokesman said this week: "Bryan still has it in mind to play some solo dates as soon as possible but, in view of Roxy's commitments, this can't now happen until well into 1976."

Banco tour here

TOP ITALIAN rock band Banco are undertaking a short British tour starting at the end of this month. Gigs so far confirmed are London Chalk Farm Roundhouse with Bryn Haworth (November 30), Doncaster Outlook (December 1), Cheltenham Town Hall with Stackridge (4), Salford University with Curved Air (5), Nottingham Boat Club (6) and Stoke North Staffs Polytechnic (10), and two further dates have still to be announced. Their album "Banco" is being reactivated by Manticore to tie in with their visit, and the Italian sixpiece will return to Britain in March to headline a more extensive tour.

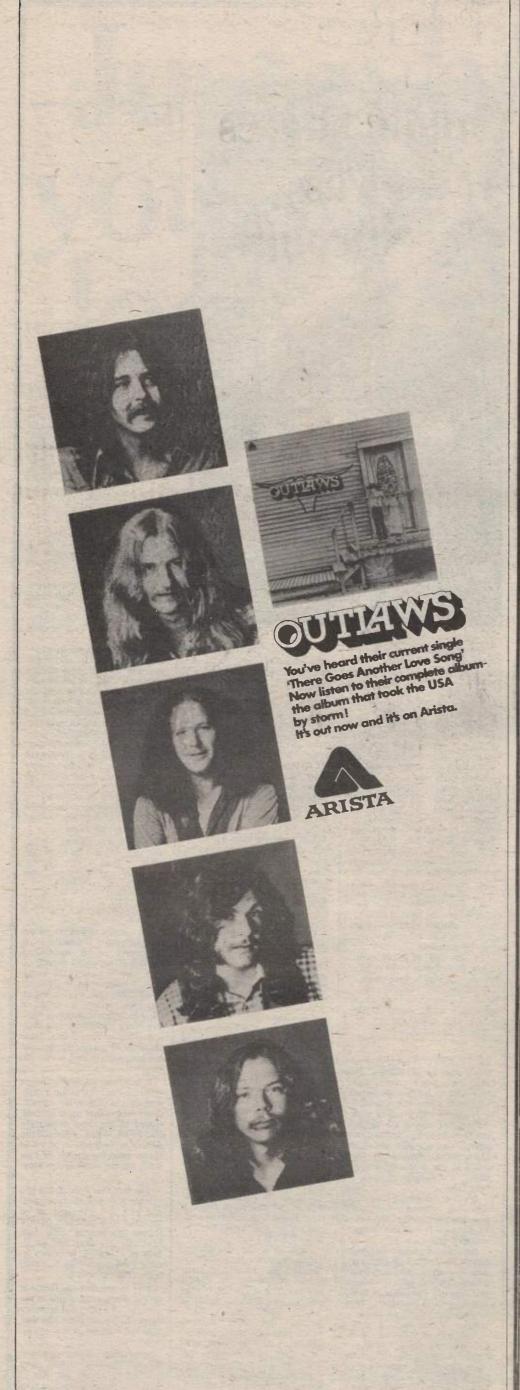

Sovine concerts

RED SOVINE, the veteran Nashville C&W artist, is to headline a string of major British concerts next month. Promoted by Shannon Talent, Sovine Promoted by Shannon I alent, sovine appears at Birmingham Town Hall (December 2), Southport New Theatre (3), Glasgow Apollo Centre (4), Newcastle City Hall (5), London Kilburn Gaumont State (6), Ipswich Gaumont (7) and London Lewisham Odeon (8).

Country Joe due

COUNTRY JOE McDONALD is play a week of concerts in Britain the end of January, together with his new band Energy Crisis — compris-ing former Fish sidemen Bruce Bar-thol (bass) and Phil Marsh (guitar), plus John Blakeley (guitar), Steve Gaboury (keyboards), and Peter Mil-linno (drums). His visit, to be followed by dates in Europe, will tie in with the release of his new album "Paradise With An Ocean View".

JACK THE LAD, who recently completed an extensive British tour, are going out on the road again next month. And for their new schedule are going out on the road again next month. And for their new schedule of 13 dates, they are presenting a special Christmas show. Their itinerary comprises Sheffield Polytechnic (December 3), Salisbury Technical College (5), St. Alban's City Hall (6), Halifax Tiffiany's (10), Stafford North Staffs Polytechnic (12), Barnet Trent Park College (13), Eastbourne Winter Gardens (15), Felixstowe Pier Pavilion (16), Barnsley Goldthorpe Leisure Centre (17), Maidstone Technical College (18), Wakefield Technical College (20) and Redcar Coatham Bowl (21). As reported last week, they also take part in the Great British Music Festival at London Olympia on New Year's Day.

Closet cornball fanatic steps out

ENO: Another Green World (Island)

THIS IS my sixth and final attempt. I've been avoiding this album for a week now simply because, when unfinished, its original skeletal beauty astorished me, and then, completed, its promise wasn't altogether fulfilled.

But perhaps that was only a simple fool's reaction to unexpectedly hearing a "nice song". Because I'd never found one before on either of Eno's other albums — just a series of structures based upon what I could only guess to be a love of mechanics and self-contained intricacies purely for their own sake. I'm trying not to suspect something that was never inten-ded — but I simply could not relate to a series of coldly conceived head games whose

Remember the days of hairy brain-games?

brittle atonal angularity felt so forced, being only an extension of the old-hat psychedelic guerrilla attacks whose violence and off-the-wall weirdness was supposed to shock you into instant reassessment of an implied

Yet beneath that futile, al-most nihilistic cranial foppery, there lurks music whose passion is such that, remembering the silly rejoicings with which we greeted those earlier braingames, it's almost embarrassing to acknowledge it.

"Another Green World" sees the casting away of his egotisti-cal gay blade role in favour of a new, quietly industrious Eno who is beginning — paradoxically — to lose his fear of being caught out as a secret comball fanatic

We therefore see Eno quietly evolving the potential for the very thing he's tried to deny all along. And, in the process, tossing out the constraints of tangled ego he previously used as a shield.

My initial excitement at the idea of an entire Eno album with the impact of pure unclut-tered tracks like "Spirit's Drif-ting" (reminiscent of the same kind of nebulous chilly beauty produced by Can's "Go-morrha") has, admittedly, been tempered by his inclusion of those diametrically different pie-ces whose oafish insensitivity makes it seem almost impossible that they should appear in the same universe. The two best examples of this weird contra-diction are to be found in Phil Manzanera's "Miss Shapiro", which is bisected with a con-tribution from Eno that's so out-of-place, you'd think he'd accidentally taken a short cut through the sessions carrying a transistor radio emanating Jimmy Young phone-ins. I mean, it actually hurts.

Christ, Eno's stubborn. I really don't think he had any notion in the studio as to how to go about evaluating the worth of his creations. Something which was painfully apparent to outsiders who realised from past experience that Enough would try to cover himself, half-obscuring the beauty of his fundamentally solid ideas by tossing in the usual array of open-ended "avant-garde" con-

The other ones that got away

IMPORTS.

TERRY CASHMAN and Tommy West, who produced all of Jim Croce's stuff for ABC, have had to face one hardcore fact since Croce ceased cashing his royalty cheques — like Jim was one in a million and there ain't too many of his sort around today.

So having produced a couple of non-registering elpees for ex-Sha Na Na man Henry Gross, Messrs C & W have opted for the old get-out and dug into a file marked "Croce — Out-takes and early material" to come up with "The Faces I've Been" (Lifesong), a double which some shops are currently retailing for around $4.80 retailing for around £4.80.

The result is a varied Crocecopia: one whole side features Jim's raps about such subjects as the Chinese, the arsubjects as the Chinese, the army, dates and cars, while the remaining sides spotlight songs such as "Which Way You Going?" and "Mississippi Lady", recorded around the same time as the "You Don't Mess Around with Jim" album and a collection of oldies that includes "Old Man River". "This Land Is Your Land", "Greenback Dollar" and a number called "Charley Play That Slide Trombone".

And now for a little advance

And now for a little advance info. The company set up to retail Mike Nesmith's albums in this country (their original intention was to mail-order Nesmith's "The Prison", a scheme later rejected in favour of supplying some leading import dealers) will be releasing another item on Nesmith's Pacific Arts corporation label in the near future.

Titled 'When Scopes Collide", it's by the reformed Kaleidescope, a band that includes four of its original five members. And the track listing is an intriguing one. including, as it does, versions of Chuck Berry's "You Never Can Tell", The Coasters' "Little Egypt", Duke Ellington's "Black And Tan Fantasy" and the celebrated "Ghost Riders In The Sky".

Newsflash of the week concerns The Band, whose latest album "Northern Lights, Southern Cross" (Capitol) should be in the import racks by the time this column gets into print.

Others arriving by the Jumbo-jet load include Johnny Rivers' "Wild Night" (UA), Fleetwood Mac's "In Chicago" double (Sire), Bo Diddley's

New Band album: on your marks, get set ...

"20th Anniversary Of Rock'n'Roll" (RCA), Earth, Wind And Fire's "Gratitude—Live" (CBS double-album), Billy Paul's "When Love Is New" (Philadelphia), Randy Edelman's "Farewell Fairbanks" (20th Century), Vassar Clements' "Super Bow" (Mercury) and a whole boodle of additions to UA's "Very Best Of..." series, albums by Jerry Butler, Chuck Jackson, Isley Brothers, Ohio Players, Gladys Brothers, Ohio Players, Gladys Knight And The Pips, Patti Labelle And The Bluebelles, Jimi Hendrix and Little Richard, some of which must surely duplicate items already out on Trip and DJM.

If you're into looney toons,
"Dr. Demento's Delights" (Warner) is worth checking out. Demento is a deejay working for Radio KPPC in Pasadena and his bag is playing the fun songs and oddities from any

So the album naturally con-So the album naturally contains a fair sample of such nutty novelities as Benny Bell's "Shaving Cream", Holy Modal Rounders' "Boobs A Lot", Allan Sherman's "Hello Muddah, Hello Fadduh", Jef Jaisun's "Friendly Neighbourhood Narco Agent" and Napoleon XIV's "They're Coming To Take Me Away Ha. Coming To Take Me Away Ha,

Had a few phone calls last week from readers ambling up and down London's Shaftesbury Avenue, looking for Fate Records, the cut-price import shop I mentioned

Seems that, due to a printing error, we listed the shop's frontdoor number as 2 instead of 92. Sorry about that, folks, but if you happen to have written to the wrong address don't worry shop manager Gordon Shaw tells me that the post office have redirected all letters and he's busy sorting them out right now.

Fred Dellar.

BARRY WHITE: Greatest Hits (20th Century)

WHITE IS the greatest thing since light, according to Bazza's spouse, Glodean B. White a name surely invented by Chuck Berry.

In gushing sleeve notes, Glo-dean observes: "In the beginn-ing God said 'Let there be light' and there was light.

"Now there has come another Great Time that the world has been waiting for.... "Yes, the day I'm talking about is this day, that Barry White hits the nation with his Greatest Hits album."

Since this view of theology excludes the creation of the heavens and the Earth, you can see Glodean really rates her hubbie's output. Laps it up, in fact. So is this aural sex all it's cracked up to be?

There are some good licks, but Barry sometimes blows it.
And "Greatest Hits"? Has
Barry really had that many?
If White's records are ejaculations rather than releases, then this one is definitely premature.

True, it's the heaviest breathing by the world's heaviest breather, and when the biggest sex object since Cyril Smith breathes heavy, seismic meters register it.

Barry's also given to much grunting. A White grunt sounds not unlike a vacuum cleaner struggling with a flokati rug. How's that for potent symbolism?

As for the actual singing,

SOCIONA INDICIONAL CADROCCO

PLATTERS

- "St. Elmo's Fire," the first bit of "Sky Saw" and "Over Fire Island" make up for all the other posturing affected on previous occasions.

In fact. I'm really glad that he hasn't quite dispensed with some of those good old atonal dumb-bell drones. In context here, stuff like the repetitive "Sombre Reptiles" and large portions where he still insists upon exercising that awful grey clinker disguised as "vocals" are rendered laughably inoffensive by comparison.

But most of all, I'm glad that sive by comparison.

But most of all, I'm glad that "Another Green World" isn't the 100 per cent radical change
I originally hoped it would be, because it might only have turned out to be that dishonest contrivance, the original disguise in reverse. Well ... you know what I mean.

Pete Erskine

DOLLY PARTON: Best of Dolly Parton, Vol. 2 (RCA)

IF THE Volume 2 bit sounds out that no less than six of the ten tracks here are title songs from Ms. Parton's recent output.

And at budget price it's very good value for the would-be sampler curiosity aroused by the airplay songs like "Jolene" and "Bargain Store" received. Mainstream chart country.

The sentiments of songs like "Touch Your Woman", "Lonely Comin' Down", "I Will Always Love You" are virtually guaranteed to make rampant feminists apoplectic; which is their loss really as Dolly Par-ton's undoubtedly one of Nashville's very best contemporary songwriters, as well its most popular lady singer.

You'll also need to swallow a large suspension-of-disbelief pill to accept the downhome to accept the downnome folksiness which informs "Coat of Many Colours" and "My Tennessee Mountain Home", or the lilywhite Christian sentiments of "When I Sing for Him", but if you're still with me, and you're into Emmylou's "Pieces of the Sky" already, chances are you're going to find this much more enjoyable.

this much more enjoyable.

Dolly's voice, apart from having a much wider range than Emmylou's, also has a sense of humour — straight on "Travelling Man", neatly twisted on "Bargain Store" (I mean, you have to admire a songwriting wit which can conceive a vaginal metaphor like that for what is essentially a that for what is essentially a very sad song).

And Porter Wagoner's nimble arrangements — piano, pumping on "Bargain Store," tinkling featherlight on "Love is Like a Butterfly", pedal steel support to the vocals, harp and harmony backups on "My Tennessee Mountain Home", admirably emphasize the sheer admirably emphasize the sheer note-hitting power of Dolly's

What she does most convincingly is the weepy ballads like "I Will Always Love You" with its maudlin talking section. Or, taste the excellent arrangement of piano, strings and steel sup-porting the powerful "Lonely Comin' Down" if you want some real insight into the oftrepeated truism of "country is white man's (sorry, person's) blues." Rod McShane

WALKER BROTHERS: Greatest Hits (Phillips

REMEMBER THE Walker Brothers? They used to come on "Ready Steady Go" and stand around with a peculiar kind of doll-like motionlessness. display their pretty faces and make noises that were supposed to simulate Deep Emotion.

When they had a couple of hits under their white mod a go-nits under their winte mod a gogo hipster belts they got very fond of telling people how much the Stones hated them.

As I recall, I hated them too.
They reminded me of a rather pallid imitation of the Righteous Brothers without an Uncle Phil to guide them. (Jack Nitzche did have a brief liaison with them, but that's hardly the same

Time, however, mellows us all. I don't hate the Walker Brothers any more. The worst thing I can think of to say about this record is that it's a gross case of overpackaging. It's a double album that could have double album that could have been a maxi single.

"Make It Easy on Yourself",

"The Sun Ain't Gonna Sine Any More" and "My Ship Is Coming In" would be quite enough of a souvenir of the Walker Brothers.

The other stuff like "Stand By Me", "Love Minus Zero" or "Land of 1,000 Dances" are pure filler drek. To call them greatest hits is enough to make the Trade Descriptions Act howl at the moon.

Still, I did hear that the lovely Scott Walker was planning a comeback, so maybe this stuff is actually important seminal material. You never can tell, these days. Mick Farren

BERT JANSCH: Santa Barbara Honeymoon (Charisma)

THIS SUCCESSOR to "L.A. Turnaround" sees Bert Jansch getting further away from himself, and directed by the positive but excessive L.A. country rock

Because it is Bert Jansch, I've played it continuously, trying to find some of the spark that has always made Jansch so special among the legions of acoustic guitarists.

Had it been by someone new would have dismissed it out of hand as a bore.

"Santa Barbara Honeymoon" is a good album, mind moon" is a good album, mind you. Any clown can have a good album these days, especially in Southern California where technological whizzes are falling over de luxe control boards and high-powered session men are in evidence on every damn record.

every damn record.
Producer Danny Lane has surrounded Jansch with catchy and busy arrangements per-formed by a fairly swish host of accompanying guitarists, per-cussionists, vocalists and even a synthesizer.

The result sounds like all things to all people.

I'm sorry, I just don't want to hear Bert Jansch singing over that pseudo-classical piano nonsense and zingy synthesizer, overused steel drums and overblown choir.
As for the songs, Jansch seems to have gotten lazy. Some of them really are lovely, particularly "Lost And Gone", and J. C. Frank's "Blues Run The Game" from side two, in which he can actually be heard to be playing the guitar as well

But they are no more beautiful or even quite as inspired in performance as his magnificent lo albums pre-Pentangle. I don't by any means think Jansch is exhausted as a brilliant, creative artist. I just think he should be running his own show, and I cannot believe he was on this album.

Studio shares rocket as Queen connect chance, Queen moved into a creative area which certainly hadn't been explored as fully by any other band (with the possible exception of 10cc) since The Beatles. They were treating the studio as a totally separate place of work to the concert stage. And quite frankly this band are the best thing to have happened to British music this

MORE THAN anything else, "A Night At The Opera" is a consolidation of the previous al-bum's success in skilfully engineering this balance between artistry and effectology. Throughout the album they assert their individual songwrit-ing abilities and musicianship to devastating effect — though there is, one track, "Sweet Lady", which is mutton dressed as lamb, probably the most aw-ful rock number they've ever re-corded; it mars an otherwise excellent set.

Side one, on which "Sweet Lady" is one of seven cuts, seems to be very much a policy statement by Queen; the sub-stantial developments are in terms of writing, playing and production and not a broadening of style.

For instance the opening track, "Death On Two Legs" displays the totally complemen-tary aspects of the band's play-ing. Written by Freddie Mer-cury (credited with "Vocals, vocals, Bechstein Debauchery and more vocals") it's lyrically a vitriolic attack on a former asso-

Mercury delivers the lyrics with a continuously angry snarl, while Brian May knifethrusts guitar lines around the vocal, and the cymbals on Roger Taylor's kit hiss across like a spitting rattlesnake.

From the intense feel they create, the track suddenly cuts into a vaudevillian piano and the camp vocals of Silver Fred-die on a song called "Lazing On A Sunday Afternoon"

Which immediately estab-lishes the atmosphere and format of the first side.

Following "Lazy" comes Roger Taylor's only composi-tion, "I'm In Love With My Car".

Although it's strong rock number, the verses also contain a great deal of humour.

From that we go into the sincere and melodically powerful John Deacon piece, My Best Friend" (which projects the tightness of the band through some fine chord changes) and then Brian May's acoustically based singalong number. "39."

This song is the first indica-tion of May's change of ap-proach in writing and working that's better reflected by "Good Company" on the second side. After the appalling "Sweet"

Lady", the side closes on a high note with a typical vaudevillean piece by Mercury called "Seaside Rendezvous'

Having now cemented their area of operation Queen are able to develop further on the second side, while still retaining the contrasting elements of side one.

May's "The Prophet's Song" begins, and is a grand sonic epic. Not only is it admirably structured, from the acoustic guitar opening to the electric stamp on the main melody, but it opens up to offer the best example of the vocal harmonies.

To conclude the song May moves back to the original acoustic opening, with the melody taken up first by a harp, and then piano to lead into Mer-cury's beautiful reading of the gentle emotional "Love:Of My

Then comes "Good Company". On the surface May's approach is more simplistic, using an appealing melody with a strong hook, set to a trad jazz musical structure. Which results, probably due to his extensive use of ukelele, in comparisons with George Formby.

Yet the overall simplicity is merely a credit to his technical skill which has been displayed on electric guitar throughout the album. Here he creates the sound of a jazz band, right

Continues over page

And the Lawd said: "Let there be Barry White!" And Barry said "Uuuuuughhh! Right on Honey!"

Barry's bass voice is deeper than the deepest orifice. All in all, enough to cream the least yielding panti-girdle.

Then there are the lyrics.

Which seem rather more quaint

Serenade" monologue, in which Barry drools on over lush orchestrations. (The effect is like getting an obscene phone call while checking out Jerry

What do you make of this: "Take off your panties and brassiere, my dear"?

Does anyone outside Jane Austen say "my dear"? Does

Me should have made that:
Take off your panties and brassiere and finger-tip control corselette and elastic stockings, my dear.

Still, the music's not bad. And it's clearly not that much of a secondary consideration, either.

The biggest hits here are straight-ahead disco work-outs. They are: "You're the First, the Last, My Everything", "Can't Get Enough", and "Never, Never Gonna Give You Up".

And they depend as much on nimble-fingered drummers as on Bazza's pawing vocals.
Of course, White's production work has been rightly admired for its imagination and particularly impressive on the Holland-Dozier-Holland classic "Standing In the Shadows of Love". A title Shadows of Love". A title doubtless intended to take on new meaning in the context.

But really, an entire album of this ilk is too much to take. White is best in snatches.

If music be the food of love, this is strictly for gluttons.

Bob Edmands

QUEEN: A Night At The Opera (EMI)

ALREADY THERE'S been a suggestion that this, Queen's fourth album, has probably cost more to make than any other recorded in British studios.

But apart from offering us the opportunity to applaud their patriotic spirit in using the excellent facilities available in this country, this information does at first seem to qualify a parti-cular myth surrounding Queen: that they require an ostentat ious, meticulous, elaborate, and therefore costly, production to give their music any degree of credibility.

could be further Nothing from the truth.

I suspect that even if they were to record on a four-track in an Earl's Court basement the results would certainly be as substantial, though possibly not as spectacular.

Even so myths often have some basis of truth. The origin of this one probably lies with the pretentiously crass production overkill employed on the rather ordinary material of "Queen II".

However with "Sheer Heart Attack", Queen were able to produce material of a standard which totally justified their particularly lavish recording style.

Instead of allowing their own artistic inspiration to be impaired by the recording me-thods, they used the studio environment to enhance their material and musicianship.

Suddenly, perhaps by

From previous page

down to the muted brass, clarinets and trombones.

On "Bohemian Rhapsody" the sheer force of the rock movement within the song is dependent on his power chord structuring, combined with the zealous strength of Taylor's drumming and Deacon's bass.
And of course "Rhapsody" with changing moods, operatic vocals and above all a logical progression to a beautiful climax, is the definitive track of the album. The quintessential example of Queen's magnificence in terms of writing and production

Naturally these attributes are common to most of the songs; and if it's the most expensive album ever made in a British studio, it's also arguably the best. And I mean that God save 'em.

Tony Stewart

DORIS DUKE: Woman (Contempo)

ONE THING about Doris, she can't be confused with any of the other soul girls around at the moment.

Full-bodied and throaty, tinged with an acid tone of bitter memories. she (as The Times would say) exudes intestinal fortitude.

Guts, to you and me. Mess with her, baby, and you'll liable to get a clout 'round the ear with the thick end of a bullwhip. I wouldn't be surprised to learn that she dispenses strict correction between takes at her recording sessions.

And yet, despite the leathered image, she can never seem to dominate the men in her life. Her affairs are always with other girl's husbands who evenreturn to their wives; fellas who disappear into the night without warning; or SUPERTRAMP: Crisis? What Crisis? (A&M)

SUPERTRAMP the type of recording band who demand immediate attention; they're very much an acquired taste.

Either you learn to consider them performers of rather entisongs, or merely regard them as anonymous musicians making equally anonymous

Due to business and personnel problems Supertramp, the brainchild for better or worse of Richard Davies and Roger Hodgson, didn't really discover their own musical identity until their previous album, "Crime

Of The Century".

Which, with the assistance of The Hit Single, "Dreamer", suddenly elevated them from obscurity to a level of recognition, both here and in America.

Presumably, "Crisis? What Crisis?" is an album they hope will help maintain this newly acquired status.

sneaky pimps who just want to put her on the streets.

you more about life than you'll ever read in the gutter press.

and when she's well produced she can tell it with felling (check out her first L.P., "I'm A

But when she's buried way back in the mix, fighting hard to compete with banks of strings and sterile accompaniment, even Doris sounds relatively

Perhaps I'm being unfair.

"I'm A Loser" was such a fine album that her subsequent releases (including the ludi-crously titled "Legend In Her Own Time" L.P.) have all paled emasculated.

her first L.P.,

Yes indeed, this girl can tell

No doubt it will achieve this

Basically they'll do because they haven't altered the proven successful formula, while their new songs are fresh enough to Do It Again.

by comparison. Reviewed on its own ments, "Woman" has quite a lot going for it even if it isn't another instant classic

Try to persuade an obliging retailer to let you hear it before you make up your mind. Listen particularly to her slow, plain-tive interpretation of the old Supremes' hit "Love Is Here And Now You're Gone": the lengthy opening track "Woman Of The Ghetto"; or the marital drama "Full Time Woman". Then contrast with the strongest funky track "Grasshopper".

They're all good. I just can't help feeling that a more imagin-ative arranger could have made ative arranger court them so much better. Cliff White

In appreciating their song-writing skill, however, it should be remembered that quite honestly they're hardly excellent musicians

They have limitations, and although they tend to work within these confines there are moments, particularly Richard Hodgson's irritatingly brittle guitar solos during "Sister Moonshine", when they unsuccessfully attempt to step outside

John Helliwell, generally a very fine musician with an assortment of excellent ideas, is also guilty of this with the particularly bland sax contribution to "Ain't Nobody But Me".

Of course these inconsistencies are symptomatic of a brash confidence, which if channelled properly makes for a better feel on the material. Well this at least seems the case with pieces like "Lady" and "Another Man's Woman".

But, leaving aside these limitations, "Crisis" does find

Tramp broadening out instrumentally, allowing, for instance, both Helliwell on clarinet and the superb Dougie Thompson on bass to develop themes more extensively.

And yet the album is, like "Crime", based on Davies's and Hodgson's panache for writing good melodies, with Bob C Benberg providing his disti-nctive rhythmic feel to most of them, something best illustrated by the tracks "Sister Moonby the tracks "Sister Moon-shine" and "Another Man's Woman".

As an album "Crisis" is generally excellent, both vo-cally, instrumentally, and as a Ken Scott (and Supertramp) production.

The album concludes on a high with the beautiful love song "Two Of Us," which also, incidentally alludes to the determination of the Davies and Hodgson partnership to carry on, despite their earlier disen-

Tony Stewart

NEIL YOUNG: Zuma (Reprise)

NEIL YOUNG hasn't had a hit record since "Harvest", five albums ago. "Zuma" will change all that.

What's more the opening song here, "Don't Cry
No Tears", ought to put
Young back in the singles charts.

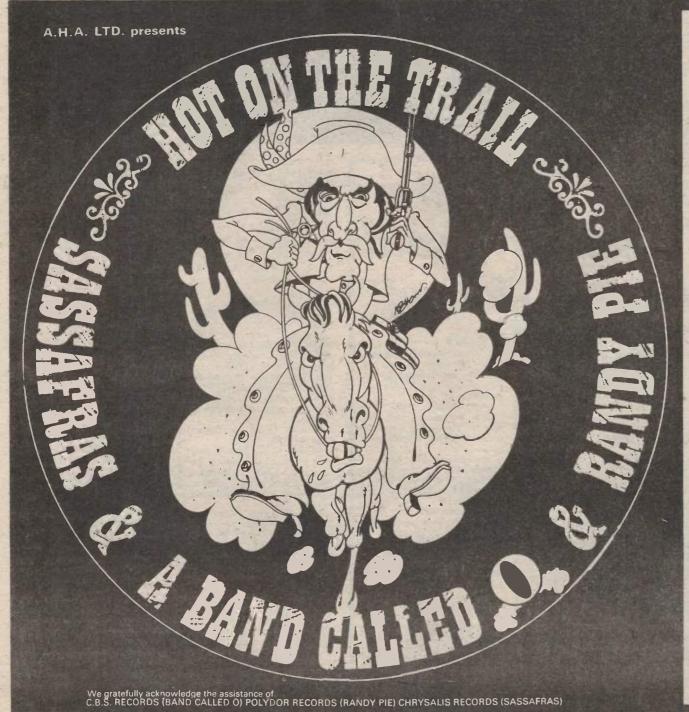

No, Young hasn't sold out and never will if his last two albums "On The Beach" and "Tonight's The Night" are anything to go by. Both illustrate the man's honesty and unwillingness to compromise himself in order to make hitrecords.

It's more that Young has come out of the tunnel he entered after the deaths of his close friends Danny Whitten and Bruce Berry, a tunnel lengthened by Young's further disillusion with the music biz—a situation which resulted in his a situation which resulted in his manager, Elliot Roberts urging him to get back with Crosby, Stills and Nash to bring home, the bacon.

In fact Young here has got back with Crazy Horse, to whom the album is co-credited, even though "Zuma" isn't entirely made up of Crazy Horse cuts. Six of the nine tracks are credited to the band, one Frank Sampedro replacing Whitten on rhythm guitar; Billy Talbot and Ralph Molina complete the line-

Both "On The Beach" (recorded after "Tonight's The Night" and not before, as the release dates would indicate) and "Tonight's The Night" are disturbing albums.

With those two albums Young's self-isolation isolated his audience.
"Zuma", thankfully, will put

* FREEBIE COLLECTORS ITEM

First two hundred ticket buyers will receive special limited edition E.P. record featuring a track from each band. Buy your ticket now and get your record on the night.

NOVEMBER

Fri 21st Corn Exchange, Cambridge Sat 22nd Loughborough University Sun 23rd Caley Cinema, Edinburgh Mon 24th City Hall, Glasgow Cleethorpes Winter Gardens Thu 27th Fri 28th Durham University Sat 29th Leas Cliff Hall, Folkestone Middlesbrough Town Hall Sun 30th

DECEMBER

Wed 3rd Thu 4th Fri 5th Sat 6th Sun 7th Mon 8th Tue 9th Thu 11th Fri 12th Sat 13th Sun 14th

Manchester University City Hall, Hull Lanchester Polytechnic Bradford University Hammersmith Palais Birmingham University Brangwyn Hall, Swansea Wed 10th- Cardiff University Aberystwyth University Victoria Hall, Hanley, Stoke To be announced Bath Pavilion

ADVANCE 99p

ENQUIRIES: 01-226 8551

Neil Young and the re-discovery of raunch

Young back with his following. In an interview with Young in Rolling Stone earlier this year, he talked of his personality shift. He sings about it here, in the closing verse of "Barstool Once there was a friend of

Who died a thousand deaths
His life was filled with parasites
And countless idle threats

He trusted in a woman And on her he made his bets

And there lies the key to much of what "Zuma" is about, and the reasons why it comes as such a breath of fresh air after the last two Young albums. The "friend" Young is referring to is obviously himself, the rest speaks for itself.

He's looking back on his immediate past (in the interview referred to, Young talked at length about the people who were living off him, the parasites) which also brings in the fact that he's split up with his lady and is out on the pull again; therefore songs like
"Don't Cry No Tears",
"Danger Bird", "Pardon My Heart", "Lookin' For A Love", possibly "Stupid Girl" and "Driveback", which is not an unpleasant way of telling the ex-girlfriend to go lose herself. So you see more than half this album is about lost love But Young isn't drowning in his self-pity. Instead he sees his situation and just about welcomes it in songs like "Lookin' For A Love" which is a classic Young strum-along/sing-a-long. The song's uptempo, hinting at a country feel, and like so much of the album expectly simple musically. album expertly simple musically and lyrically.

Musically, "Don't Cry No Tears" highlights one side of the album where Young and Crazy Horse approach the music with a certain '60s beat and group simplicity. The song's chord changes '(reminiscent of "Needles And Pins") increases the similarity between this side of Crazy Horse and a rather more raunchy Searchers, if you can believe that.

The band approach "Barstool Blues", an urgent uptempo number, "Stupid-Girl" and "Drive Back" similarly, their freshness and energy more than apparent.

It's not everybody who could make an album this far into his career so brimful of vitality career so brimful of vitality—something which is more surprising when you consider the state of the music on "Tonight's The Night" where Young used Talbot and Molina too.

On "Danger Bird" and the album's greatest cut "Cortez The Killer," Crazy Horse's stance is more like in days of yore, i.e. "Everybody Knows fhis Is Nowhere" and tracks like "Down By The River" and "Cowgirl In The Sand".

"Cortez The Killer" is presumably where Young gets the album's title from, Zuma heirs, an abbreviation of the being an abbreviation of the Aztec King Montezuma who Aztec King Montezuma who crops up in the song, which is Young's romantic idealisation of Cortez, a Spanish conquistador plundering Montezuma's kingdom.

If the lyrics don't hold water, the music more than compensates, being as it is a show-case for Young's guitar playing ability. At first the music creates a tranquil landscape, Young then starts to hint at the riff before delivering it, finally chording about to create a wall chording about to create a wall of drama. Great stuff.

A CSNY cut "Through My Sails" closes the album, Young plays acoustic, Stills plays low-key bass and Russ Kunkel plays congas. It's a song of calm contentment, Crosby's singing being particularly impressive. And bears little resemblance to the very arranged music the four made on "Deed music the four made on "Deja Vu". The fine melody is instantly memorable.

Neil Young has described "Zuma" as "sophisticated" Crazy Horse and while that doesn't explain the album entirely there is much here that tirely there is much here that sounds like Young has gone full circle, in fact gone back to his earliest roots

Also he has made an album which is both very real, very listenable and one that'll sell a ton without merely recycling well-worn devices that have earned him a lot of money in the past.

"Zuma" stands as an album on its own, an entity in itself, and is further indication of Young's importance in the scheme of things. Steve Clarke TAMMY WYNETTE: I Still Believe in Fairy Tales (Epic)

SHE WAS a full-grown mountain girl who became a waitress in Bowling Green where she met a "gee-tar picking drunk."

Life was conducted from the country pages the beld brown paper bags; his held booze, hers had movie mags.

Neil Young, arriving at Heathrow with his mother.

She took what he could give when he could. Now the fairy-tale house is for sale. She still calls him, with a cold, to tell him that she is trying to fall in love again each night that she goes out. Heartbroken, she's goin' back to Dallas; because if she can get away from her man's personal effects his memory will go to rest.

Sound like a familiar story?

Yes. the professionally She took what he could give

Yes, the professionally vulnerable Tammy has another album of songs exploring lovehate relationships when backed by slide-guitar and a vocal backup by the Nashville Edition.

There's not much to say; she riere's not much to say; she still sings with the passion of a gingham-covered martyred angel. The music is country slick with the occasional Conway Twitty riff, but it's all arranged so far behind her that the drummer could well be a comparabilist. somnambulist.

somnambulist.
Occasionally in her career there's a song like "D-I-V-O-R-C-E" or "Stand By Your Man" which fortifies the legend.
Of these tracks "The Man From Bowling Green" comes the closest.
Billy Sherill produces and wrote one song. Miss Tammy, however, wrote three for this album sometime when she wasn't flying around the world half-blinded by tears, throwing feminism back into the "dark ages", or performing.

feminism back into the "dark ages", or performing.

There's an unspoken agreement in the South that things are never what they appear to be. Filtered through all the "Yes, ma'm thank ya kindlys" are some of the worst social politics in the world. If you think this Barbie Doll who went from being a hairdresser to C&W queen by way of a C&W king/husband is even going credit the musicians on the album, then you too still believe in fairy tales.

Judy Nylon

B/W/SOMEONE (C)ME ROKN 501

> Her new single out now on Rocket Records

RORY GALLAGHER: Against The Grain (Chrysalis)

DO YOU realise that "Against The Grain" is Rory Gallagher's seventh album since he split Taste:

That's seven albums in four years. The little Irishman certainly works hard, and for that alone he deserves some of his quite massive reputation.

Of course, there's never been Of course, there's never been that much doubt about the guy's guitar playing. Listen to those blistering breaks on the opener. "Let Me In" and the real zipgun slide work that takes us out of "Souped Up Ford", an overhead cam and twin carbs job if ever I heard one.

Rory Gallagher knows his way around that battered old Stratocaster, but he isn't only a heavy merchant either. His version of Leadbelly's amusing "Out On The Western Plain features some very skilful finger-picking, and the tone on the man's acoustic is far from

No rhythm, lots of blues

He can rock hard and he can also play them soft and mellow. but if "Against The Grain" is anything to go by, Mr. Gallagh-er doesn't know how to pitch them so they land right in the middle. Anything that, isn't more or less a 12-bar thrash and the guy gets terribly lost.

'Cross Me Off Your List" is a jazzy flavoured number that tries to fool you that it isn't in 4/4 time, even when it is. And it

For starters the band isn't up to it. Gerry McAvoy and Rod De Ath's rhythm section is right there with all the beats. but they simply aren't subtle or light enough. Gallagher's own production, which insists upon keeping the sound as much in the garage as possible, isn't the greatest assistance to them. The dry, sackcloth sound suits the out and out rockers, but the lack of studio sophistication takes the edge off the ensemble

It doesn't do some of Rory's vocal lines any good, either. It shows 'em up as self-conscious ly technical, if not pretentious. But he's still a good boogie player. On stage he and the rest of the band are reputed to be red hot and rocking. Unfortu-nately, in common wih just about every British rock outfit, they don't swing . . . at all. "Souped Up Ford". as it stands, is a great song, and it could get recognised as a classic in the "Six Days On The Road" vein. But rather than Road" vein. But rather than force you to get up and shake a hip. Gallagher's arrangement and McAvoy's bass pounding away on every single solitary beat, it makes you want to get down and beat your head upon the floor. Apparently that's what many of Gallagher's fans get into, but I find the idea a little painful.

a little painful.

Nevertheless, there are few who can beat Rory Gallagher at his own game, and "Against The Grain" should sell in large numbers. Catch some of that natural rhythm, Rory, and you might find yourself in the Rock 'n' Roll Peerage.

Chas de Whalley

RENAISSANCE: Scheherazade And Other Stories" (BTM)

I DIDN'T care particularly for Renaissance's last album, feel ing personally that it was some what superficial for its gran-diose themes. So, having indif-ferent expectations of their new effort, I was delighted to find it a captivating, cohesive work.

The tertile compositions of Michael Dunford, performed with tight interdependence among these musicians, exploit highly dramatic aspects of jazz, rock and classical motifs, linked by the folk purity of Annie Haslam's exceptional voice.

The content of the album is divided by the two sides between the real and personal and the fantastic, providing two separate unities.

On side one "Trip To The Fair" opens with the resource ful John Tout on keyboards in an intro that sounds like Tchaikevsky having a fit. Maniacal laughter and accelerate tempo succeed in re-creating a form of dementia I feel uncomfortable listening to. This fades out to tinkling fairground sounds and crystalline, lost soul vocals from Ms. Haslam.

Betty Thatcher's lyncs here remind me of a universal night-mare, disguised in a sugar-shell of sweet melody which shatters: "Suddenly thousands of faces I see/Everyone seemed to be star-

'The Vultures Fly High" is more jazz rock paranoia. driven by Jon Camp's powerhouse bass and Terence Sulli van's well-defined and controlled energy on drums.

Side one closes with a gentle and plaintive tour de force. "Ocean Gypsy". While the theme of a "free soul" heroine who loves and is lost may teeter on the twee, recurring as it does in so much of folkdom and gen-teel rock. Renaissance's treatment is quite resplendent, a fine mesh of swelling and receding instrumentals, soaring vocals and haunting lyrics.

Side two is devoted to the nine-song cycle "Song Of Scheherazade" and presents all of the finest aspects of the band on record in a balanced but spectacular entertainment.

Renaissance's composition is symphonic in feel, cinematic in scope, for like the best of film soundtracks it conjures up rich pictures from the music alone.

The cycle opens with "Fanfare" a musical simile for fare", a musical simile for "Once Upon A Time" which transports the listener to the extransports the instener to the ex-otic realm of fantasyland Bagh-dad. "The Betrayal" sets the scene, dangerous excitement building through sinister per-cussion and racing string to a violent climax and uneasy de-nouement.

Annie Haslam's operatic voice wings upwards through the song, coupled persuasively with the precise tenor of Jon Camp. The orchestration subsides for John Tout's balletic right introduction to the grace-piano introduction to the grace-ful "Love Theme".

Ms. Thatcher's lyrics for "Scheherazade", drawing on a rich source and utilising the poetic language of Arabian faery erotica, are shimmering.

My only very small com-My only very small complaint is that the whole story is revealed in "The Sultan" and only one of Scheherazade's tales is used in a beautiful love song, "The Young Prince And The Young Princess As Told By Scheherazade", thus leaving out a wealth of material about Aladdin, the voyages of Sinbad, Ali Baba, etc. Ali Baba, etc.

On the other hand, musically "Scheherazade" is a complete evocation, a triumphant realisation of the selected theme. Compact but opulent, conveying a multiplicative of models. multiplicity of moods

I absolutely love it, and would refer "Scheherazade And Other Stories" not only to those who are interested in the exploratory development of Renaishooked on romantic fantasy and fable. Angie Errigo

CAFE SOCIETY (Konk)

THIS HAS gotta be one of the softest male harmony groups ever. I can still feel spaniel eyes gazing up from the sleeve.

The harmonies on this record The harmonies on this record are lyrical, soothing and its strongest aspect. Unfortunately, on a number like "Maybe It's Me" it's all balm and no cut. The song "I Love You So", had it been done by the Beatles during the "Hey Jude" era would have been a hit whether I liked it or not — but that's the liked it or not — but that's the old story with nostalgia — right place, wrong time.

place, wrong time.

This group admits to 'wistful longings and corniness'. Good thing, too; because "The Creed" is really enough to make a body cringe. It's a downright religious ballad dedicated to beautiful losers everywhere.

Side two, cuts two and three. "The Whitby Two-Step" and "Such A Night" are the best songs on the album. In the tradition of the Village Green Preservation Society, both of these songs have that choppy feel that goes with racoon coats and naivety serenaded by coats and naivety serenaded by restaurant violin.

Konk is the Kinks' label and with Ray and Dave Davis (also John Gosling) producing, Cafe Society have come up with an album that, while competent, is not demanding enough to catch attention.

The group move within a triangle of folk, nostalgia, and down home cabaret. Since most of the instrumentation is keyboards, acoustic guitar, and bass, material from this album could be faithfully reproduced without six tons of equipment and would lend itself to a club situation.
Raphael, Tom,

Hereward Hilken Swain Kays do have nice voices, but a mask and a melody, a top hat and a rose are hardly the tools to carve a place in what they've called "the cynical seventies'. Judy Nylon

It's the re-wind button that does it. It's just too much of a strain for ordinary batteries. They need time to recover.

Meanwhile, they play your tapes slow.

Not Duracell. Duracell's no ordinary battery. It gives you all of its power, all of > Even in high-drain equipment like your cassette player. So it always plays your tapes at the right speed

Duracell lasts much longer too. Around three times the life of an ordinary battery.

That goes for your radio, cassette player, camera, torch, shaver, pocket calculator and whatever else you usually run on batteries.

So next time our Shirley starts singing like Johnny Cash you know what to do. Change to Duracell.

DURACEL THE LONG DISTANCE POWER CELL

THE SOUNDTRACK ALBUM OF THE KEN RUSSELL FILM

AMLH 64546

Flashback to the Stones U.S. tour...

MICK ON ROCK'N'ROLL

AGGER I don consider myself the b t rock star. I never have There are a lot of people who are good, and since I'm not really interested in which is the start of really interested in white rock and roll I never go and see 'em . ."

But you do — you've seen Clapton, and Zeppelin, and Bowie . ..

"Well, to be honest, I'm checking out the sound systems." (Laughs).

"I'm not your good but I don't root."

"I'm not very good, but I don't really care. In fact people have sometimes said I'm not very good.
"The Rolling Stones have never said they were the best rock and roll band or the greatest."

office discussing ways of opening the outdoor shows. Jagger says, "Those kids are all on downs, aren't they? They take some quaaludes and then some more downs and smoke pot, and then they take heroin and then some cocaine and then some ripple wine, right? Maybe we should all get together in here and take all that stuff see what we would feel like and what would entertain us.

Someone mentions Altamont. Mick looks weary. "Oh, I don't know..." he says, "people tell me all the time that they had a good time there. Kids arrivin' the day before...

campin' out and all that.
"Sometimes I think the only two people who didn't have a good time were me and the guy that got killed."

THE PRESS

TALKING about the press en route to Milwaukee, mid-air. Mick says: I don't read any of the analytical stuff. Those are the ones that I skip. I only look at the front pages or the pictures, actually.

"Someone asked me if I minded bad reviews, and I said no. As long as my picture is on the front page, I don't care what they say about me on page 96."

HE PROBLEMS OF BEING ON TOUR

TELL I don't have that many wproblems myself, so if others do then I don't mind dealing with them. Maybe I just ignore my probems... I mean, of course I have problems, but not really day to day ones because I have people to look after me, y'know?

"I'm very lucky. I don't have to pack my bags. I don't have to worry about my airplane. I don't have to worry about my cars.

"But then you have a lot of people who have emotional problems, and I don't.

Never? "Well, yes, but very rarely. I just don't have emotional problems ... ou know what I mean, I'm very happy. "Lonely? "Lonely? . . No, not lonely at all. Why should I be lonely? I have my dearest friends with me, how can I be lonely?

"Keith, Charlie . . . most of the band are my friends, and a lot of other people who have been my friends for years . . . I don't ever feel lonely. I mean ever. It's not like I'm on tour and I'm 'The Lonely Rock Star.' Forget it . it doesn't apply to me.'

This tour in particular? "I didn't think I was going to like it. I thought it was going to be just so repetitious of what we'd done before. Happily I don't feel that, because the band is a slightly different band, enough different to make me interested in it. And I get off on the stage, especially the moving

MICK CONFIRMS THAT PRESSURES EXIST

OU HAVE to learn to relax at certain periods of the day. The more you bring yourself to relax, whatever method you use, the better it is. You have to spend a lot of time cooling out.

Did you hear about the female Chuck Berry who wanted to join the Stones? About the marriage in the pressbox during "Jumping Jack Flash"? About the policemen and the bottle of urine? LISA ROBINSON got it all first-hand on THE ROLLING STONES' mammoth tour of the American continent earlier this year, and here it is — a collection of the curious and the commonplace, presented for your titillation.

"You have to be calm and effective and all your judgements balanced because after a while the pressure gets so much that a lot of bands just freak out on the road. Which has always been a thing of humour with us...if you can keep the humour it's all right.
"People have a lot of different ways of letting out their inhibitions like they screw a lot, or destroy rooms . . . all this frustration. One indulges in all those things . . . you take it out on things, on people.

"I don't honestly think that those are the best ways of doing it. I think sex is quite important, sex does give you a lot of release from tension.

'I get a lot of release of tension just physically anyway . . . onstage . . . so I don't have a physical problem like that.

"If I was standing still like Bill I think I'd go mad."

BILL WYMAN HAS HIS SAY

I'M AN introverted person,"
Bill Wyman says when asked, about his lack of movement. "I don't feel natural moving. If I did move it would look wrong, very false.
"I just get right sort of into whater."

"I just get right sort of into whatever's happenin' in the audience . . . things that happen between people in the audience, reactions to what Mick does I think that's really interestin', it's a lot of fun.

"Especially if the audience is aware of me watchin' them, then some funny things happen. But none of the rest of the band is aware of that either, y'k-now. They think I just stand there as well, and don't sweat all over. I present myself to the audience performin', but not in a jump-around way. I get off on a few things, I dig it, I really do.

"But Mick isn't aware of that or Keith . . . or Charlie, and probably 80 per cent of the audience isn't. But the people around my area are."

KEITH KEEPS TOGETHER

THE MILWAUKEE Hotel Keith Richard and Ronnie Wood are being "interviewed" by some Chicago journalists in Keith's room. Huge, red carpet-covered speakers, tape recorder and stereo take up half the room.

The atmosphere is smoky ... red scarves cover the lamps and dim the lights. The smell of incense as well as a pungent French perfume fill the

'I'm going to put some of the new Stones tapes on and see if any of 'em pick up on it." Keith mumbles as an aside, and of course the reporters, hav-ing to practically lean into Keith's face to hear what he's saying, don't. Keith Richard protects his privacy with music, even though his hotel room doors may be open to all.

The music blaring forth from the "heavy artillery" speakers is loud enough to keep an entire hotel awake . . . until long after the sun comes up.

Way after the amateurs who can't keep vampire hours have split Keith, Ronnie, Mick, and often Billy Preston may still be there, alone with each other to share a common langauage.

Keith arrived in his room and creates instant theatre. Meticulously arranging the atmosphere . . . just so. A certain number of scarves tossed over lamps, the incense in holders, reggae tapes on, photos of Anita on the mirror, the drawers neatly arranged.
One wonders about his health?

"I couldn't possibly do what I do onstage if I didn't take care."

People worry about you ...

"They should worry about them-selves. I haven't heard too much of that on this trip, however.

Well . . . perhaps it has something to do with the fact that you and Ronnie smile at each other onstage so "Does a smile mean you're healthy? I mean you could be dying of cancer and still raise a smile occasionally."

". . Yeah, I'm very grateful for people that worry about me, but it's really a waste of time. They should worry about themselves.

"Don't worry about me. I've got it under control as best I can, as well as anyone else. Probably better, if I can exercise the ego for a minute."

Are you ever scared onstage?
"Scared? What's there to be scared of? It's the best part of the day."

MARRIAGE IN THE PRESS BOX

A MARRIAGE takes place in hot pressbox during "Jumping Jack Flash", the climax of the show in Toronto. The couple are Georgina Fox and Chris Davis, along with their maids of ho-nour and a priest named Red Lester (he carries a calling card that reads, "Thinking of getting married? Call

"I'd rather play to little kids...They should check 'em at the door - throw out the ones with bald heads"

Pix by: ANNIE LEIBOVITZ and CHRISTOPHER SYKES

Prior to the concert, the starry-eyed bride tells photographer Annie Leibovitz, "Tell Mick I love him".

The couple, in their late teens, wear

The couple, in their late teens, wear full bridal drag; white gown, tuxedo jacket etc. Wedding party members scribble little notes on a box top . . . "I love you Mick", and so forth. At their request, Annie Leibovitz brings a gold and white book embossed with the legend "Our Wedding" into the band's dressing room for them to sign.

Ron Wood writes: "I hope you have much pleasure together".
Keith writes: "Congratulations?"

Mick: "I hope you have many years of happiness together".
Billy Preston (what else?): "Peace".

SOVIET CULTURE: JAGGER SPEAKS OUT

ALKING to the Russian cult ural attache in his dressing room in Washington, Jagger tells of when they first tried to set up a Russian tour and he was asked what he would do to improve cultural standards of Russian youth.
"I said I thought they could improve their own cultural standards without any help from me.

BALD FACTS

DISCUSSING what has been a particularly sedate audience, Mick says, "Td rather play to 2,000 little kids than 18,000 adults. They should check 'em out at the door . . . throw out all the ones with bald heads."

MRS. JAGGER'S ROLE IN ROCK

FTER the show Ahmet Ertegun throws another of his parties for the band in a massive room of the Washington Hotel. Bianca Jagger walks around apparently looking for something she must have dropped on

"What's she looking for?" someone asks.

"Happiness," answers another.

"I don't think Bianca cared whether "I don't think Bianca cared whether I went to the White House or not," Mick says later. "She was quite happy to go on her own. And I was quite happy for her to go on her own. I mean I guess I could have been invited, but I wasn't actually sent an invitation card, so I wasn't bein' rude. Anyway, I never woke up.

never woke up.
"But Bianca enjoys all that, because after all, she's not doin' anythin' on the tour apart from that, and she was in "Washington... so she should do... I mean we're a team, y'know, so she does that and I do what I do."

THREATENED

HOTOGRAPHER Christopher coming out of his dressing room at the Forum, L.A. "AH!" Wyman shouts, "spoiling my solitude before the show!!"

Wyman... described in the Boston Globe as having an "onstage demean-or akin to that of your friendly undertaker." He's actually one of the wittiest people on the tour. He surveys himself in the mirror in a skintight lizard and leather outfit and says: "If I wear pants like this for the whole tour I'll never be able to produce another child.

THE PROBLEMS OF PETER RUDGE

PETER RUDGE has an idea to use elephants in Memphis — as security, perhaps.

When the day finally arrives there are problems. Rudge: "There's no way we can get 'em walking around through the crowd? No? Well, can one elephant stand on top of another?"

The flight from Washington, D.C. to Memphis is a nightmare: lightning all around, altitude drops, even the brave ones are not smiling. Mick's not on the plane, having chosen to drive...

maybe he knew something.

Arriving at the Memphis Hilton there is a screw-up with room reserva-tions and — as if this wasn't enough — "Gimme Shelter" is on TV. The following day Keith and Ronnie are detained in Fordyce, Arkansas, thus putting the place on the map

EPHEN WYMAN SON OF BILL

THRISSIE WOOD and Ronnie lie by the Beverly Wilshire Hotel pool and get some sun. Stephen Wyman, son of Bill, an amazing boy who knows the sizes of the largest radishes, cucumbers and tomatoes in the world, falls in love. Peter Rudge has the Bellevue Suite where he conducts meetings, receives nonstop phonecalls, and in general thrives on a perhaps necessary (in order to do this particular gig) aura of hysteria.

Mary Beth Medley seems stunned by the backstage pass requests. Ryan O'Neal is insulted that he has to pay for his tickets, so he returns them.

In the dressing room one night I hear the strains of "Happy". Ah, Keith's song, I say, jumping up. "Are you kidding?", laughs a friend, "they're all Keith's songs."

KEITH AND THE GIRL GUITARIST

EITH HAS received a letter from a girl who says she guitar player and a great screw. Now she's stopped by to see him. While he's still asleep in the other room, she sits on an amp and plays some Chuck Berry styled guitar.

It becomes apparent that her desire is to play... onstage with the Stones.

"Are you kidding? They'd never do that," says a friend. "A chick?? On-stage? With the Stones? . . ."

"I just want to strut. I know if I played with them they'd dig it... I could take them into a whole other thing, the thing of a girl onstage with

"Listen, I've jammed with a lot of people... Fanny... Isis asked me to be their guitar player. I'm not a groupie, and I'm not impressed. "I'm a player, I was asked here. I thought I was going to play: At least iam with them."

jam with them. Keith leaves for the gig and leans out the car door. "Look, come around, or call me later, but about joining the Stones - I mean forget it, it's done

KEITH ON GUITAR STYLE

OU KNOW with Ronnie we seem to be able to get back to the original idea of the Stones, when Brian was with us in 1962...63. Two guitars has always been my particular love because I think there's more that can be done with that combination than almost any other instrument.

"What screws it up, and this is the bag I fell into with Mick Taylor whom I love dearly and I think is one of the most incredible guitar players in that kind of music you'll ever get a chance to hear — is that there's this phony division between lead and rhythm guitar. It does not exist. Either you're a guitar player or you're not. There's no point in designating one thing to one and another thing to anoth-

"This way with Ronnie is more like what it was with Brian, because when Brian was still very interested in guitar we had basically the same ideas. It's two guitar players and one sound. At times you may not be able to tell who's doing what because the sound is focused and it is one sound created by

"Two guitars can be a disaster. Often the easy way round is to have one be lead and one be rhythm, and split it up like that. But if you want the two of them to produce one sound, the guys playing them have to be together. They've got to know what they're do-

"With Ronnie it worked out. I knew it would because we'd already done an album together. It was also the fact

"We just had to own up that we were an English rock and roll band, and not just English — but London. And that's why Ronnie and I can burst into gales of laughter at a certain word that nobody else understands... all those little things become such a big advantage when you're on the road.." er', and that just happened to be about someone I knew.

"There's really no reason to have women on tour unless they've got a job to do. The only other reason is to screw. Otherwise they get bored ... they just sit around and moan. It would be different if they did everything for you, like answer the phones, make the breakfast, look after your clothes, and your packing . . . see if the car was ready, and screw."

HAVE ONE ON ME ...

T'M DRINKING white wine in the dressing room at Hampton Roads, Virginia; and Wyman says menacingly. "Don't drink that."
"What?"

"No, seriously! Y'know, some
Continued on page 30

PETER RUDGE: "Elton wants to give us a party after the show in Denver, okay?" Keith: "Only if he gives us a Rembrandt each."

WISECRACK 2

THE AUDIENCE is all going to Ling "Happy Birthday" to Mick tonight," says Paul Wasser-man. "But this is Bloomington, Indiana, so we'll probably have to pass out a sheet with the words."

Mick, "Christ . . . Bloomington . . . I thought that was a department store."

Atlantic Records' Danny Markus is peeling oranges, tossing the peel on the floor. Don't do that ... "Listen," says Danny, "this is Detroit — the whole place is the floor."

LLY PRESTON'S

BILLY PRESTON, every night: "IT'S MY PLEASURE ENTERTAIN THE PEOPLE IF THE PEOPLE WANNA BE ENTERTAINED. DO YA WANNA BE ENTERTAINED. DO YA WANNA BE ENTERTAINED???!!" And afterwards: "Every night I go out there and say to myself, please God please, don't let Jagger pull my wig off."

Square Garden: "This is Billy Preston, he's staying at the St. Montz and he likes white boys!"

NHIBITIONS

AM inhibited onstage. To a certain extent, yeah ... I mean there are certain things you wouldn't do. I wouldn't throw myself into the crowd . . . sometimes I feel like doin' that though. Take all my clothes . I just feel like that sometimes.

"When we played that really hot gig I just felt like takin' all my clothes off."
(Why didn't you, then?) "Well, I'm inhibited. Besides, I'd probably get arrested.

"Also I have inhibitions because I have to play within a musical reference. If you wander too far away from it, then the band gets lost.

"Sometimes I do get lost. And I mean you can't warn the band and say, 'Well, I'm going to lose control here,' because you don't know if you will.

"I lose control, and then come back, and that's exciting. For me it's the best part of the show. VOMEN

ICK IN Jacksonville, on women: "People always give me this bit about us bein' a macho band and I always ask them to give me examples . . . 'Under My Thumb'? 'Yes, but they always say 'Starfuck p.m. to 11 p.m. approx.

Doors open 12.30 p.m.

p.m. to 12.30 a.m. approx.

Doors open 2.30 p.m.

OLYMPIA

1 p.m. to 11 p.m. approx. JAN. 1st Doors open 12.30 p.m.

STATUS 0U0

THINDAYAY

CLIMAX BLUES

BAND

DOCTORS OF

MADNESS

PROCOL HARUM

BARCLAY JAMES HARVEST

STEVE MARRIOTTS
ALL STARS
BAKER GURVITZ
ARMY

JACKTHELAD

JOHN MILES

SNAFU

BAD COMPANY NAZARETH DONNIE LANE'S

RONNIE LANE'S SLIM CHANCE PRETTY THINGS BE-BOP DELUXE

BE-BOP DELUXE CHARLIE

Advance Tickets
Great British Music Festival Box Office
Olympia, Kensington, London W.14
tel. 01 931 9308/9
Cheques & P.O.'s made payable to

Mel Bush Organisation Limited

TICKETS £3.50 EACHDAY

No reserved seating

Agents

All branches Virgin Records tel. 01/727 8070

London Theatre Bookings tel. 01/439 3371

Hime & Addison Manchester tel. 061/834 8019

Glasgow Apollo tel. 041/332 6055

All Box Offices open Sat. 22 Nov. 10 a.m.

Peter Grainey Graphics, Bournemouth

News Desk

Edited: Derek Johnson

CAT: TWO EXTRAIN

next month, at the tail end of his previously-reported minitour, and as the direct result of the overwhelming ticket demand for his shows. His four gigs already announced include an appearance at London Royal Albert Hall on December 15, but he will now additionally be playing the Hammersmith Odeon on Friday and Saturday, December

Tickets go on sale at the box-office and through the usual agencies tomorrow (Friday) priced £3.50, £3, £2.50 and £2. Meanwhile, Stevens' new album "Numbers" is being rushed out by Island this

... and a new Queen gig

 QUEEN will also be playing another London concert. They are already set for three week of concerts at are already set for three successive days at Hammersmith

November 29 and 30 and December 1 — but all are now completely sold out. Consequently, they have added a fourth date at the same venue — on Tuesday, December 2. Tickets are on sale now.

has scrapped plans to stage a week of concerts at Hammersmith immediately after Christmas. He originally announced the project six weeks ago, but it was learned this week that he has abandoned the idea that he has abandoned the idea, because it has proved impossible to organise the event in the limited time available.

HOPES FADING

THE CHANCES of Paul Simon filming a TV special, during his British visit next month, are fast diminishing. NME understands that the difficulty arises from Simon being unable to use his own American musicians on British television, and his reluctance to appear without them. There is a possibility that he will agree to be interviewed in BBC-I's "Parkinson", but it is unlikely that he will perform — unless he has a change of heart and agrees to work as a soloist, accompanying himself on guitar.

Meanwhile, reports that Art Garfunkel will join Simon in his London Palladium concerts on December 11, 12 and 13, also appear to have little foundation.

NME believes that if Garfunkel does appear on stage with Simon, it would be in either or both of his provincial concerts—Manchester Palace (December 8) and Birmingham Hippodrome (9)—and not in London.

However, it is stressed that this is only a possibility, and promoter Tito Burns said on Monday that he had no knowledge of such a project. But Burns revealed that he is hoping to set up a string of Garfunkel solo concerts in Britain next year.

Taj Mahal

U.K. visit

AMERICAN blues guitarist Tai Mahal is coming to Britain in the spring, together with his full band, to play a London season followed by concert and college dates around the country. It was announced this week that he is to headline at London Ronnie Scott's Club for two weeks commencing May 3. And Ronnie Scott's agency division is at present lining up a subsequent string of gigs throughout the country.

Lane on the road

RONNIE LANE and Slim Chance commence a major European tour today (Thursday) covering concerts in Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark. And they are at present being lined up for an extensive British tour, which will open in January to aid promotion of their new album. Dates and venues will be announced shortly. With Lane on guitar and vocals, the current line-up of Slim Chance is Charlie Hart (keyboards and fiddle), Colin Davey (drums). Steve Simpson (guitar) and Brian Belshaw (bass). As reported last week, they appear in the music festival at London Olympia on January 2.

• JOHN MARTYN'S dates for the o JOHN MARTYN'S dates for the remainder of this month are London Enfield Middlesex Polytechnic (tonight, Thursday), Coventry Lanchester Polytechnic (Friday), Sheffield University (Saturday), Leeds University (26), Dundee University (27), Stirling University (28), Glasgow Strathclyde University (29) and Newcastle City Hall (30). Support act is Hedgehog Pie.

 BUDGIE have added three more e BUDGIE have added three more dates to their previously-reported pre-Christmas tour. They are Nottingham Playhouse (November 30), Brighton Top Rank (December 3) and Croydon Greyhound (7), and Hobo will support on all gigs. The band tour Europe and America during the first part of 1976, but another British concert tour is planned for the spring.

THE REAL THING, currently touring America with David Essex, begin a British one nighter tour next month, Gigs so far set for the Liverpool soul trio are Leicester Clare Hall (December 6), Birmingham Barbarel-la's (12), London Hammersmith Pa-lais (16), Northampton Salon (17), Norwich No. 1 Club (18) and Retford Porterhouse (20).

• NAZARETH have added another date to their British concert tour, which opens tonight (Thursday). The tour now closes at Middlesbrough Town Hall, on Saturday, December

• SPIDERS FROM MARS have cancelled two of the gigs in their short comeback tour next month, but have replaced them with two others. Manchester University (December 6) and Lanchester Polytechnic (10) are scrapped, while Birmingham Barb-barella's (9), Edinburgh Napier College (11) and Glasgow Strathclyde University (12).

GREENSLADE have expanded into a five-piece. Singer Bryan Evans, who was with the cast of "Hair" and "Joseph And The Amazing Techniccolor Dreamcoat", has joined them in time for recording sessions for their new album. Until now keyboards man Dave Lawson has been handling lead vocals, but the introduction of a new member will give them greater flexibility and range SUPERTRAMP are the subject of a unique venture by A & M Records. A 20-minute selection of tracks from their new album "Crisis? What Crisis?" is being previewed, with an introduction by Kenny Everett, in 720 cinemas throughout the country. The campaign is running all this week in ABC. Studio and Classic cinemas. ABC, Studio and Classic cinemas.

JOHN MARTYN KIKI DEE BRYN HAWORTH

• CLANCY begin a five-week Brit ish concert, college and club tour at Leicester University on January 16 to promote their second Warner Broth-ers album "Working Together", for release in early February. They are also set for their U.S. debut in April, probably as support act on a coastprobably as support act on a coast-to-coast tour by Little Feat.

• TRAPEZE are to resume British gigs early next year, by way of a concert and college tour starting in late January, to tie in with the release of their new Warner Bros. album titled simply "Trapeze". Meanwhile, three members of the outfit — Mel Galley, Dave Holland and Terry Rowley — are currently playing on the British tour by Justin Hayward and John-Lodge's Bluejays.

• THE BANDS OF Syd Lawrence, Kenny Ball and Humphrey Lyttelton, plus the New Geraldo Orchestra, are showcased in a "Big Band Bash" to be staged at the London Palladium on Wednesday, December 10. Promoters are Tito Burns and Louis Benjamira

o JOHN CALE'S concert in Croydon on November 30 has been moved from the Greyhound to the considerably larger Fairfield Hall. And his previously-announced gig at Liverpool Mountford Hall is now cancelled.

BRYN HAWORTH has added another date to his current tour — it is at Weybridge College of Food this

SIX DAYS IN EARLY MAY

Bowie booked for Wembley expected to return to Britain in the spring to play his first dates in this country for almost three years. It is understood that a block booking has been made for him to appear for six successive days at the massive Wembley Empire Pool from Saturday, May 1, to Thursday, May 6, inclusive.

This engagement is, of course, still tentative — and it should be stressed that no tickets are yet on sale, nor are they likely to be for some considerable time. There is always the chance that plans for Bowie's visit will have to be revised closer to the time, particularly if he signs to make another film which would conflict with his proposed May

What is certain is that he wants to perform again in Britain some time next spring, and a spokesman for his record company confirmed that discussions are at present taking place with this in view— although he insisted that he was unaware of any precise dates having yet been set. And NME's enquiries took us to a NME's enquiries took us to a leading London promotion company, who admitted that they would "probably be involved" in presenting Bowie at Wembley.

Bowie's last concert in Britain was at London Earls Court in June, 1973, at the end of his "farewell tour" of this country. He has not performed live in the States for some time. live in the States for some time, as he has been busy working on his debut movie "The Man up his own production company. So it is impossible to assess, at this stage, what type of show he would present at Wembley.

A source close to Bowie felt that he would probably stick to the soul approach that characterised his last U.S. tour. "But knowing David, he's more than likely to come up with something completely new for Britain", he added.

In any event, the Wembley season at the beginning of May looks promising. And it is thought that he will strive to keep to these dates if humanly possible, because he is known to favour Wembley for his British comeback, and the venue is now virtually fully booked for the whole of the spring — thus making a date switch impossible. So make a note of May 1-6 in your diary!

Dylan plans dates here

DYLAN understood to be considering bringing his "Rolling Thunder Revue" to Britain next year, possibly as soon as January — reports Lisa Robinson from New York. Although his projected visit is still unconfirmed and subject to change, he has already spoken to Mick Ronson and asked him to stay on as his guitarist, with a view to undertaking a British tour in the fairly near future.

There is, however, some confusion as to when the rumoured tour would take place. Some sources close to Dylan feel that he would not be uncertainty arises from the fact that Dylan's current American tour ends immediately before Christmas, and it is not yet clear if the revue will continue to roll around the States after the holidays.

Dylan has been quoted as saying that he would like to open a British tour in Bath, apparently for no other reason than that he admires the architecture there! It is also on the cards that any British itinerary would deliberately avoid Central London, just as his current U.S. tour has circumvented New York although at presstime, there was although at presstime, there was speculation that he would slot in a last-minute concert in the Greenwich Village area. According to Lisa Robinson, provincial cities such as Liverpool, Manchester and Birmingham would be likely places for Dylan to visit if and when he does come to Britain.

Saturday (22). But his scheduled gig at Leeds Polytechnic on November 27 has been cancelled. And his date at Cambridge Lady Mitchell Hall is moved from November 28 to De-cember 1.

• GEORGE BENSON, who entered the NME Chart last week with his single "Supership", has been booked together with his band — for a three-week season at London Ronnie Scott's Club commencing March 1. A full British tour will follow this eng-

• THE DRIFTERS are the opening attraction next Wednesday (26) at a new London theatre-restaurant called Nero's, which was formerly the BBC studio at the Camden Theatre. Also set are Sweet Sensation (November 27-30), Buddy Greco (December 1 week), Fortunes (7 week), Flirtations (15 week), Karlins (21 week) and Johnny Johnson and the Bandwagon (28 week)

• KIKI DEE is being lined up for a British tour early in the New Year, a spokesman for Rocket Records said this week. Exact timing of the tour will be dependent upon the release date of her new album.

 DEE CLARK is expected to arrive in Britain at the end of this month for a two-week one-nighter tour, to tie in with the current success of his single

FASTBACK MUSIC - BY POST

	Dan/18 Songs		Joni Mitchell/Complete Vol. 224.2
	sterdays		Engles/On the Border£2.9
Jimi He	ndrix/40 Greatest Hits	£3.50	Shadows/20 Big Hits£1.7
	Fantastic/Elton John		Best of Shedows 85
	& Mars/Wings		Rock Guitar Tutor with Record£1.0
	Greatest Hits		Basa Guitar with Record£1.0
Tarrico/	Aqualung, Stand Up, Benefi		How to Improvise Lead Guitar
	ohn's Greatest Hits		Rock Guitar (Self Tutor)
	Quo/42 Songs		Rhythm Guiter (Self Tutor)£1.9
BOD DY	lan/Blood on the Tracks	£2.00	Lead Guitar Tutor with Record£2.5
R. Wak	eman/King Arthur	£1.98	Rock Bass Tutor with Record£2.5
Engles/	21 Songs	23.30	Bottleneck Gtr. Tutor with Record£2.2
Queen	Sheer Heart Attack	21.00	7488 Guitar Chords£2.5
David 6	lowis/Diamond Dogs	£2.75	Bolan/Warlock of Love 95
Songs	of David Bowle	£2.75	Bolan Lyric Book 95
	lark Side of the Moon		Pink Floyd Album
	u Hoople/1€ Songs		T. Rex Songbook £1.2
	Classical Gtr. Arrangement		T Rex/Zinc Alloy
			T. Kex/Slider 85
Paul M	oCertney/Red Rose-Band o	n Run £2.50	Jim Webb/20 Songs£1.9
Clanton	Ocean Blvd and others		Stones Big Hits Vol. 2 95
	the Dominoes/Leyle		Bownu/Lyrica & Pirutus
	seenge		Free Complete
NME B	ook of Rock	75p	Neil Young Complete Vol. 1£5.0
Creem	Complete	£2.75	Dylen/Writings & Drawings £2.5
	en/Journey to Centre		Scott Joplin Plano Rags
Elton/Y	ellow Brick Road	£2.35	Stones Biography
Beatles	Complete (guitar)	£3.75	Cat/Tesser & Firecat
Beatles	Complete (plano)	£3.75	New Songs of George, Paul and Ringo £2.5
Lindista	rne/10 Songs	85р	Tow 20 show more in stack—26s each
Rod St	ewart Complete	£1.75	Orders aget by return past, Orders £1 and under add 15p pt
	lusic 19 Songs		Between £1 and £2-25p; between £2 and £3-36p; on
	ne Ash/15 Songs		(3-60)
	tchell/Complete Vol. 1		Send Cheque/P.O. plus 10p postage per book to
Joni M			Sand Cheque/P.O. plus 10p postage per book to

● Continued from page 27

times we can't control ourselves. Once me and Brian and Keith were in Ger-many and these cops outside the dressingroom were hassling the kids and we got so annoyed with them that we poured out half a bottle of whiskey and pissed into it, and offered them the bot-tle. 'Here,' we said, 'Have one on us', and they said, 'Thanks man'... raised the bottle and drank it."

MICK ON AGE

YOU KNOW I tned to explain this to someone the other Jagger says And he couldn't understand. I said that rock'nroll exists on all these different levels of music, and music exists on different

"I've been playin' rock'n'roll and blues, and I started playin' blues when I was very young . . . 14 . . . and that was mature music compared to 'Venus in Blue Jeans' which was the hit at the time I started. The band I was in at the time was playin' music written by

"So this guy says to me the other day, 'You're over 30, how can you write rock and roll songs?' But I started off by singing songs written by 40, 50 . . . 60-year-old men . . 'You Gotta Move' was written by a 70 year old man. I mean, what does it matter.

"The thing about rock'n'roll is — I never wanted to be a rock'n'roll is to.

never wanted to be a rock'n'roll star. I've never been into singing teenage lyrics, and when I started I did these songs written by old people. Perhaps that's why people were sometimes shocked by my lyrics . . . well, not shocked, but interested."

EGO: THE RICHARD THEORY

PERSONALLY, I don't like to do long solos," Keith says "I don't like to meander on and on. I just like to do it short and sweet. "No, it's not lack of ego ... everybody's got an ego. It's a matter of whether you let it run away.

"Everybody needs an ego, I mean just to put yourself up on that stage you've got to have an enormous ego. It's just what you do with it in your spare time. You can bloat it, or put it to sleep, forget about it, or just live with it

"Unfortunately with a lot of people it takes over ... you can see it a thou-sand times, especially in this business.

"You can watch somebody who is a good guitar player, or a good piano player or singer who will believe their own press clippings in six months. And that's massaging the ego, feeding it, stuffing it."

Jagger: "I try to be in control of my ego because I've seen myself go off the rails on tours. Just my ego ... I start ordering people around, I get really ... difficult to deal with. I'm not moody on tours, I'd just like to be on my own, sometimes. Just for like an hour a day, apart from the time I'm asleep. And when you're asleep you're not always on your own . . .

STRANGE DAYS IN AMERICA

HE DOCTORS who check Mick's throat, or give the occasional B12 vitamin shot, sound like they've stepped out of a Marx Brothers movie: Hyman Stock-fish, R. F. Greathouse etc.

Talking about headaches, and pills,
Mick says: "Codeine is so ridiculous in this country. They act like it's such a big deal, codeine. Then, there are these little pills for diarrhoea that have a touch of opium in them ... like if you took maybe 300 of them you might get a buzz. So, if you want them and the doctor is out, you can't get 'em. It's easier to score heroin in this country..."

this country . . ."

"They sell you guns here. My first experience with that was with Keith in Arizona and we wanted to buy a gun. Just to see if we could. So we got two guns, and then went into a bar for a drink, and they asked us for I.D. (proof of identity). And here we had these two guns that we'd just bought wrapped up on the bar ... We didn't need any I.D. for the guns."

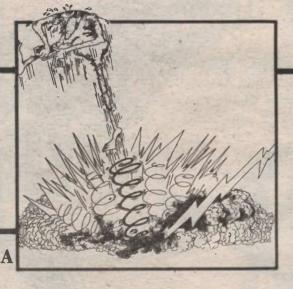

STONETTE SPEAKS OUT

Buffalo New York State. Eight-year-old Serafina Watts asks what I'm planning to do after the tour. Write about it, I suppose. "Be sure to-mention me," she instructs briskly, "I'm very important."

IN PRAISE OF ETERNAL ADOLESCENCE

THERE IS a perpetual adolescent influence," Jagger said during the tour, "because what I was doing when I was 18 I'm doing now. I mean the room I had at the Olympic Hotel in Scattle is the same Olympic Hotel in Seattle is the same room I would have had in 1964. I

Illustrations TONY BENYON

RIGHT, HERE'S your starter for 9.965735 recurring.

What's the connexion between all the following Rolling Stones records:

Come On, I Wanna Be Your Man, Not Fade Away, Carol, It's All Over Now, Little Red Rooster, Time Is On My Side, The Last Time, (I Can't Get No) Satisfac-tion, Get Off Of My Cloud, 19th Nervous Breakdown, As Tears Go By, Under My Thumb, Lady Jane, Out Of Time, Paint It Black, Have You Seen Your Mother Baby (Standing

CL 15836

In The Shadow), Let's Spend The Night Together, Ruby Tues-day, Yesterday's Papers, We Love You, She's A Rainbow, Jumpin' Jack Flash, Honky Tonk Women, Sympathy For The Devil, Street Fightin' Man, Midnight Rambler, Gimme Shelt-

Got it? That's right — they're all on the new Rolling Stones compilation from Dec-ca, "Rolled Gold" — the one which was reviewed last week by Mick Farren in moderately ecstatic terms (Farren even opined heretically that it was so good, it might even be worth tossing away your scratched 45s for...)

So you'd liked to score a copy? Well, NME and Decca Records, in bounteous conjunction, are offering 100 of these albums as prizes in our new competition. All you have to do to win one Opunters, is to study the drawings opposite and say which of the titles listed above — i.e. the ones on the album - they are illustrating.

It's easy, it's fun, and it could be profitable. And to give you a push in the right direction we'll give you a little example the small cartoon on the right illustrates "(I Can't Get No) Satisfaction". Get the idea? However, that one's not part of the competition — it's the

00 Stones classics

other seven you've got to solve to make you're dreams come

HOW TO ENTER

AS DESCRIBED above, decide which Stones song title is depicted by each of the seven illustrations on this page and write your answers opposite the appropriate letter on the form below. Complete the coupon with your full name and address then post it in a sealed envelope to the following address: following address:

NME/Stones Competition. 136 Long Acre, London WC2.E9QP. Closing date is 3rd Dec.

The competition is open to all readers living in Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Channel Islands and the Isle of Man other than employees (and their families) of IPC Magazines Ltd., and the printers of NME.

The albums will be awarded for the first 100 correct entries checked after the closing date.

Winners will be announced in the earliest possible issue of NME and one Stones album will be despatched to each winner as soon as possible after-

The editor's decision is final.

(0) 1/2/3 1 E (C ()

Now in Town

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 20——OXFORD, POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY FRIDAY NOVEMBER 21--NEWCASTLE, THE MAYFAIR SATURDAY NOVEMBER 22-

LONDON, HAMMERSMITH ODEON TUESDAY NOVEMBER 25-OLD GREY WHISTLE TEST

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 26--PLYMOUTH, PLYMOUTH FIESTA FRIDAY NOVEMBER 28-COVENTRY, LANCHESTER POLY

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 29--MANCHESTER, SALFORD UNIVERSITY SUNDAY NOVEMBER 30--BIRMINGHAM, BARBARELLAS

Their new single

FROM THE ALBUM BANKRUPT E-ST 11397

FREE ENTRY COUPON

Please post to:

WRH

NME/STONES COMPETITION

	136 Long Acre, London WC2E 9QP.
My answer	rs to the seven illustrations are:
Title A
Title B
Title C
Title D
Title E	•••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••
Title F
Title G
NAME (Mr./Ms.)
ADDRE	ess

mean it wasn't any grander, it was the same room. And I'm doing the same things, slightly different of course. Instead of travelling on commercial planes we've got our own, but it's still

"And my responsibilities are much less than the responsibility of someone who used to come to our concerts when they were 17. Now those people have gotten married and have five children and two cars and three mortdren and two cars and three mortgages. I'm married and have children and all that, but I don't worry about it because I'm doing what I did before ... when I was an adolescent.

"So, one half of me is still totally

"So, one half of me is still totally adolescent. I only discovered this really by looking at other people in rock and roll: it perpetuates your adolescence, for good or bad."
"I don't know if it's good or bad, because i can't evaluate it. It feels real nice and I don't give a shit . . . I don't feel responsibilities other people feel.
Obviously, bein' in a rock band makes you more adolescent than if you workyou more adolescent than if you work ed in an IBM company and really had to worry about your future. I don't worry about the future. I'm living out my adolescent dreams perpetually.

ON TOUR DECEMBER

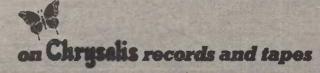

Derek Block by arrangement with Quarry Productions.

13th Apollo Centre. Glasgow 15th Town Hall. Birmingham 16th Free Trade Hall. Manchester 18th City Hall. Newcastle 19th City Hall. Sheffield 23rd Royal Albert Hall. London

INSTORE ALBUM LISTENING

"AGAINST THE GRAIN"

HMV Manchester HMV Oxford Street, London HMV Glasgow HMV Edinburgh All Bruce's Records Stores Scotland Listen Records Glasgow Callers Newcastle Paperchase Manchester Harlequin 201, Oxford Street, London Harlequin Cambridge Harlequin Coventry Street, London Robins Norwich Nems Great Charlotte Street, Liverpool All Virgin Record Stores

Rory Gallagher's best studio album so far.' Geoff Barton SOUNDS

MAL WALDRON is a dude. He's dressed in black, black velvet collarless shirt, black velvet strides with those kinda Mexican milkbottle tops ascending the flair, silver medallion belt riding low. He's got a red bandana around his neck, white streak in his hair like Cotton Hawes.

He looks like an outa town torpedo on a contract.

We sit in the ICA cafeteria watching the health food. Mal outfaces the erogonomic buns, lights up another cigarette. He's a major smoker. A bearded cat coughs on his carrot but can't get his glare through the smoke. Much denser and he's gonna be chomping on the ceramic crocks. some roughage, serve up the carrot formal at the oth-

The Smokin' Stranger has been in town an hour, blown in from Munich to play a concert here tonight with John Stevens and Jeff Clyne. He sits there quietly, stroking the trail dust off n his dudes.

"I'm gonna love you," says John. "Only give up smoking today, inni?"

Mal laughs. "Mal don't want to get too healthy," I tell him. "Mal, let's go and talk.

We go through the music room. A piano tuner is plinking inside the lid. Jeff Clyne is upholstering his bass, running the zip around the belly of the bull fiddle.

"What I can't understand," says Jeff," is why I always get a hard-on when I play at the ICA. Soon as I get through the

"You got any arco passages tonight? Maybe its all this Cul-

We find a little room up-stairs: floor polish, paint tins, dismantled switches.

Mal lit up and we got it on.

He was born in New York fifty years ago, but "didn't live in the city for too long because my parents moved out to Long - because there were so many robbenes in Harlem at that time, It was just ridiculous. Second storey men running round. They'd come in through the fire escape on the second floor and rob all the apartments from there up."

floor and rob all the apartments from there up."

Mal started musically back in the hard-bop 50s. "Jackie McLean was really my first helper to get a record date for Prestige. He got me on his date, they liked me so they used me in the rhythm section for many other dates. Me, Art Taylor and Doug Watkins were like the house rhythm section, and I house rhythm section, and I wrote a lot of those dates two trumpets and two altos, four altos, Phil and Quill, that kinda stuff. Donald Byrd, Gene Ammons." I remember that Ammons." I remember that period well, the four ton Esquires with the Ira Gitler sleeve notes and the Peck covers. "Who were your piano influences?" I asked him.

Well. Bud Powell was one of the first ones, and then after him came Monk. Duke Ellingwas always there. Also some Art Tatum too, but I could never keep up with him, his technique was too fantas-tic." In fact, Mal Waldron doesn't sound much like any of - or anybody else. He's a funky, rock-steady, dark player, a permutator of vamps. Horace Silver? Dollar Brand? Yes, nearer to that, but his own

So how did he get on as Charlie Mingus's piano player?

Was that a happy band?

Mal laughed. "It wasn't a happy band, but it was a good band. He's a very stormy personality. He kept changing personnel all the time. I think Dan-nie Richmond and I were the only two who stayed with him. He's had so many sidemen — Jackie McLean, Ernie Henry, J. R. Monterose, George Barrow, Britt Woodman."

"How did a record like "Pithecanthropus Erectus" hap-

"Well, not too much of it just happened in the studio because we'd been playing these tunes for many months in fact, al most a year before this record, and the ideas were jelled. The charts, the heads, were all worked out by Mingus. Some of the parts in the middle he taught us by rote which he be lieved in then because he said if he just wrote his music down we'd read it and forget it. He was right too. We had quite a lot of freedom. In fact, he'll go with you if he feels you're sincere about what you're doing. He'll let you go. He likes that. There were quite a few musi-cians didn't feel that way and wanted to stay with what they had, not change it — and th got into hassles with Mingus. - and they

"The hollered instructions never bothered me. It didn't affect me at all because I don't work out of this ego bag where you're on stage performing and nobody's supposed to make you look as if you played a wrong note. That's riduculous. You do play wrong notes, and the public should be aware of it. A lotta musicians have false egos where everything's gotta go well or they get uptight."

Mal is a pro. A lot of the best Sought him out: Max Roach, Mingus, Dolphy. Teddy Charles, Billie Holiday. He blew piano behind Lady for two and a half years, towards the end of her life. "Did you ever feel you were covering for a failing voice?" I

Mal had filled one polish lid with butts, switched to a paint tin. "No. If I did, I did it unconsciously. I wasn't really aware that her voice wasn't making it. She always sounded good to me. She could really really touch you night after night with the same numbers. She'd put an emphasis on different words in the same song and it would affect you differently. Send chills through your body. "She taught me the use of shadings to fit the words of a song. I'd have to learn the words before I played a ballad, and that really helps you with your solo ideas. Everything you know about a tune — not just melody changes and rhythm helps you to interpret. And I learned about space from her the use of space."

"And Dolphy?" I said.
"What did you learn from him?"

"He was very very inspiring.
He moved me in different directions, you know. I wasn't standing still, but I wasn't into the New Thing as much as he was. and he helped to open it up for me. He and Booker Little and Ed Blackwell."

Which took us back to the Five Spot engagement. Volume I of the live recordings for Prestige captures the very best of Dolphy and Booker: 'The Pro-phet', 'Fire Waltz', 'Bee Vamp'. "We weren't really aware that we were making anything to last. We knew they were mak-ing a record, but that wasn't thought of as that world-shat-tering. You just made a date to pay the rent, you know. Stuff like that. We were just playing a

Why did you quit America for Europe?
"I split because the problems

Pianist gasses twenty before concert

OK, so Man with Fingers can probably do without Lungs but MAL WALDRON really should cut down. By BRIAN CASE.

in America became unbearable for me. Because I'm black, and because I'm an artist too. I wanted to play my own type of music and I didn't want to compromise to make a living. I couldn't do anything about the colour of my skin, so that was a dead end there. So I came to Europe. I'd been to Paris and Milan once with Billie Holiday back in 1958, and I liked what I saw. I liked the feeling. Here you can really live - you don't just exist as in America. Its a day to day life in America you don't know if you're gonna live to see the next day. I go back there once every year for about two weeks just to see if it's changed at all, and it hasn't, its gotten worse. You can't walk through the streets without watching behind you."

"Is there any truth in the allegation that New York clubs are controlled by the Mafia?" I asked. "Don't answer it it's gonna mean your brains in your lap, Mal."

"It was true when I was in New York City — I dont know about today. The Musicians' Union was as bad. The whole concept of America is based on material achievements. Whatev er people have, that's the basis of their acceptance in society. If you have a lot, then you're beautiful. Those that have, get more; those that don't have, get

"That's one of Lady's lyrics that you've remembered" said.

Mal laughed. "'God Bless the Child'".

"That's got his own'".
"Right."

"What do you think of jazz in Europe?" I asked him.

"Good. I have at least two musicians in every country I can really play with. And the club owners are much more civilised. I can earn a living just in Germany because there are jazz clubs in every major city, and Rundfunk and the festivals."

"Don't you miss your old US buddies?"

"No. Every day one comes through Munich. In fact, the whole Thad Jones-Mel Lewis band is in Munich at this minute. I ran into Pepper Adams the other day walking down Munich Street."

Mal is a fine composer, his tunes often turning up on other people's sessions. "Even when I started, my writing was ahead of my playing. I studied theory and harmony in college, so I was always interested in composition before I had the jazz feeling to play. My teacher taught me the use of economy — how to work on a melody — how to work on a melody and really drain every drop out of the given notes before moving onto something new. Play it backwards, play it sideways. invert it, get all the juice outa one theme — and develop it. I've always beleived in that."

Turn it every way but loose. The same dogged persistence characterizes his piano. He bounces a phrase off his kneecaps, onto his forehead, catches it on the scoop of instep like a footballer in training. His momentum wells up, rolls. Here and there, come hints of new departures, the oblique figure that runs clear off the keyboard. He sells very well as a solo artist, sells more than any other jazz player in Japan, spends two hours after every concert there just signing autographs.

"I'd like to play freer than I am doing now. My own development is very slow and gradual. I'm a very gradually changing person—it isn't overnight. My personality is to be thorough. I can't change but so much, but I will try and change in the musical context. I feel that jazz is a mirror on the world, you know. As such, it must change because the world is changing around us."

"Ron Atkins wrote somewhere that your economic approach made him want to dance, whereas Terry Riley's sent him to sleep," I told him.

"Wow!" Mal broke up. "I'd like to shake that man's hand."

"Do you see the electric piano as part of the world's change?"

"Well, I experimented with it for about two years and then I gave it up because it doesn't really fit my personality too well. Part of my approach to the piano comes from my touch, and the electric piano doesn't respond to your touch as much. It all comes out the same intensity whatever part you strike. The extent of variation is much smaller."

Mal took a giant drag on his cigarette.

"I can hardly tell the electric piano players apart now. I have to go to the liner notes to see if it's Herbie Hancock or Chick Corea."

"I'll smoke to that," I said.

SELECTED DISCOGRA-PHY:

Charlie Mingus ... Pithecanthropus Erectus ... Atlantic 1237

Max Roach ... Percussion Bitter Sweet ... Impulse A8 Eric Dolphy At The 'Five Spot'

Eric Dolphy At The 'Five Spot'
... Prestige 7611'
Mal Waldron ... The Quest ...
Prestige 7579

Mai Waldron ... Black Glory ... Enja 2004

Mal Waldron ... Up Popped The Devil ... Enja 2034

Mal Waldron ... Free at Last ... ECM 1001

Mal Waldron ... The Call ... JAPO 60001

3 of the greats now on Sunset-£1.4

THE GROUNDHOGS:
THANK CHRIST FOR THE BOMB
SLS 50376, Cassette TCT 50376

The band's first hit album and amongst their most successful. With it, the band moved away from their original blues style and established the talents of Tony McPhee as a writer and guitar hero. The first Groundhogs material to be made available on Sunset.

CANNED HEAT: COOKBOOK SLS 50377. Cassette TCT 50377

The California Blues Band had a worldwide hit with 'On The Road Again'. 'Goin' Up Country' was featured in the movie 'Woodstock', besides being the band's best known album track. Both are featured on this album.

BONZO DOG BAND: KEYNSHAM SLS 50375, Cassette TCT 50375

Keynsham is an album for today. A fun packed bumper bundle which includes 'You Done My Brain In' and 'Mr Slater's Parrott' and also preserves the immortal tones of Horace Bachelor for posterity.

* cassette EI-99(r.p.) SUNSET 8

His first solo album

An epic book £3.95

After his renowned appearances on record album covers for bands like Yes, Greenslade, Uriah Heep, Budgie and Osibisa, Roger Dean has put it all together in a magnificent colour book. The purpose of this book is both to catalogue the development of his work to date and to illuminate his role as creator rather than painter, illustrator, fabricator or artist.

Views is introduced by Donald Lehmkuhl with a text written by Dominy Hamilton and Carla Capalbo-people close to Roger Dean's world.

Views takes all of 160 pages and over 400 illustrations to tell the story. The format, twelve by twelve inches, and the sheer acreage of full colour reproduction mark it as a unique publishing achievement.

Everyone enjoyed producing Views—we wish you the same enjoyment.

BIG O PUBLISHING LTD

219 Eversleigh Road London SW11 5UY 01-228 3392

Views is obtainable at all good record shops, book shops, department stores and poster shops, where you can also find some twenty different colour posters by Roger Dean.

Roger Dean's book and posters are available by mail order from Cauldron Promotions. Please add 55p postage and packing for the book, (Overseas 85p). You can also send 20p for a colour brochure on Views and a poster catalogue.

To: CAULDRON PROMOTIONS (Dept. NME) 47 Landseer Road London N19 4JG.

BLOCK CAPITALS PLEASE

Please rush copies of VIEWS @ £4.50 (£4.80 Overseas) And/or poster catalogue and VIEWS brochure @ 20p.....

I enclose £: including Postage & Packing.

Look out for... Andy Fraser's amazing new album 'IN YOUR EYES' N D Y FRASER Seeing is believing... John Tully for よしなにいけ Productions presents The Andy Fraser Band on tour: November Saturday 15 Sunday 16 Liverpool Stadium Preston Guildhall Victoria Hall, Hanley Monday 17 Thursday 20 Friday 21 Bradford University Manchester University Chancellor Hall, Chelmsford Saturday 22 Sunday 23 Aberystwyth University Tuesday 25 Barbarellas, Birmingham Hull University Kings Hall, Derby Leeds Polytechnic Wigan Casino Wednesday 26 Thursday 27 Friday 28 Saturday 29 Sunday 30 Nottingham Albany Ballroom December Guildford, Civic Hall Liverpool University Dunstable Civic Hall Cardiff, Top Rank East Anglia University Exeter University Tuesday 2 Wednesday 3 Thursday 4

Information

EDITED BY FRED DELLAR

I KNOW you're a Leo Kottke fan, so perhaps you can tell me what make of guitar Kottke uses. — G. BUCHAN, Sowerby Bridge, Nr. Halifax, Yorks.

In recent years, Leo's been using acoustics made by a elderly Yugoslavian named, wait for it, Bozo Podunavac, who migrated to the States some 10 years ago. According to Kottke, who's got a story for every occasion, Bozo has developed an allergy for sawdust and glue and gets so sick that after completing each guitar, he has to stay in bed for three weeks in order to recover! Kottke also uses an electric instrument from time to time but says it's only a cheap imitation copy of a Fender Telecaster.

COULD YOU please supply some information on Ral "You Don't Know What Yu've Got" Donner, as we don't seem to have heard anything of him for a number of years. Has he any elpees available? — MI-CHAEL SARGENT, Blackpool, Lancs.

Ral Donner is a Chi kid who, back in the early 60's, had a number of hits with songs like "You Don't Know What You've Got", "She's Everything" and "The Girl Of My Best Friend". Basically a Preserve of the Shew Soundalike Donner recordley soundalike, Donner record-ed for a whole host of labels including Scottie, Gone, Tau, Reprise, Fontana, Red Bird, Rising Sons and M.J. waxing what is often thought to be his best disc, "I Got Burned", for Reprise in '63, though Donner expert Barry Lazell, who sup-plied much of the information printed here, claims that "Poi-son Ivy League", a 1965 rocker for Fontana, was even stronger. Though little has been heard of Ral since 1968, L.A. rock writer Art Fein recently wrote me that Donner has been involved on the Chi disco scene but has last got a new single on the market. Called "Dear Godfather", it's on the Chicago Fire label and Fein describes it as "A slushy Italian ballad." The only elpee Donner ever made was "Taking Care Of Business" (Gone LP-5012) though he appears on countless compila-tions, including many of Roulette's "Golden Goodies" series. Half a dozen Donner singles were issued in Britain at various times but the only recently released album containing a track by the singer is which includes "You Don't Know What Yu've Got". A 25-track tape-only compilation of that title is available on Pye ZCP 61022, an issue that also contains Ral's "Girl Of My Rest Friend"

WHEN I was at Thin Lizzy's New Vic gig. I noticed a lot of the roadies and people in the crowd wore T-shirts decorated with a picture similar to that appearing on the front of the band's recent album. Could you tell me where I could obtain one of these shirts? LIZZY FAN, Kidbrooke, London SE3. I suggest you contact Linda Allen, 2nd Floor, 52 Dean Street, London W.1 (Phone 01437 2212). When I last spoke to her, she was checking to see if the band still had such that most of them got sold on Lizzy's last jaunt around the Kottke: Elderly guitar-maker, whizz-bang guitars.

He was only a Bozo country, though a new supply will be available in time for Lynott and Co's next major British tour, which is scheduled for

COULD YOU list all the singles the Feelgoods have made. giving detail of their flipsides?

—DAVID, Finham, Coventry. • Dr. Feelgood have cut three "Roxett"/"Route 66" "Roxett"/" Route 66" (UP35760) (Rel. November 1974): "She Does It Right"/"I Don't Mind" (UP35815) January 1975): and "Back In The Night"/"I'm A Man (UP35857)

(July 1975). ARE ANY Zappa albums available in quad record form?— L. BARCLAY, Solihull, Birmingham.

WEA's CD-4 Quad catalogue lists just two Zappa items

"Overnight Sensation"
(K2-41000) and "Apostrophe"
(K2-59201). You can obtain your own copy of this catalogue by writing the The Marketing Department, WEA Re-cords Ltd., 69 New Oxford Street, London WCIA IDG.

I'M DOING some research on jazz films but there seems to be a lack of reference works. Are there any you can recommend? BIX HARVEY, Corby, BIX HARVEY, Corby, Northants.

• A new book, "Jazz In The Movies" by David Meaker, is to be published by St. James Press in the New Year. In the meantime, the only reference books I can think of are "The Literature Of Jazz", published by The Library Association, and the excellent "Jazz Sur Films" by Jean-Roland Hippehmeyer; this is a Swiss publication written in French. The latter can be obtained from The Bookshop, National Film Bookshop, National Film Theatre, Belvedere Road, London SE1, or from Teresa Chilton's Bloomsbury Bookshop, 31-35, Great Ormond Street, London WC1.

SOMETIME AGO, I heard a couple of minutes from an al-bum titled "Inside". It featured a solo performer playing flute inside the Taj Mahal and I believe the cover depicted the dome of the temple. But I've got no idea who played on the record — can you supply any details? — JOHN DENTON,

• This one's real easy 'cos the album you mention happens to tist is Paul Horn and he recorded the album in April, 1968 after hearing a temple guard burst into a vocal call in order to demonstrate the remarkable ac-oustics of the temple. Horn claims: "I never heard anything so beautiful. Each tone hung suspended in space for 28 seconds and the acoustics were so perfect that you couldn't tell where his voice stopped and the echo took over."

Though there are pictures of the Taj on the inside of the sleeve, the actual cover shot is a facial close-up of Horn. The record was released in Britain in 1972 on Epic EPC 65201 and is still in the CBS catalogue, though a sequel, "Inside 2" (American Epic KE31600), never appeared here.

DIMENSIONS MEANS ALBUMS

The most comprehensive musical survey of new albums at present available on national radio

EVERY WEEKEND MORNING 1.00-3.00

FRIDAY'S DIMENSIONS — Black and Beautiful, past and present Soul and R&B

SATURDAY'S DIMENSIONS — "What's Happening" plus one featured new album of a major artist

SUNDAY'S DIMENSIONS — Start the week right — last half hour has no speech, only sounds for sleep

THAT IS THE MUSIC OF STUART HENRY EVERY WEEKEND MORNING 1.00-3.00

Available only from RADIO LUXEMBOURG 208 metres Medium Wave

TEN YEARS AGO Britain was set to become the R&B capital of the world.

Between 1962 and '67
we were visited by so many legendary characters, this little island had almost as much soul per square mile as any equivalent area in the United States

States.
And then something went

In some cases America finally got wise to the fame drain and upped the opportunities at home — and you can't argue with 'cause it was high time they recognised the talent that had previously crossed the Atlantic to find respect — but famore damaging was the disinterest of a new generation of Britons (you?) who preferred the exaggerated posturings of native imitators to the genuine article.

Not to mention the chickenshit attitude of certain promoters who quickly dropped the idea of importing the real thing when they could reap just as much from the boy next door. With the exception of Jim Simpson's Big Bear agency, and possibly a few other one-off promotions whose names escape me (oh yes, there was Prism Management's deal with the Johnny Otis show in 1973) we have been starved of R&B originators for too long.

we have been starved of R&B originators for too long.

As the latest example of lost opportunity, y'all have just missed one of the finest packages to hit Europe in many a year. Germany got 'em. So did France, Switzerland, and Spain. But no-one in England could be bothered to bring them here. Rise up, R&B fans, and make your voice well and truly heard. If you don't demonstrate that there's a wealth of prospective customers out there in the British Isles, you might never get to see the amazing talent that is likely to be visiting Europe in the next few years.

THEY CAME, and more will be coming, because of the dedicated efforts of one man—Norbert Hess. A German record collector and R&B fan who grew tired of waiting for someone else to get on the case, he went to the States, contacted all the artists he wanted to bring over, and then set about organising their appearance in Europe.

After a couple of personnel changes, they all arrived to play before capacity crowds at every venue, and yet they weren't invited to Britain. Norbert wanted to book them here, every artist on the bill was eager to climax the tour with a couple of shows here, but no one seemed prepared to risk it. Are you really not interested in seeing such a bill, or is it that British promoters have lost contact with the nublic?

There was Johnny 'Guitar' Watson — bluesman, rock 'n' roller, jazz stylist and recently a hit soul star, whose fiery fingers make a thousand better known axemen sound embarrassingly clumsy and whose showmanship spawned countless imitators. Jimi Hendrix for one, while unquestionably a mighty innovator in his own right, extended many of the tricks first developed by men like T-Bone Walker and Johnny Watson.

Screamin' Jay Hawkins

Along with Buddy Guy, another monster talent without reward, Johnny must be one of the last great R&B guitarists to have been overlooked by mass audiences. If crowd reaction is anything to go by, it won't be long before his day will come. Another overnight success after a mere 23 years of recording.

Another overnight success after a mere 23 years of recording.

And then there was Screamin' Jay Hawkins, arguably the most unique personality of the fifties, whose maccabre stage act and extraordinary records inspired, by their own admission, British extroverts like Screamin' Lord Sutch and Arthur Brown, and American master of shock tactics, Alice Cooper. It was Jay who wrote and performed the original version of "I Put A Spell On You", now acknowledged as a classic of its era; in fact a timeless piece of eccentricity that still sounds fresh 20 years later.

But as Europe has just dis covered, Jay is not only another originator, he can also call on an extensive repertoire of oldies that injected the powerful sounds of meaty jump blues into the show.

Both Johnny and Jay visited England back in the mid sixties. Legendary New Orleans key board player James Booker has never made it, and if somebody doesn't bring him over soon he probably never will. Not too old in years, but wasted by the seamier side of The Crescent City, he clings to life and sanity with drugs and an automatic response to music that brought forth a seemingly effortless display of musicianship, combining every famous New Orleans run with as many of his own invention, that delighted audiences during his short solo spot and lent sympathetic accompaniment to the other artists he backed — when he remembered to stay on stage.

Just as unknown over here, and just as impressive is the bountiful Margie Evans. With an exuberant personality as broad as her expansive frame, and a superb voice that soars from the erotic warmth of Gladys Knight to the bluespower of Big Mama Fhornton, she scored ecstatic ovations every night. In fact, on the first gig in Berlin, she stole the whole damned show from right under the stomping feet of the one big name on the package... the name on the package . . . the mighty Bo Diddley.

Bo is fairly well known by British audiences, and although he hasn't received half of the kickback that is his due, he is at least assured of a prominent place in R&B's hall of fame. But even British fans haven't seen him performing "I'm A Man" with Billy Boy Arnold on harmonica. (Whatd'ya mean "so what?" Billy Boy was the harpist in Bo's first band who played on the original recording. Together they turned the clock back to Chicago. 1955, and if that doesn't stir your imagination you might as well start digging a 6 ft pit right now).

On top of that, Bo was accompanied by Johnny Watson and no-one has ever seen that dynamic combination before.

As if the main attractions

As if the main attractions weren't mouthwatering enough, even the sidemen were supertalents. There was Gene 'Mighty Flea' Conners (forget what it says on record labels, the name is Conners). Trombonist extraordinaire, he was dubbed 'The Fastest Tongue In The West' by R&B Godfather Johnny Otis, before settling in Europe to become one of the most highly respected and busiest slide pumpers this side of the Atlantic. Equally at home on anything from trad jazz through R&B to modern styles, he was playing his 27th festival in one year and still sounding inventive.

On sax was another old bud dy of Johnny Otis; indeed, the man who encouraged him.

Preston Love. He played with Lloyd Hunter. Count Basic, and Lucky Millinder back in the 40's, led his own swing and R&B bands through the 50's, and became West Coast arranger for Motown in the 60's, between working with the likes of Ray Charles and Aretha Franklin.

Providing the beat was vete

SOULCHARTS

James Booker

When The Who are ten years old, it's a big deal...

When the unsung heroes of the Age-o-meter come to Europe, we don't even get to see them.

CLIFF WHITE blows his savings to catch the R&B package of the millenium in Paris, Berlin, and most points East.

ran drummer Panama Francis. A legend in R&B circles, he was to the North-East states what Earl Palmer was to the South-West, playing on so many sides that he can only remember a unique few like Jay's "Spell" (everyone involved seems to remember that reed seems to remember that re-markable session). At a conser-vative estimate Panama must have been on at least a quarter of the hits to come out of New York during the 50's and it's no idle boast when he says:
"Whenever I hear an oldies show on the radio, I hear myself in there somewhere."

Perhaps the only misfit in the whole line-up was blues singer/bassist Latif Aliomar (nee Lonesome Jimmy Lee Robinson), although it was hardly his fault. Brought in at the last minute to replace as a last minute replacement after 6 previous choices had ignored the invitation to tour, he was as bemused to find himself accompanying such diverse personalities as they were to find him behind them. However, after a few mi-sunderstandings on both sides he settled to a workable com-promise of plunking just enough to be heard, but not so much that he was immediately

BERLIN, WEDNESDAY 5th November, I am making a detailed inspection of the Air France building in the city's new airport, with promoter Norbert Hess & Mighty Flea Conners. Gene arrived by train the night before

We have just learned that the others have been delayed a further 3 hours on top of the 6 hour stopover they've already suffered in Paris, en route from America. So now we're passing the time that the control of the c the time while Gene amuses us with tales of the gigs that keep him circulating every country in

Eventually they arrive. A band of weary minstrels down but not out. Embarking in L.A., Chicago, and New York, they're suffering varying demon distaste for the airport lounge where they've just spent the best part of a day.

There's Lonesome Jimmy in black suit and stetson, the midnight cowboy on loan from a movie lot; Johnny Watson in calf length white fur coat, just one sharp dude; and Bo in a battered old windcheater, looking like he's just stepped down from the cab of a diesel truck. In fact they're all there (Screamin' Jay looking a deal more conservative than when more conservative than when he shook up Heathrow ten years ago, in turban, cape, some brandishing a skull) and it's immediately apparent that the gruelling flight has forged a common bond of friendship.

Dinner that night with Jay and his wife, Preston and Panama, turns into a grand expose of certain famous arrangers whose careers have been built on the talent of uncredited musicians. So many reputations destroyed in the time it takes to devour ribs and sauerkraut. It's the familiar observation among true professionals. Ask any experienced session men who were the real creators of the hits on which they played, and it's an evens bet that they won't nominate the guys who got the credit

Over on the next table Bo and his manager, Johnny and Billy Boy get their heads together, presumably arranging what turns out to be a historic stage combination. And scattered around the room, the rest of the cast tuck into their first decent meal in nearly 24 hours. All except James Booker. He's still somewhere over the ocean, having managed to miss the correct flight. But then even after he has physically arrived, he's still mentally over somewhere; and I don't believe he ever eats don't believe he ever eats anything anyway.

Bo Diddley . . . is still a jumberjack, still OK

The next day it's rehearsals. By now the comradeship that developed during their marathon journey has meshed so tight, the tour begins to resemble nothing less than a high-spirited mobile party. Except for Jimmy Lee, who really does seem to be a little lonesome, these are all artists who have respect for one another's indivirespect for one another's indivi-dual talent, an equal desire to slay the European audiences, and a growing conviction that they're gonna do it.

JAMES BOOKER is someth ing else. A few years ago Dr. John, another victim of New Orleans wrote and recorded a stark theme called "Twilight Zone" ('When all the clouds in the sky disappear in front of your eyes / when you hear a lullaby you once knew, now you can't recongnise / you stepped into the twilight zone / in the outer limits of a land unknown'). He was probably examining his own head when he wrote it, but I've never seen a song mirrored so accurately in life than by this man.

line green leather pants hang in folds down his legs, his over-coat wraps like a tube around him. His one eye peers out from beneath a great bush of hair, countries count the squinting round the starred patch above his other cheek, and somewhere behind that stricken facade is a major talent struggling to cope with the ri-gours of an international tour. It's hard to believe that he'd asked to be billed as 'The Black Liberace', for James Booker is unquestionably spider man from the twilight zone.

His tour de force on stage is the notorious New Orleans tale of addiction and Angola pe-nitentiary called "Junko Part-ner", and in many ways it was the most dramatic moment of the show to see this man, alone at the piano, reciting the exact story of his life. But it was also a rather chilling spectacle, at odds with everyone else who dispenses warmth, fun, and good rockin' blues in about appeal desce.

equal doses.

Oh, I haven't told you about the rehearsal. What can I say, except that these musicians are so professional they got the whole show together in less time than it takes an average group to record one song. And it's such a damned shame that audiences couldn't share my priviledged insight 'cause so much went on that was not much went on that was not revealed on stage. Screamin' Jay performing a Screamin' Jay performing a beautiful version of the old Chuch Willis classic "Don't Deceive Me"; Johnny Watson running through the catalogue of famous blues riffs; Bo Diddley proving that he's far from being the one-tune bonzo that critics claim he is . . . so much happening, that I'd have paid more to be there than at the actual concert (what am I talking tual concert (what am I talking about, I did pay to be there). Sworn to secrecy by his manager, I can't talk much about Bo except to say that he's final-ly quit Chess/Checker after 20 years and has just recorded an album for a major lable, scheduled for release in January. They hope it's gonna put him right back on top. If he uses half of the talent and personality that he displayed offstage, he can't fail.

FRIDAY THE 7th, and concert time had finally arrived. The Philharmonic was packed to overflowing, everyone was keyed up to work their asses off, and by rights it should have been a stunning debut. But no-one had warned them of the notorious Berlin "purists." Too late it comes out that there is a peculiar sect of goons in this city who attend all the major jazz and blues festivals, expecting the artists to perform to a pre-conceived set of values. In the past or so they've booed County Basie, Duke Ellington, Billy Eckstine, Sarah Vaughan and Miles Davis, to name but a famous few.

and they've all come to judge the show.

The first half goes without a hitch, in fact it's a roaring success. They love the band blasting out "Honky Tonk" with Preston taking solo; they love Gene's fruity lead on "Let The Good Times Roll" and "The Preacher"; James Booker's tortured solo spot; Billy Boy'sdown-home blues set (including his well-known "I Wish You Would"); and they're positively ecstatic about Margie Evans who sets them up with a wailing ballad, "Let's Call It Quits", before tearing 'em apart with 'Jim Dandy" and a belting version of Dandy" and a belting version of "Hound Dog" that's like a cross between Big Mama Thornton and Little Richard.

Confusion arrives with the Confusion arrives with the more flamboyant side of R&B.

Johnny Watson does O.K., especially when he's scorching the frets with "Stormy Monday Blues' and an anonymous extended blues workout, but they're not so keen on his own "Gangster Of Love" (which is in fact the highlight of his performance), and start to get realformance), and start to get really restless during his humorous routines and romping keyboard work . . . just in time for Screamin' Jay to arrive on stage and catch the full brunt of their

and catch the full brunt of their dogmatism.

The rockin' "Little Bitty Pretty One" stays their displeasure, and his mighty rendition of "Alligator Wine" quite simply shocks them into submission, but they don't want to hear this man interpreting the blues classic "Five Long Years", and "Constipation Blu-

Years", and "Constipation Blues" provokes antagonism that's only barely mollified by "I Put A Spell On You".

Even Bo has a hard time. While they're prepared to accept "I'm A Man", the rest of his act is just too much rock 'n' roll for this crowd, and although his relentless determinathough his relentless determina-tion wins through in the end, I don't think I've ever seen a more lifeless reception for the inator of contemporary R&B.

Between shows a good deal of soul-searching goes on until all is revealed about the nature

■ Continued page 53

Just when you want to look great, it's the same old story.

You know how it is.

You're meeting someone a bit special. So you take one last look in the mirror. And there it is. That spot.

Had you noticed the tell-tale signs a little sooner, you could have applied some Clearasil Cream Medication.

Don't get too excited.

Nothing actually clears a spot overnight. And Clearasil certainly doesn't claim to.

But, if applied at the first warning of a spot, it hurries to work right on the spot In three ways:

1. It softens the spot and opens it up.

2. It penetrates the pores, killing bacteria that cause infection.

3. Finally it dries up the spot and the excess oil it feeds on.

So next time a spot threatens your appearance, try Clearasil Cream Medication.

Your skin will really notice the difference.

And next time you want to look great-you probably will!

Clearasil Cream Medication. The Spot Medicine.

Emmylou Harris

THE OTHER rolling thunder revue stole into town last week.

The 'house full' signs went up for Emmylou Harris and her backing band, an assembly of the most deceptively casual, but adroitly fluent musicians ever to roll, known collectively — with a justifiable lack of modesty as The Hot Band.

The musicians were of the finest stock, probably the equals of the superb Charlie McCoy-Kenny Buttrey-David Briggs Nashville ensemble I'd seen in Paris earlier this year. Number-ed among them was the redoubtable James Burton (a.k.a. the legendary James Burton), who's gained his own reputation after playing sessions from the age of 15, and then working with Ricky Nelson and Presley.

The line-up was completed by Rodney Crowell, rhythm guitar and back-up vocals, Emroy Gordy, bass, banjo and mandolin; Hank De Vito, pedal steel, and John Ware on

As a band, they functioned beautifully. They started out hot, and warmed up as the evening progressed; just a smooth ride from start to finish. Solos were picked off in rotation; but basically they just chugged along, and concentra-ted on producing high energy, well-disciplined country-rock. The mix was perfect, too.

Musicians of this calibre don't turn out for just anybody (leastways, not for live gigs) and, stage-centre, Emmylou was just brilliant. A Star Is Born indeed. Where her one solo record — though finely honed and immaculately executed — seems finally to suffer from a lack of personality, on Alright the stage Emmylou projects herself well. It was her buoyant, goodnatured charm that dominated the proceedings — she plays guitar well and sings beautifully; throughout she was bubbling and enthusing.

The concert united country and rock audiences; though and rock audiences; though there were obviously some who'd gone along for the hoe-down atmosphere of it all, others had evidently gone to see Burton, and others just to see Emmylou explore the range of fine material that country can offer rock music.

Much of the material was familiar — a chunk from "Pieces Of The Sky", a couple from "Grievous Angel"; when the activity became really frantic, as on "Las Vegas", the vocals occasionally became really the state of ged; but there were no real cause for complaints.

cause for complaints.

Everything was perfectly executed. "Return Of The Grievous Angel" — which will be one of my selections when I'm on "Desert Island Discs" — was utterly wonderful, as was Dolly Parton's "Coat Of Many Colours".

It was, in fact, the slower

It was, in fact, the slower material that was most memorable, "Hickory Wind" for example, or "Too Far Gone". Emmylou says her main mistration in the says her main mistration in the says her main mistration in the says her main mistration. sion in life is to bring back the slow dance.

They all received a raptutous reception (probably to their surprise, as it was very much an untried package) and returned for three encores of two numbers each. "Boulder To Birmi-

Pic: JOE STEVENS

ON THE TOWN

Emmy, you passed audition ... Come back soon ngham" reminds us that Emmy actually a first-class songwriter, as an earlier song, not yet recorded, "Feelin' Single, Seein' Double" had shown.

The first encore concluded with The Miracles' "Shop Around", during which Burton climaxed a suitably thrilling performance by hoisting his guitar over the back of his head and taking it from there and taking it from there.

Finaly they finished, breathlessly, with Chuck Berry's "Rock 'n' Roll Music".

It was a fine, fine evening.

Emmylou, sure do love you.

Bob Woffinden

Richard & Linda Thompson

DRURY LANE

WELL, DESPITE their decent version of Cliff Richard's old chestnut "It'll Be Me" for an encore, no-one was exactly jiving in the aisles at the end of this gig.

You see, contact between artist and audience at the concert was almost non-existent, and one is left with the impression that if Sunday's gig is anything like normal for a Richard and Linda Thompson live set, then you're better off staying at home and playing their albums if you're into their music (which I am). Because live they have all the stage presence of a pack of fragen peas

Matters weren't made any more comfortable by the male half of this not exactly dynamic duo having a cold and his repeated sniffles and snuffles between numbers.

Then there's the fact that most of those onstage sit down to play, something any self-respecting rock fan should always be wary of. Richard didn't once perform standing up and accordian/concertina player John Kirkepatrick like Thompson a fine instrumentalist — remained firmly on his ass throughout. And that's including the medley of English Morris dances.

Richard Thompson really is such a tantalising guitarist. Every now and then he teases the audience by starting out to play something really hot and then worms back into his shell, before he's even begun to warm up. You'd get just a mere flash of something approaching a Chuck Berry riff and that's all.

Because of her husband's cold, Linda took most of the vocals. She has an attractive voice, but even when she's standing up she's no Miss Personality.

Material came from all three of the Thompson's albums, of which "Night Comes In" and the excellent "For Shame Of Doing Wrong" were the standouts. Also included were Hank outs. Also included were Hank Williams' "Why Don't You Love Me Like You Used To". Fairport Convention's "Now Be Thankful" single.

Throughout Dave Mattacks played predictably excellent drums and Dave Pegg's bass was inaudible Really Richard and Linda should get their act together, employ a fire-eater or something, because their music is a unique blend of English folk and various rock styles. I mean, they need to project themselves.

Steve Clarke

Lee Konitz

RONNIE SCOTT'S

ANYBODY who hasn't yet got their ass in gear to cop Lee Ko nitz is either just not into music.

or fashion's plaything.

To say that he is a past master of the alto saxophone aint the same thing as saying yester-day's man. Lee has never stopped moving. The old Ice-man Cometh tag attached to that fine-spun sound back in the 40s no longer applies — hasn't for a decade or more. He's us ing more of the horn these days. playing with an impassioned fulness from oboe-like low notes to biting top — and still losing none of that linear purity.

He's changed since I last saw him a year ago in New York — he and bassist Wilbur Little blowing extended duets which showcased their talents. At Ronnie's, he was clearly thinking in terms of the group, of mood and texture. From the opener, "All The Things You Are", the whole band took a hand in the quadrille, and the

Ready Ready Freddy

Queen

COVENTRY

IN SOME ways watching Queen brings to mind a Who gig. It leaves you with the feeling why do other bands bother?

In their infancy Queen were described (and rightly so) as a heavy rock band with nothing distinctive to take them into the big league. Now suddenly they are there.

Brian May, who has always been regarded as a guitarist of ingenuity and imagination, has now become a guitar hero of some proportions, receiving rapturous applause at the end rapturous applause at the end of each solo.

Freddie Mercury appears to be toning down the high camp (he didn't say "dear" once), taking a menacing rather than mincing stance and with a voice that, like good wine, has improved with agé.

That being said, no one could truthfully reckon the Coventry gig was faultless.

Things were sadly amiss during "Killer Queen", which was ing "Killer Queen", which was included as part of a medley, and at one point the lights weren't spot-on. Also the dry ice covered more of the audience than the band during "Lap of the Gods Revisited" But these were minor irritations, understandable so early in the Greatly in Queen's favour is that the material on each of their tours is completely different from the last, yet the audience is not allowed to get bored with new numbers.

Apart from "Bohemian Rhapsody", "The Prophet", a Brian May composition from the latest LP, looks like the classic new Queen track, ex-ecuted in a professional manner with much vocal jiggery pokery
— it had the Coventry crowd transfixed trying to work out where the sound was coming

"Liar", "Keep Yourself Alive", and "Seven Seas of Rye", were as noisily received as ever and once more we had "Big Spender" for the encore, this time with a new twist -Mercury on stage in a full length silk kimono which, in true Soho stripper style, he removes. Don't panie, he is wearing clothes underneath.

Julie Webb

alto looped it together.

Lee needs careful launching. He'll stay close to the tune until the right air currents surface to float his paper dart, and then 's on and on in undulating flights of imagination. He has eyes for the standards: "How eyes for the standards: "How Deep is the Ocean", "Star Eyes." "Body and Soul". He's been finding paydirt in them prospecting for a quarter of a century: "Anybody who can't make Cole Porter sound good is a schmuck," he told me in the interval interval.

It's a good group for Lee

John Taylor, Ron Matthewson,
Tony Levin, all listening, all right on the case because he's a very idiosyncratic player and baby, you can be horribly wrong. Does that make him out a Ming vase? He aint. Just spe-cial. The first set closed on a furiously up-tempo "Che-rokee", Lee cueing Tony Levin in for a thrashing cymbal flarepath, cutting above it, chiming in and out of John Taylor's piano spot, letting the virtuoso bassist strut his stuff, and then swooping into fours with the swooping into fours with the drums. He can cook all right.

"One of my hits," announced the alto player — and it damn well should have been — and gave us "Kary's Trance", swinging and evaporating and bearing down again like Lester was back on the stand was back on the stand.

Brian Case

Captain Beefheart

NEW VICTORIA

DON'T BELIEVE what your mother tells you kids, there really is a Legion of Super Heroes.

Quiet, mild mannered, and sensitive he may be, but Don Van Vliet is also the Spotlight Kid, and with Drumbo and Winged Eel Fingerling he beamed down to London to save us. He also saved his sagging reputation.

Forget the self-pity that's haunted the Captain for the last couple of years, he's once again couple of years, he's once again the gargantuan figure that gave us "Trout Mask Replica" and "Clear Spot", and if his new material is anything to go by (from the up and coming album with Frank Zappa "Bongo Fury") he is set to cast an even greater shadow than before over the lives of the good citizens of Rockopolis.

Clad in white confident to clad in white, confident to the point of arrogance, the Captain stalked, growled and purred across the stage in his finest voice, laying down that old time, Vermont Moonlit religion like we haven't heard it in years waying. gesticulating and haranguing the crowd, foot up on the monitor speakers, eyes gleaming like an astral politician's.

The audience of a couple of thousand mere earthlings were envoys from a distant galaxy with Beefheart in complete and absolute control.

With a real magic Band behind him Beefheart put paid to the ugly rumours that he'd gone soft and sentimental, as Winged Eel Fingerling and slide guitar man Denny Wally put real iron back into the Beefheart stage show. Goodbye to the anaemic touring outfit of 1974, and farewell to the hotchpotch band of gypsies we saw at Knebworth in the summer. in the summer This one was tight, well rehearsed and, above all, determined to make the songs their own. No experimentation with Zoot Horn Soundalikes for the good Captain. At last he is again interpreting his material according to the capabilities and the styles of each individual in the Magic Band and the

and were very competent and well structured. Some dramatic drum rolls and a good saw at the violin got people going nice-ly. Their sound was very clear and well separated, something that cannot be said for Gong.

With Daevid Allen no longer with them, Mike Howlett fronts on bass which was too loud and, when echoed by Pierre Moerlin's explosive drums, came over like someone beating an airplane wing with a sledge-hammer. Pierre Moerlin can be heavy, even in knee socks and sandals, and his extended solo really elevated the proceedings, though, like most drum solos, it had little to do with the number they were playing and so had the character of an insert.

All the same it was high spot, among several.

Gilly Smith looked cool and detached, staying well away from the lights even when dueting on xylophone with Didier Malherbe on flute. Her ability was proved by the movie soundtrack for "Continental Circus" which she wrote and which Gong recorded with Daevid Allen. I wish she featured more in their work.

Didier Malherbe was brilliant, prancing quietly in the corner and playing exceptional eccentric solos on soprano, alto and baritone saxophones. He had a kind of Maestro-box equipped with echo for use with his flute but couldn't use it very Steve Hillage was the perpetrator of an annoying hum which plagued the set and at one point he came unplugged. A witty chap behind me com-mented, "That's alright Steve, you can play for half-an-hour with your guitar unplugged if you want to. He's so stoned that guy!" Steve played some genuine 1960s psychedelic solos and I'm sure he's got lots more under his woolly hat. He was good, though hard to hear.

Pic: PENNIE SMITH

What else is there to say?

They had a mystical dancer on

They had a mystical dancer on stage sometimes. The leapers at the side of the stage enjoyed themselves. I would have enjoyed it more if the sound had been better and if we hadn't had to sit on the floor. Oh yes, they mentioned something called the Planet Gong.

Yes, even the way she removes her guitar. music was simply astounding.
"Moonlight On Vermont",
"My Human Gets Me Blues",
"Orange Claw Hammer",
"Beatle Bones and Smokin' Stones", "Electricity", and "Abba Zaba" — the pearls of wisdom dropped from the Captain's lips in an eerie cavalcade of colour. rhythm and that Beefheart tincan' sound. "Alice
In Blunde.land", with Bruce
'Fossil' Fowler's pumping airbass, was dark and emotional, a fine foil to a country flavoured song from the new album which seemed to be all about a peanut well somewhere in Texas.

And then Denny Wally played that long leading note and let it float, the New Victoria

Theatre beamed together, and

A crazy little thing, all of sixteen years, climbed up there and embraced him . . . and then the Spotlight Kid was gone.

We clapped, and the houselights came up. We clapped and the curtain came down. We clapped some more and the safety curtain came down . . . but the Captain did not reappear.

We missed the last bus home and had to walk.

we were sucked closer closer to the stage, helpless like moths around an electric light.

Chas De Whalley Gong

IMPERIAL COLLEGE THE HALL was packed. It was the kind of audience that likes to jostle like mad for the first half of the set, blast a couple of huge joints and then stretch out on the floor.

Yes, the atmosphere was so thick you could cut it with a hash knife. People were going on beer runs and henna-haired Frenchmen were searching for "zee place with zee best vibra-

PHONE 247 9856 AND HEAR AMS 7202

FOLLOWING HER RECENT TOUR

A BRAND NEW SINGLE FROM

"Almost Like Being In Love" on Neighborhood Records NBH 3789

KPM GROUP, 21 Denmark Street, W.C.2. 01-836 6699

PHONE 247 9856 AND HEAR AMS 7202

FIVE MINUTES AGO

THIS WEEK'S BARGAINS AT VIRGIN

(Offer starts November 1st)
ELTON JOHN Rock of the Westies BETTY DAVIS Nasty Gat RORY GALLAGHER Against the Grain STEVE HOWE Beginnings MIKE OLDFIELD Ommadawn ACE Time for Another BLUE OYSTER CULT On Your Feet Or On Your Knees BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN Born to Run JIM CAPALDI Short Cut Draw-Blood DEEP PURPLE Come Taste The Band BILLY CONNOLLY Get Right Intac Him

LITTLE FRAT The Last Record Album

50p OFF N.R.P. OF OUR TOP 50 CASSETTES

All these and many more bargains at Virgin Records, Marble Arch, London, W.1. Tel: 01-262 6985 And all Virgin Record Shops

	Week ending November 25, 1970
TI	his
cek
1	VOODOO CHILEJimi Hendrix (Track)
	INDIAN RESERVATION
3	I HEAR YOU KNOCKING
4	WOODSTOCKMatthews Southern Comfort (UNI)
5	CRACKLIN' ROSENeil Diamond (UNI)
6	WAREdwin Starr (Tamla Motown)
7	SAN BERNADINOChristic (CBS)
8	IT'S WONDERFUL TO BE LOVED BY YOU
	Jimmy Ruffin (Tamla Motown)
9	JULIE DO YA LOVE ME
0	RIDE A WHITE SWANT. Rex (Fly) cel 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Last T		nber 26, 1965
2 1		Len Barry (Brunswick)
3 2	THE CARNIVAL IS OVER	Seekers (Columbia)
4 3	MY GENERATION	Who (Brunswick)
1 4	GET OFF MY CLOUD	Rolling Stones (Decca)
5 5	YESTERDAY MAN	Chris Andrews (Decca)
8 6	TEARS	Ken Dodd (Columbia)
.9 7	A LOVER'S CONCERTO	Toys (Stateside)
8 6 9 7 11 8	WIND ME UP	Cliff Richard (Columbia)
6 9	IT'S MY LIFE	Animals (Columbia)
15 10	PRINCESS IN RAGS	Gene Pitney (Stateside)

		Week ending November 25 1960
I a	st T	his
	Wee
1	- 1	IT'S NOW OR NEVERElvis Presley (RCA)
7	2	SAVE THE LAST DANCE FOR MEDrifters (London)
9	9	GOODNESS GRACIOUS ME
0
		Peter Sellers & Sophia Loren (Parlophone)
6	4	ROCKING GOOSE Johnny & the Hurricones (London)
2	4	AS LONG AS HE NEEDS MEShirley Bassey (Columbia)
-	-	MY LIFA DT LIAC A BETT DO THE CONTROL DASSEY (COMMINIA)
3	0	MY HEART HAS A MIND OF ITS OWNConnie Francis (MGM)
3	7	DREAMIN' Johnny Rumette (London)
9	8	MAN OF MYSTERY Shadows (Columbia)
	9	OL' MACDONALD
17		OL' MACDONALD Frank Sinatra (Capitol)
1/	10	LITTLE DONKEY

NEW MUSICAL EXPRESS

SINGLES

			=	77
	s Last	Tuesday, 18th November, 1975	We	osi
1	Week	a desday, roam 140 volumetry 2715	ceks	lior
1	(4)	D.I.V.O.R.C.E.
		Billiy Connolly (Polydor)	4	1
2	(1)	SPACE ODDITY David Bowie (RCA)	6	1
3	(6)	LOVE HURTS Jim Capaldi (Island)	3	3
4	(2)	LOVE IS THE DRUG
	(11)	Roxy Music (Island)	6	2
5	(11)	IMAGINE John Lennon (Apple)	3	5
6	(18)	YOU SEXY THING Hot Chocolate (Rak)	3	6
7	(3)		3	0
370	(5)	Glen Campbell (Capitol)	7	3
8	(7)			1
	Ju	stin Hayward & John Lodge (Threshold)	4	7
9	(5)	HOLD BACK THE NIGHT
		Trammps (Buddah)	5	5
10	(10)	NEW YORK GROOVE Hello (Bell)	4	10
11	(17)	SKY HIGHJigsaw (Splash)	2	11
12	(25)	BOHEMIAN RHAPSODYQueen (EMI)	2	12
13	(23)	RIGHT BACK WHERE WE
		STARTED FROM Maxine Nightingale (United Artists)	3	13
14	(29)	THIS OLD HEART OF MINE	3	13
	(2)	Rod Stewart (Riva)	2	14
15	(14)	I AIN'T LYIN'
16	(21)	George McCrae (Jayboy)		14
17	(21)	LYIN' EYES Eagles (Asylum) WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY	3	16
	(0)	MAKES Esther Phillips (Kudu)	7	4
18	()	WHY DID YOU DO IT
19	(-)	MONEY HONEY Stretch (Anchor)	1	18
17	(-)	Bay City Rollers (Rell)	1	19
20	()	ALL AROUND MY HAT	2
21	()	Steeleve Snan (Chrysalis)	1	20
21	(-) (15)	DARLIN' David Cassidy (Bell) RIDE A WILD HORSE	3	21
	(15)	Dee Clark (Chelsea)	5	15
23	(9)	I ONLY HAVE EYES FOR YOU	OF.	30
24	(16)	Art Garfunkel (CBS)	10	1
24 25	(16)	FEELINGS Morris Albert (Decca)	5 8	15
26	(13)	S.O.S Abba (Epic)	9	4
27	(19)	ISLAND GIRL Elton John (DJM)	7	12
28	()	FLY ROBIN FLY		20
29	(-)	ROCKY Silver Convention (Magnet)	1	28
3-		Austin Roberts (Private Stock)	1	29
30	()	IN FOR A PENNY Slade (Polydor)	1	30

BUBBLING UNDER

NA NA IS THE SADDEST WORD—Stylistics (Avco)
PAPA OOM MOW MOW—Gary Glitter (Bell)
HEAVENLY — Showaddywaddy (Bell)
GOOD BYE-EE—1418 (Magnet)
PART TIME LOVE—Gladys Knight & The Pips (Buddah)

ALBUMS

				5 4	70 77
	This W	Last eek	Tuesday, 18th Movember, 1975	Weeks in Chart	lighest osition
	1	(1)	40 GOLDEN GREATS		BAY
	-	(2)	Jim Reeves (Arcade)	8	1
	2	(3)	PERRY COMO'S 40 GREATEST HITS (K-Tel)	5	2
Ġ	3	(4)	ROCK OF THE WESTIES
		400	Elton John (DJM)	4	3
	4	(2)	SIRENRoxy Music (Island)	4	2
3	5	(5)	PETERS & LEE FAVOURTIES (Philips)	8	3
ľ	6	(7)	ATLANTIC CROSSING	0	3
i			Rod Stewart (Warner Bros.)		1
8	7	(10)	OMMADAWN Mike Oldfield (Virgin)	3	7
į	8	(8)	WISH YOU WERE HERE	10	1
i	9	(6)	Pink Floyd (Harvest) BREAKAWAY Art Garfunkel (CBS)	10	1
	10	(19)	SHAVED FISH . John Lennon (Apple)	5 2	6
H	11	(15)	ALL AROUND MY HAT	2	10
6	1		Steeleye Span (Chrysalis)	3	11
	12	(9)	ALL THE FUN OF THE FAIR
	13	(13)	David Essex (CBS) WE ALL HAD DOCTOR'S	10	3
i	13	(13)	PAPERS Max Boyce (EMI)	3	13
	14	(11)	THE VERY BEST OF ROGER	100	1
ı		(17)	WHITTAKER (EMI)	12	4
i	15	(17)	ONE OF THESE NIGHTS Eagles (Asylum)	21	4
	16	(12)	BEST OF STYLISTICS (Avco)	32	i
ì	17	(18)	GOOD, BAD BUT BEAUTIFUL Shirley Bassey (United Artists)	5	13
	18	()	MQTOWN GOLD (Tamla Motown)	1	18
	19	(-)	BEGINNINGS Steve Howe (Atlantic)	1	19
	20	(-) (14)	GOOFY GREATS (K-Tel) STILL CRAZY AFTER ALL THESE	1	20
			YEARS Paul Simon (CBS)	5	14
ı	22 23	(20)	WINDSONG John Denver (RCA) COME TASTE THE BAND	6	18
	23	(-)	Deep Purple (Purple)	1	23
	24	(16)	THE WHO BY NUMBERS (Polydor)	5	7
	25	(24)	CAT STEVENS GREATEST HITS (Island)	18	4
1	26	(23)	MUD'S GREATEST HITS (Rak)	3	19
-	27	(29)	SIMON & GARFUNKEL GREATEST HITS(CBS)	154	1
	28	(-)	TUBULAR BELLS Mike Oldfield (Virgin)	116	1
	29	(—)	MAKE THE PARTY LAST		20
	30	(—)	DISCO HITS '75 (Arcade)	1	29 30
			(11000)	-
-1

BUBBLING UNDER

DOWN THE DUST PIPE—Status Quo (Golden Hour)
BLAZING BULLETS—(Ronco)
DARK SIDE OF THE MOON—Pink Floyd (Harvest)
MALPRACTICE—Dr. Feelgood (United Artists)
COP YER WHACK FOR THIS—Billy Connolly (Polydor)

U.S. SINGLES

Tuesday, November 18, 1975

Thi		t and the second
Week
1	(2)	FLY, ROBIN FLYSilver Convention
2	(6)	THAT'S THE WAY I LIKE IT
		K. C. & The Sunshine Band
3	(1)	ISLAND GIRLElton John
4	(3)	THE WAY I WANT TO TOUCH YOU
	(0)	Captain & Tennille
5	(9)	NIGHTS ON BROADWAY Bee Gees
6	(4)	HEAT WAVE Linda Ronstadt
7	(7)	WHO LOVES YOU Four Seasons
8	(12)	MAN LITTLE TOWN
_	,	MY LITTLE TOWN Simon & Garfunkel
9	(10)	THIS WILL BENatalie Cole
10	(17)	LET'S DO IT AGAIN Staple Singers
12	(5)	LOW RIDER War
13	(19)	S.O.S Abba
14	(14)	SATURDAY NIGHT Bay City Rollers
15	(18)	MIRACLES Jefferson Starship SKY HIGH Jigsaw
16	(16)	FEELINGS Morris Albert
17	(8)	LYIN' EYES Eagles
18	(22)	LYIN' EYES Eagles EIGHTEEN WITH A BULLET Pete Wingfield
19.	(23)	OUR DAY WILL COME Frankie Valli
20	(20)	I ONLY HAVE EYES FOR YOU
	(00)	Art Garfunkel
21	(29)	VENUS AND MARS ROCK SHOW Wings
22	(26)	I WANT'A DO SOMETHING FREAKY
23	(11)	TO YOU Leon Haywood
24	(15)	BAD BLOOD Neil Šedaka GAMES PEOPLE PLAY Spinners
25	(27)	OPERATOR Manhattan Transfer
26	(28)	CALYPSO John Denver
27	(30)	I'M ON FIRE5000 Volts
28	(21)	LADY BLUE Leon Russell
29	()	BLUE EYES CRYING IN THE RAIN
20	, \	Willie Nelson

30 (—) SECRET LOVEFreddy Fender Courtesy "CASH BOX"

U.S. ALBUMS

Tuesday, November, 1975
This Last
We
- 1	(1)	ROCK OF THE WESTIES Elton John
2	(2)	WINDSONG John Denver
3	(3)	RED OCTOPUSJefferson Starship
4	(4)	WISH YOU WERE HEREPink Floyd
5	(6)	STILL CRAZY AFTER ALL THESE YEARS
		Paul Simon
6	(7)	ONE OF THESE NIGHTS Eagles
7	(5)	PRISONER IN DISGUISE Linda Ronstadt
8	(8)	BORN TO RUN Bruce Springsteen
9	(11)	THE WHO BY NUMBERS
10	(10)	WIND ON THE WATER
		David Crosby/Graham Nash
11	(14)	BREAKAWAY Art Garfunkel
12	(9)	CLEARLY LOVE Olivia Newton-John
13	(12)	EXTRA TEXTURE George Harrison
14	(16)	K'C AND THE SUNSHINE BAND
15	(18)	ALIVEKiss
16	(13)	CAPTAIN FANTASTIC Elton John
17	(19)	HUNGRY YEARS Neil Sedaka
18	(15)	CAPTURED ANGEL Dan Fogelberg
19	(25)	FACE THE MUSIC Electric Light Orchestra
20	(24)	SAVE MESilver Convention
21	(23)	ATLANTIC CROSSINGRod Stewart
22	(29)	LAZY AFTERNOON Barbra Streisand
23	()	TRYIN' TO GET THE FEELINGBarry Manilow
24	(17)	MINSTREL IN THE GALLERY Jethro Tull
25	(-) (21)	SHAVED FISH John Lennon SEARCHIN' FOR A RAINBOWMarshall Tucker
27	(22)	PICK OF THE LITTERSpinners
28	(-)	FLEETWOOD MAC
29	(20)	WIN, LOSE OR DRAW Allman Brothers
30	()	SEALS & CROFTS' GREATEST HITS
		Courtesy "CASH DOV"

Courtesy "CASH BOX"

26 27 28

SOUTH INDICATE CAPPECCO

IN THE TOWN

Hey man, you like my shoes? You like my girl? The big question is the cockroach." Yes, folks, Salsa

Hector LaVoe Orchestra

THE NASHVILLE

SALSA is very heavy music and it takes a lot of people to play it right, so when the curtains opened to an eight piece line-up in what is not a very large room some people were noticeably nervous.

Salsa orignated in Cuba way back and literally means "sauce," spice, or that little extra flavouring. Blacks have Soul, Latinos have Salsa. When the U.S. economic embargo cut off Cuba from the other Latin American countries, the music was taken to New York City by the Puerto Ricans who were emigrating to the U.S. by the thousands after U.S. big business destroyed the agricultural base of the island.

There are now over one million Puerto Ricans in New York City alone, crowded into the Barrios, the slums of East Harlem and Queens. Their ur-ban American experience is reflected in the music: it is some-thing very Latin, fiery, wild and sensual. The Hector La Voe Orchestra is all these things.

Salsa, like all Latin American music, is for dancing. With Hector La Voe everything is geared towards this. The dance beat comes from the bass: Santi Gonzales, a big silent man whose upright bass seemed too small for him. In fact it was an amplified mini-bass which is lighter to carry but which gives the same full sound as an up-

Round him crashed the amazing jazz chords of Jose Torres who pounded the piano all evening with that sophisti-cated timing which characterizes Latin music.

And you thought Latin music meant Edmundo Ros...

Two trombones and a trumpet provided knife-edged punctuation and some brilliant solos. Can a yellow man play Salsa? Bill Ohasi on trombone is Japanese, the other seven guys are all Puerto Rican. "I don't know what they're saying," he told me, "But I understand the mus-ic OK." And he does too: These three are masters of the "blat" as jazz arrangers call it. They point their horns at the audience. Knuckles whiten round clutched beer-mugs, then with split-second timing, "BLAT!" and the little hairs on people's wrists stand up on end!

Jazz and Rock were only successfully blended by the Latin groups — a traditional blending going back at least as far as the superb Cuban bongoplayer Chano Pozo who was with the Dizzy Gillespie Or-chestra in the late forties. Afro-Cuban mixing with Afro-Americans. But Salsa traditionalists don't always like the results: "To commercialize the music like Santana did — I would rather hang myself" said Eddie Palmieri. (One of the Sal-

Hector La Voe is fortunate indeed to have Milton Cardona and Jose Mangual on congas and bongos. Mangual could play any rock drummer under the table using only a cow-bell. In a solo, playing bongos with drum sticks, he established cross rhythms and then divided them up until they finished as a series of staccato bursts, with each beat feeling just right.
In front Hector himself, singing in a rich, strong, clear voice.

Jose Feliciano's "Light My Fire" is probably the only Puerto Rican record familiar to most British audiences. Imagine Feliciano's timing and delivery only more so and add to that only more so and add to that some hot sauce, some Salsa, and you begin to get close.

La Voe will try anything apparently. At the last Fania All-Stars annual gig he sang before 40,000 people while swinging from a rope (a-la Arthur Brown) and at a club he started a brawl by appropriate to ed a brawl by announcing to the audience which included Cubans, Dominicans and Colombians; "Anybody here who isn't Puerto Rican — Go to hell!" The place exploded, the club owner fired shots in the air and a flying wedge of police were needed to restore order. So if you think Latin music means Edmundo Ros it's time you set yourself straight.

The lyrics are in Spanish but they are mostly just "Hey man, what's happening?' You like my shoes? my girl? The big question is the cockroach!" and assorted "Y!l Y!! Y!!". So who needs to know Spanish?

As conditions in the Barrios get tougher, more and more Salsa comes blossoming out. Not even the most crass commercialism can stop its creative beauty. It took soul, R&B and Reggae a while to get started over here; we are already real late in picking up on the Salsa ars. You shoulda been there! Miles

George Hamilton IV/Billie Jo Spears

WIMBLEDON

A STRANGE case, George H.

Not a top-line name back home (although he used to be a regular member of the Opry), he's virtually a household name here and in Canada. This is his second UK tour this year and he's just taped yet another TV series for screening in January.

Hamilton has never laid claim to a voice in the Charley Pride or George Jones league and his appearances for BBC-2 have been, by decree, of a programmed, M.O.R. nature.

Which is why it's nicer to see him live

The continued success of his trips here then become more apparent. The 'Ambassador of Country' role, which British fans have bestowed on him and which he plays to the hilt, comes in rather useful with every gig turned into a sort of family

■ Continues page 42

BARNES Bulls Head: BILL LE SAGE/ART THEMEM QUARTET
BETHNAL GREEN Rochelle School: MICK COLLINS REHEARSAL BIG BAND
COVENT GARDEN 7 Dials Club: JAZZ CENTRE SOCIETY — JOHN STEVENS NEW GROUP —

AWAY
GLASGOW Partick Burgh Halls: BARNEY KESSEL
& JIMMY FEIGHAN QUARTET
IRELAND Queens University, Belfast Festival: Ulster
Musuem: STAN TRACEY TRIO
LONDON W.I. Ronnie Scott Club: LEE KONITZ/
BLOSSOM DEARIE — until Nov. 29

BARNES Bulls Head: BILL LE SAGE, PETE KING, TONY LEE TRIO
BISHOPSGATE Peanuts Club, Kings Arms: MIKE OSBORNE/HARRY MILLER AND FRIENDS
BRIDPORT Bulls Hotel: BETTY SMITH & STUART HUTCHISON BAND
BUCKHURST HILL Prince of Wales: THE ORIGINAL EASTSIDE STOMPERS
FRANCE Rheims Jazz Festival: JEAN LUC PONTY IRELAND Queens University, Belfast Festival: STAN TRACEY QUARTET
NORWICH Jacquard Club: BARNEY KESSEL LONDON W.I. 100 Club: RALPH SUTTON WALLSEND Arts Centre: RED BRASS

SATURDAY

BARNES Buils Head TONY LEE TRIO & GUEST FRANCE Rheims Jazz Festival ISIPINGO IRELAND Queens University Belfast Festival:
MALCOLM GOODING BAND & EA

WARREN
LONDON W.I. 100 Club: RALPH SUTTON STOCKWELL The Plough: DENNIS OGDEN QUINTET

SUNDAY

BARNES Bulls Head: LUNCHTIME LOUIS STEW ART & TONY LEE TRIO BINDLEY HEATH Lunchtime: BARNEY KESSEL

BIRMINGHAM Birmingham Rep: JOHN CHIL-TONS FEETWARMERS COLCHESTER Jazz Club: THE ORIGINAL EASTSIDE STOMPERS

FRANCE Rheims Jazz Festival: ANTHONY BRAX-TON/ELTON DEANS NINESENSE LEEDS Town Hall: NATIONAL YOUTH JAZZ ORCHESTRA & HUMPHREY LITTLETON

LONDON W.1. 100 Club: RALPH SUTTON NEWCASTLE University Theatre: LUNCHTIME — LAST EXIT. EVENING — RED BRASS SOUTHAMPTON Concorde Club: BARNEY

WALTHAMSTOW Brewery Tap: GILL'S BAND

MONDAY

BARNES Bulls Head: COBARUS HATFIELD Red Lion: GEORGF MELLY & JOHN CHILTONS FEETWARMERS
LONDON S.E.I. Queen Elizabeth Hall: PARK LANE
GROUP PRESENTS CAFE BLUES JOHNNIE GRIFFIN'S Bull's Head gig saw the joint bulging and personal freshness in a pig's

"I hope you're gonna enjoy yourselves," said the Man, stared at the unfamiliar rhythm section: "I hope I'm gonna enjoy myself." Drummer Mar-tin Drew made sure that he did, challenged him to a dirt track of fours that had the little giant doffing his Afro smock within the opening number. He's as fast and mercurial as ever.

He's as fast and mercurial as ever.

Hard Bop is alive and well.

Robson Books have just issued the latest instalment of Humphrey Lyttelton's memoires,

"Take It From The Top". It's intended as a scrapbook — schooldays, army days, good meals, jazz mates — a heavily jocund motley that told me more about Humph than I wished to know, and less about jazz. Slight, but nice photos.

Anybody with a week to spare and a fortune might like to float along to a jazz festival at sea aboard the S.S. Rotterdam. New York-Nassau-Bahamas-New York. Players include Getz. Ah-

Bahamas-New York. Players include Getz, Ahmad Jamal, James Moody, Woody Herman and his Orchestra and Sarah Vaughan. All interested should muster at the pier on 12th Avenue, Manhattan — New York City Passenger Terminal.

Formal dinner attire is generally worn evenings when the ship is not in port. See you there. I'll be the cat in the vest with the oil can.

BRIAN CASE

GRAHAM COLLIER MUSIC LONDON W.1. 100 Club: GEORGIA JAZZ BAND

BARNES Bulls Head: TONY LEE TRIO & GUEST BRISTOL Failand Hall: RALPH SUTTON GLASGOW Partick Burgh Halls: NORMA WINSTONE/JOHN TAYLOR DUO & GORDON CRUICKSHANK QUARTET LONDON N.I. Sussex Arms: HACKNEY JAZZ SOCIETY PRESENTS HARRY BECKETS 'JOY UNLIMITED' — a live recording session for Ogun MANCHESTER Band on the Wall: RED BRASS WORTHING Danny Moss Club: EDDIE THOMPSON TRIO WEMBLEY Hopbine: MAX COLLIE RHYTHM ACES

WEDNESDAY

BASILDON Sweeneys: KATHY STOBART

BETHNAL GREEN Rochelle School: JOHN STEVENS/MAGGIE NICHOLLS WORKSHOP FOLKESTONE Arts Centre: STAN TRACEY

OUARTET
LONDON W.I. 100 Club: KEN COLYER
LONDON W.I. The Phoenix. Cavendish Square:
JAZZ CPNTRE SOCIETY PRESENTS 'IMPULSE'
LONDON N. North London Poly: ELTON DEAN
'JUST US NOTTINGHAM Federation House: RALPH SUT-

SURREY Kew

URREY Kew Gardens: EARLE WARREN & HUMPHREY LITTLETON BAND

OLYMPIA, DEC 2-7.

Crazy cars, street cars, dragsters, choppers, hot rods, they'll all be there.

Plus Dave Lee Travis's UFO, a Stage Of Fame with pop stars dropping in, sounds, competitions, giveaways-the lot.

Open 10am-8pm weekdays, 10am-6pm Sunday. Adults 75p, children 50p.

THE WILDEST SHOW ON WHEELS!

marketed by phonogram

NUCLEUS Alley Cat Album 6360 124

Ian Carr with Nucleus continues to expand the frontiers of Jazz/Rock.

TRACE Birds Album 6413 080

TRACE are three exceptional musicians who met up in Amsterdam. With such varied backgrounds as rock, pop, jazz, blues and classical, they are all geared to one goal - superb music. Just everything they play bears the stamp of authenticity and originality.

GENTLE GIANT Giant steps... the first five years
Album 6641 334

We have recorded each composition with the one thought - that it should be unique, adventurous and fascinating. It has taken every shred of our combined musical and technical knowledge to achieve this.

All you need to do is sit back and acquire the taste.

London's 24-hour music and entertainment stereo station on 194 metres mw and 95.8 MHz vhf

JOAN SHENTON

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22nd

- 7 a.m.—"KERRYGOROUND" with KERRY JUBY. Featuring a phone-in on 388 1255 to your favourite pop stars
- 9 a.m.—"CAPITAL COUNTDOWN" with ROGER SCOTT. Capital's new top 40 and climbers of the week.
- 12 noon—KENNY EVERETT with two hours of music and madness.
- 2 p.m.—"PERSON TO PERSON" with JOAN SHENTON.
- 4 p.m.—"LONDON LINK" with IAN DAVIDSON.
- 6 p.m.—"SOUL SPECTRUM" with GREG EDWARDS. Four hours of pure "soul"
- 10 p.m.—TOMMY VANCE with one hour of pure "reggae".

 11 p.m.—TOMMY VANCE with AMERICAN PIE. A low-down on the
- American hit scene.
- 2 a.m.—NIGHT FLIGHT with IAN DAVIDSON

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 23rd

- 7 a.m.—"KERRYGOROUND" with KERRY JUBY.
 9 a.m.—"SOLID GOLD SUNDAY"—TONY MYATT plays the hits of today and the greats from the past.
- 11 a.m.—GERALD HARPER with "A SUNDAY AFFAIR". Sweet Music, dedications, Champagne and Roses for lucky listeners.
- 2 p.m.—KENNY EVERETT with two hours of music and madness. 4 p.m.—HULLABALOO. MAGGIE NORDEN AND DAVID BRIGGS. CAPT. ZERO reveals all. Kids review UNICORN THEATRE. STEVE HARLEY interview, before he left for his U.S. tour. JANE VARLEY, star of Mr. Quilp. Kids review film plus all the regular
- features. 6 p.m.—"THE COLLECTION" with PETER JAMES. A collection of
- classical music. 8 p.m.—"ALTERNATIVES" an Arts Review with SUSANNAH SIMONS. Interviews with Dorothy Tutin and Timothy West.
- 9 p.m.—"A QUESTION OF FAITH" a phone-in on religion on 388 1255 with LOUIS ALEXANDER.
- 10 p.m.—"MARDI GRAS" music of the twenties and thirties with BRIAN RUST.
- 11 p.m.—TOMMY VANCE with LONDON'S HIT LINE. 30 most requested records by Captial's listeners. 2 a.m.—"NIGHT FLIGHT" with PETER YOUNG.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24th to FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28th

- 6.30 a.m.—THE BREAKFAST SHOW WITH GRAHAM DENE.
- 9 a.m.-MICHAEL ASPEL with music features, advice and Swopshop on 388 1255 PLUS Sue Cook with 'Super-Savers"
- 12 noon—CASH ON DELIVERY with DAVE CASH and Music with a BIG PRIZE COMPETITION. Plus "Cash Quickies", "Love In The Afternoon" which
- happens between 2.30 and 3.00. 3 p.m.—ROGER SCOTT with Music and special features "PEOPLE'S CHOICE" and "THREE O'CLOCK THRILL" which takes you back to a week from
- your past and the Hit Line Top Ten at 5 p.m. 7 p.m.—"LONDON TODAY" Capital's feature magazine programme which tells you what's happening in London and who's doing it. Presented by JANE WALMSLEY
- and BRIAN WOOFE. 7.30 p.m.—"OPEN LINE" on 388 1255 with BRIAN HAYES from Monday-Thursday with one and a half hours of Argument and Comment. Friday November 21st
- ALAN HARGREAVES with "Meet the M.P. 9 p.m.—"YOUR MOTHER WOULDN'T LIKE IT" introduced by
- NICKY HORNE. 11 p.m.—TONY MYATT'S late night on Capital. The best late music
- in town including a special musical competition. 2 a.m.—NIGHT FLYER with PETER YOUNG.

NEWS EVERY HOUR ON THE HOUR FROM IRN This information supersedes all previous bulletins. Programmes are liable to alteration.

ON THE TOWN

• Continued from page 40

reunion, an excuse for a comfy and audience feel equally at

There's no overpowering southern honkiness about George (unlike some established male country singers) and his low-profile stance is probably why British audiences have taken him to their hearts. He gains in warmth and im-He gains in warmth and immediacy from live gigs, and once he's got the obligatory standards associated with his name out of way ("Abilene", "Canadian Pacific" 'Country Musin In My Soul") there's not a bad line of kick-ass, truck-stop tack beating in the Hamilton breast.

Also, he likes experimenting with other people's cultural mores. A well known folk enthusiast, Hamilton was using McTell's "Streets of London" years before it was a hit and he dropped it from his repertoire when it did rech the charts.

Witnessing Billie Jo Spears it seems more than ever likely that "Blanket On The Ground" was a one-off event, a 'sound' which happened to hit right and which was not necessarily indicative of an impending ways of

was not necessarily indicative of an impending wave of country hits.

Her new single just does not sound to Have It. Further, her live voice is rather harsh, without light and shade, and she without light and shade, and she doesn't appear to have the stage command required of a top country artist. Her stage gowns though, with the fur in all the right places, give more than a passing nod to our own, very own, Dot Squires.

Backing was provided by the commendable Johnny Young Band who should really be seen on their own gig for maximum effect.

David Redshaw

Sassafras

CARDIFF

WHEN SASSAFRAS find the right single, they are going to be

Sitting in the dressing room of the Cardiff Top rank Suite talking to lead singer Terry 'Beefy' Bennett, you know that you're in the presence of a man who's going to be a star. He's got the sort of face that's des-tined for the covers of teeny magazines, a face that will break teenage hearts the way the mugs of Marc Bolan and David Essex did. On stage and off Bennett is exhibitionist, showman, comic and caricature of everything a rock star is supposed to be.

THE RETURN OF THE TIT PIC! Yes folks, what's good enough for Royalty is good enough for us. So it is, without the slightest quiver of chauvinist apprehension, that NME's outside broadcast service brings you this pic from 1975's Royal Variety

Our correspondent on the case wasn't exactly bowled over by most other parts of the show, but one picture, so they claim, says a thousand words.

The lady above is a member of the caste of "Kwa Zulu", a South African musical excerpted for the benefit of their Royal high whatchamacallits. Glad to see them taking an interest in the arts for a change, what.

Pic by a snap happy JOE STEVENS.

Sassafras' Terry Bennett

He can sing too.
And the band can play. At Cardiff Sassafras proved that they're no hype built around a photocool singer with half a new angle in stage acts. Sassafras are about good, imaginative hard rock. Welsh style, featuring that rare commodity, a lead guitarist with a style all his own. Dai Shell and second stringer Ralph Evans know the impor-tance of flowing lines rather than riffs, and organised semi-structured instrumental pas-sages rather than over-exuber-ant and overloud rambling sol-

Sassafras music, written mostly by Shell and various combinations of the five man line-up, is tight and intelligent, yet highly commercial. When that chart break comes Sassafras could find themselves the biggest "heavy" pop band since Mott the Hoople blew a tyre on the road from Memphis, and Status Quo ran out of ideas.

Live they looked and sounded great. Shell reckoned they played badly at Cardiff, but apart from one obvious howler apart from one obvious howler at the end of an amusing accapella version of "Land Of Hope And Glory", nobody seemed to notice anything wrong. We rocked and rolled to "Electric Chair" and "Busted County Blues" and had a great time. The vocal harmonies from Rennett. Asiph Evans and hass Bennett, Ralph Evans and bass man Ricky John were outstand-ing, adding the sort of subtlety rare to heavy rock. What they were attempting to do on record with Lennon's "I Am The Wal-rus" and Neil Young's "Ohio". becomes clear once you've seen them in this form.

Despite Sassafras being a democratic band, with everyone, including "Congo" Jones on drums, contributing to the complex and frequently intriguing arrangements, on stage it's Terry Bennett and Dai Shell who dominate. Some of the kids even come to gigs dressed like Bennett, in the big bow ties and hats that he wears off stage, and he uses all his skill, gained from experience in cabaret in his native Nottingham, to keep all eyes on him.

As a foil to Bennett's looning and occasional masochism young dai Shell, a huge boyish grin on his face. looks like he's just walked in from a Peanuts strip. He stays calm and cool. saying and singing nothing, but playing a mean guitar which, on 'Schooldays" and "Beans And Things", shows an imaginative and original use of harmonics.

Chas de Whalley

DR. HOOK and the Medicine Show, whose British tour opens tonight (Thursday) are showcased in an "Old Grey Whistle Test" special next Tuesday on BBC-2, when they'll be performing live in the Television Theatre. And there's a Dr. Hook bonus for London ITV viewers, who can see the band in Sunday morning's "London Weekend Show."

A new BBC-1 series called "Saturday Special" starts this weekend, with a string of guests including Sacha Distel, Windsor Davies and Don Estelle and Billy Connolly singing his "D.I.V.O.R.C.E." hit. By coincidence. Tammy Wynette presents the original version of that song in BBC-2's "Musical Time Machine" on Tuesday, when Johnny Nash is another guest.

Slade make their first appearance on British television for many moons in ITV's "Supersonic" (Saturday teatime in the London area. Thursday or Monday elsewhere). Also on the bill are Gary Glitter. Leo Sayer and the Troggs.

The morning "Saturday Scene" show has Alvin Stardust, Gene Pitney and Mike Reid as its studio guests, and it will also be presenting an hour of highlights from last Sunday's poll-winners' concert at Wembley Pool — when the Bay City Rollers, Glitter, Stardust, Linda Lewis and Smokie will be seen receiving their awards and performing. This programme is confined to the London area only

BBC-1 are repeating the three-part series "The Friendly Inva-sion," which is a sort of potted history of pop music from ragtime onwards, and the second instalment can be seen on Sunday.

On Radio 1, there's the final part of "The Simon and Garfunkkel Story" at 1 p.m. on Saturday, followed at 6.30 by "In Concert" with Howard Werth and the Moonbeams and Dragonfly. Sunday's "Insight" this week looks at publishers and songwriters, and among the contributors are Marc Bolan, David Essex, Leo Sayer, Jonathan King and Dick James. And the "Sounds On Sunday" spot features Jack The Lad.

"Sounds Interesting" on Radio 3 features the sounds of Magma, Edgar Froese, Steve Howell and Steve Ashley.

There's no less than four hours of the Rolling Stores on

There's no less than four hours of the Rolling Stones on Radio Luxembourg tonight (Thursday), when a special two-part programme covers their music from 1963-68 (9-11 p.m.) and then from 1969 to the present day (1-3 a.m.). And on Saturday, Elvis Presley is the subject of a two-hour special starting at 8.30 Derek Johnson

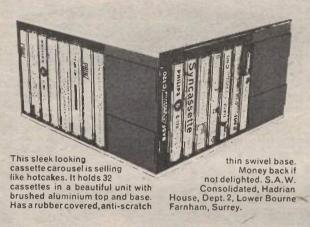

RECORD. CASSETTE & CARTRIDGE DEALERS

FREE! 8 cassettes

(C-60 low noise) with every order.

The best looking cassette holder on the market.

Value £1245 ONLY £7.45 + £1.10 p.p. AN INEXPENSIVE PRODUCT DOESN'T HAVE TO LOOK CHEAP.

HAVE YOU GONE

If you don't mind paying £3.25 for your LP's FRANTIC is not for you, but FRANTIC customers save up to £0.85 off the price of top selling LP's and £1.50 off double albums. Of course, they also enjoy the FRANTIC 48-hour service given by the experts of mail order.

Write today for the new FRANTIC catalogue which contains 1,000 amazing bargains.

MAIL ORDER COMPANY WARLEY WEST MIDLANDS B66 4BB Tel. 021-429 6441

TO BE READ WITH FEELING

We are pleased to present you with a selection from our complete catalogue listing 1,000's of titles spanning over three decades of pop music; and this is only the beginning. We shall be bringing you, in the future, many special exclusive selections, as they become available to us

- 3 Color 1	Artist(s)
0016	Animals House Of The Rising Sun
0900	Shirelles
0040	Marvin Gaye Too Busy Thinking About My Baby
0057	Beatles Please Pl
0065
0067
0069	Beatles Paperback Writer
	Beatles
0143	Byrds Mr. Tambourine Man
0921	Percy Sledge
0163	Who
T051	Sunov
0265	Crystals Then He Kissed Me
0954	Tornadoes
0389	Lesley Gore
0581	Scott McKenzie San Francisco
0740	Johnny Preston
0806	Rolling Stones Sat staction
0811	Rolling Stones Let a Spand The Night Top ther
0814	Politing Stones
0817	Rolling Stones
0850	Rolling Stones
1164	Det Shannon Runaway
1082	Unit 4 + 2 Concrete and Clay
1249	Arthur Brown
30224	Four Seasons Let's Hang On
7.00	Question Mark and The Mysterians
All of our records including current singles, are available FROM STOCK at ONLY 60p
each (including V.A.T.)
Send 25p for our luxury, bound 40-page catalogue to be to the total to page tallogue

Send 25p for our luxury,	ding V.
POST'& PACKING CHARGES	Dound
GREAT BRITAIN & IRELAND	ORD
1-2 records 10p	at 60
3-5 records	Add
6-10 records	GRAI
OVERSEAS (Except Ireland)	TERM
1-20 records 40p	chequ
21-50 records 80p 51 or more records Post Free	and
DEPT. NME 4	RECO
LIGHTNING RECORDS	COM
841 HARROW ROAD	2,000

ER TOTALS [Postage & Packing ND TOTAL: MS Strictly Cash with Order, uses & P.O.'s should be crossed made payable to LIGHTNING ORDS. All Prices are V.A.T sive. Adaptors are 1p each extra PLETE CATALOGUE listing over 0 titles. I ENCLOSE CHEQUE H/P.O. FOR

BRIAN FINDLAY EXPORTS TO YOUR COUNTRY
We leave the U.K. to Bruces, TRADE ENQUIRIES WELCOME

We leave the U.K. to Bruces.
CURVED AIR/Midnight Wire $2.50
SUPERTRAMP/Crisis? What Crisis? $2.50
NAZARETH/Greatest Hits $2.50
ELKIE BROOKS/Richman's Woman $2.50
ELKIE BROOKS/Richman's Woman $2.50
CLAIRE HAMILL/Abracadabra $2.50
CLAIRE HAMILL/Abracadabra $2.50 ROBERT PALMER/Pressure Drop $2.50 $2.50 $2.50 $2.50 $2.50 $2.50 $2.50 ROBERT PALMEM/Pressure Drop JOHN CALE/Helen Of Troy ACE/Time For Another ISAAC HAYES/Best Of BARRY WHITE/Best Of ROY WOOD/Mustard BEST OF PAUL WILLIAMS KEITH JARRETT/Backhand BILLY COBHAM/Funky Thide of Since JOHN DENVER/Rocky Mountain £2.50 £2.50 £2.50 . £2.50 Christmas

DEEP PURPLE/Come Taste The £2.50 Band £2.75
ROLLING STONES/Rolled Gold (dble) £3.75
HAMILTON BOHANNON/Bohannon's
Best £2.50 £2.50 Car Over The Lake
ALAN STIVELL/Elangonned
QUEEN/Night At The Opera £2.50 £2.50

And of course all U.K. Releases

Overseas customers only. Write for lists today. Please enclose a Mail Order reply coupon.

Postage for Europe as follows: 1 LP 82p, 2-3 LPs £1 36, 3-5 LPs £2.18. Rest of world please en

BRIAN FINDLAY EXPORTS

THE MUSICASSETTE HIRE SERVICE

1,000's in stock, costing from as little as $2\frac{1}{2}p$ per day each. Send for free brochure to:

STEREO CASSETTE LENDING LIBRARY

Room 8, Sherwood House, Canterbury, Kent CT1 3RL

MAIL ORDER Add 20p for post and packing per L.P. in U.K. (dble. L.P. = 2 L.P.'s, etc.). Overseas customers add 75p per album. Send orders with P.O.'s plus cheque to: FOX MAIL ORDER 34 STATION ROAD WEST CROYDON, SURREY

MORE FROM THE H S A u

	ROCK FROM THE U.S.A.	MIN N	Girls, Girls, Girls
	JIM CROCE		Fun in Acapulco
	The Faces I've Been (double)	. £4.75	Kissin' Cousins
	KISS	11.00	Roustabout
	Live (double) OUICKS LIVER MESSENGER SERVICE	£4.25	Girl Happy
	QUICKSILVER MESSENGER SERVICE	1000	Paradise Hawaiian Style
	Solid SilverVAN DYKE PARKS	. £3.25	Speedway
	VAN UTRE PAHKS		Pure Gold
	The Clang of the Yankee Reaper	. £3.25	ANIME MEGANITH
	THE BAND		MIKE NESMITH
	Northern Lights, Southern Cross NEW RIDERS	. £3.25	Available Now-New Ali
	Oh What A Mighty Time		THE PRISON (fimited edi
	GRAM PARSONS	. £3.25	Boxed set including 64 page
	C D	60.05	£4.25 + 50p p&p
	G.P	. 13.25
	GRAM PARSONS Grievous Angel FLYING BURRITO BROS.	C2 2E	PUNK ROCK RULE
	FI YING RUBRITO REGE	. 13.23	NUGGETS (1965-1968
	Flying Again	62.26	Compilation of the very best of the
	FLYING BURRITO BROS.	. 23.23
	Gilded Palace of Sin	83 25	JIMI HENDRIX—U.S. A
	LINDA RONSTADT	. 20.20	Midnight Lightning. New release. For
	LINDA RONSTADT Hand Sown	$3.25	advertised as Blue Sky Days
	LINDA RONSTADT	. 20.20	in Concert
	LINDA RONSTADT Silk Purse	. £3.25	The Genius of
			In the Beginning
	ELVIS PRESLEY		Are You Experienced?
	Elvis Presley	. £3.25	WAIR: ROID BY LONG
	Loving You	. £3.25	Friends from the beginning
	Elvis Golden Records	. £3.25	(with Little Richard)
	For L.P. Fans Only	. £3.25	Superpack (double)
	50,000,000 Elvis Fans Can't Be Wrong .	. £3 25	Monterey (with Ottis Redding)
	Pot Luck	. £3.25	Jimi Hendrix

£3.25 WHEREVER POSSIBLE PLEASE GIVE ALTERNATIVE CHOI

Any current American Single Album £3.25. If you see it advertised we can supply it. Cassettes and cartri

Speedway	FREE_
MIKE NESMITH Available Now.—New Album THE PRISON (limited edition) Boxed set including 64 page booklet £4.25 + 50p p&p	TANGER NEKTAR TAROT— MYTHOS KLAUS:
PUNK ROCK RULES!! NUGGETS (1965-1968) Compilation of the very best of the ora £3.75	ASH RA TANGER WALLEN Sympl COSMIC
JIMI HENDRIX—U.S. ALBUMS Midnight Lightning, New release, Formerly	- KLAUS S
advertised as Blue Sky Days £3.25 In Concert	112100
The Genius of	ELTON J
In the Beginning	KINKS
Axis: Bold as Love	ROLLING
(with Little Richard) £2.50	ELVIS PI
Superpack (double) £3.75	HUMBLE

Monterey (with Ottis Redding)

mune frum the U.S.A
3.25 FOUR SEASONS—Greatest Hits [4 LP se	00 32
1.43 BULK CHILLE COETE	, . 20.33
.25 (Clanton Back Page Handrie)	£2.50 .
1.20
LIMITED EDITION FROM CA	NADA
0.40 EREE Eree Ctory (dauble)	£4.75
3.25 THEE - 100 SIOTY (MOUDIN)	(0.0)
GERMAN ROCK	100
TANCERINE DREAM 701	00.75
TANGERINE DREAM—Zeit	13.75
NEKTAR Journey	£2.75
TAROT—Tarot	Σ5.00
MYTHOS—Dreamlab	£2.75
KLAUS SHULZE-Irlicht	£2.75
ASH'RA TEMPLE—Join Inn	£2.75
IANGERINE DREAM—Electronic Medital	tion £2.75
WALLENSTEIN-Stories, Songs &
.75 Symphonies	£2.75
COSMIC JOKERS—First Album	£2.75
KLAUS SCHULZE Picture Music	$2.75
KLAUS SCHULZE—Cyborg	£3.75
ALSO FROM GERMANY
Dauble albume (De- Charait and a	N. San
25 CLTON DOUBLE STORMS POP CHRONIK SERIES	Upon
25 ELIUM JUMM, STATUS UUU, MUTT THE	MUUPLE.
.25 KINKS, STERGER DAVIS, HULLIES, I	HUGGS
25 £4.50 each
ROLLING STONE—Great Hits	$2.50:
50 ELVIS PRESLEY Portrait in Music	$2.50
75 HUMBLE PIE Crust of	$2.50
	62.50
25 THE NICE—Hang On To A Dream 50 CANNED HEAT—Live at Topanga Coral	62.50
	22.00
CES
iges obtained to order. £3.75 each.

STRONG TRANSPARENT PLASTIC LP COVERS

22 x 13 polythene heavy gauge, 100 for 3 40 250 for £7.50, 500 for £14.00 OUBLE SIZE 50 for £3.80, 100 for £6.40, 5 fpm 7; x 7] polythene heavy auge 100 for £170, 250 for £4.00, Mair rifer only C.W.O. p&p included £2 extra for all overseas orders.

GEORGIAN PRODUCTS (Dept. NME 7)
20 Green Lane, Freckleton
Lancs. PR4 1RN, England

TO ADVERTISE IN

Ring 01-240 2266

RECORD & TAPE EXCHANGE

L.P.'s AND TAPES OF EVERY POSSIBLE DES-SCRIPTION BOUGHT AND EXCHANGED. YOU CAN SELL OR TRADE IN YOUR UNWANTED ONES IN ANY QUANTITY. PRICES DEPEND ON CONDITION AND POPULARITY

BUYING RATE EXCHANGE RATE SELLING RATE

UP TO £1.10 EACH UP TO £1.50 EACH UP TO £2.20 EACH

40B NOTTING HILL GATE, LONDON, W.11. 90 GOLDHAWK ROAD, SHEPHERDS BUSH, W.12. 67 GOLBORNE ROAD, N. KENSINGTON, W.10

Telephone: 01-749 2930

SHOPS, RECORD COLLECTORS/DISC

For six years we have been the leading Mail Order outlet for Soul Music Oldies, Disco Music. We issue every formight a list containing thousands of Oldies, New Soul, Rock and pop imports and releases, special offers, reviews. To get our boolet each fortnight send 95p for one year, or 60p for six months.

SECTION ONE 75p each

SECTION ONE 75p each

Park Fleryd — Time Us And Them
Yea — And You And I
Gery Gitter — Happy Birthday
Four Seasons — Big Girls Don't Cry
Lad Zeppy lin — Trampled Under Foot
Wings — Give Ireland Back to The Irish
Moody Blues — Night's In White Satin
Chabby Checker — Let's Twist Again
Roxy Music — Do The Strand Virginia Plain
Ita-Tine Turner — Nutbush City Limits
Steven Stills — Love The One You're Wijh
Jerry Lee Lewis — Great Balls Of Fire
John Lennon — Woman is The Nigger
Beatles — Slow Down/Matchbox
Band — Rag Mame Rag
Black Sabbath — Iron Man Paranoid
Miracles — Tears OI A Clown
Elvis Presley — Heartbrenk Hotel
David Bowie — Let's Spend The Night
Together
Glen Miller — In The Mood

Together
Glen Miller — In The Mood
Deep Purple — River Deep Mountain High
Nillson—Without You
Hollies — King Midas In Reverse
Buddy Holly — Peggy Sue Evervday

Below is a very small sample of our Oldies SECTION TWO 60p each

Timmy Thomas-Why Can't We Lie

Together
Jimmy Cliff — You Can G
Really Want It Harder T
Love Unlimited Orchestra —
Hawkwind — Silver Manham Sweet — Blockbuster Felice Taylor — I'm United The

Of Love
Willie Henderson — G
Electric Indian — Land
Rolling Stones — Turn
Booker T — Time Is Tight
Tornados — Telstur
George McCrae — Rox
Curtis Mayfield — May Hold
Chicken Shack — I find a Scott McKenzie — San

Boy's Room
Stevie Wonder — Keep O
Gladys Knight — H
Through The Night
King Curtis — Memph S
Spinners — Ghetto O

Send P.O. or Cheque to:

RECORD CORNER 27 BEDFORD HILL, BALHAM SW12 9EX 01-673 6130

TRANSPA	RENT LP TELE	O COVERS
Polythene Light Gauge	Polytheise Hegyr Cours	Printers lingus
100- £2.50	100 £3.88	155 £1 90
250- 25.40	250 £8.50	750 £4.25
500 £10.00	500 £16.00	500 EB 00
L.P. Record Cove	A list available	C HOME DOOR
25-23.00	50 25.75	E11.00
Double Album Co Singles Size 78 a	ers or P.Y.C. House D	$1.50
Post and pres	or recommend to the	A Zee and
980ewn####	TON, & SUR Day	1. 225 m, 817 880

BOB DYLAN "HURRICANE"

New U.S.A. Single 8½ minutes long. Complete in picture sleeve only 85p + 10p p&p

I.T.C. PO Box 4, BIRKENHEAD, MERSEYSIDE

ON THE TOWN

Saturday Scene Pop Awards.

WEMBLEY

THE FILTHY rich type sitting next to me, who had been jovially clapping out of time and thrusting a bewildered moustache in my face when I laughed at Alvin Stardust miming smashing up a guitar (that's right, miming even that!), was suddenly up and running.

My snorts of sarcastic laughter at his cowardice were soon quelled by a full-scale Tartan Terror invasion, and ten seconds later I looked back from the safety of the sidelines to see my second row seat already engulfed beneath a sea of ten-year-old feet.

That mini-riot, which greeted the arrival not of the Rollers, but of Russell Harty, was one of the few exciting moments of of the few exciting moments of the very strange Saturday Scene British Pop Awards show at Wembley Pool last Sunday, an attempt to stage a family entertainment — song'n'dance, ceremony and congratulations — in the presence of 8,000 baying BCR fans.

Still, it was a lot more enjoyable than Roxy Music at the same venue a month ago; for a same venue a month ago: for a start, there was the entertaining spectacle of people miming live.

As Smokie's Alan Silson readily admitted afterwards, they felt (and looked) pretty silly playing their two hits with no leads in their guitars, particularly when Linda Lewis somehow circumvented the ban on reality and actually sang her one-and a-half hits live

Poor old Mike Batt only got

With hysterical abandon, they hurled themselves to the stage...

And that was only for Russell Harty to play the new Wombles single to play the new Wombles single (sadly omitting the great "Wombling White Tie And Tails", which won him the award for creativity), but that was a good laugh, even if he does look totally out of place on a stage. Toning down the beetroot flare of his face with a touch of white make-in would touch of white make-up would work wonders; and note now skilfully Mike has worked himself into a position where he can appear as himself with Orinoco blowing sax and neither of them loses credibility. So far there's been no abatement in the screaming either at ment in the screaming either at the ends of numbers, or when

Sally and David try to get all serious for the duration of an award presentation, or when someone enters or exits the stage. The screamers' lack of response to onstage events re-enforces the unreality, and the enforces the unreality, and the only concession Mike, Linda and Smokie have made to the wailing thousands is the occasional diffident wave.

But Alvin Stardust manages to change all that, and for a few minutes it seemed the fans may actually have stopped thinking about the BCR's. Actually I've seen Alvin mime to some of this seen Alvin mime to some of this tape before, but that makes it no less impressive. First he does

Let me Roll it to you (part 178). Y'know something, we're beginning to think they mean it.

"My Coo Ca Choo", which finishes with him pretending to play crashing chords on the unplugged guitar he's been using as a prop. Then he starts whirling it round his head, while the ing it round his head, while the screeches from the sound track grow and grow, finally disintegrating into chaos at exactly the same moment that Al's guitar disintegrates into firewood on the stage floor.

The finale is his rather tired trick with the showers of champagne, but at least he was diverting.

Which is more than can be said for Gary Glitter, who paid absolutely zero attention to the audience (except to hurl the occasional missile), looked nearly double his publicity handout's 31 years, sang a couple of diabolical songs, and . . . well, he certainly won't be playing this gig next year.

And so to the Rollers. The reaction made all the other acts seem like warm-ups. Fair enough, except that the Rollers' set was so brief that they hardly seemed to have got onstage set was so brief that they hardly seemed to have got onstage before they were off again. They played "Money Honey" and recycled their tape of "Shout", but the encore was the killer of the whole evening: "Bye Bye Baby". At that moment they were the best band in the country.

But it was, inevitably where TV is involved, a case of a potentially great event winding up an anti-climax. Apart from Gary, all the acts came across much better than I've seen them before, either live or on TV, and before, either live or on TV, and it could have been a good gig if they had only played live and each had a decent slot.

But the the dictates of television demand candyfloss, and it was over before it began. When I left the Pool half an hour after Sally James announced that the Rollers had already left, there Rollers had already left, there were still a couple thousand kids loitering outside. Maybe they felt dissatisfied too.

Phil McNeill

COMPILED BY

THURSDAY

AYLESBURY Vale Hall: KENNY BEDFORD Angel Hotel: MUCK RAM WAKES BIRMINGHAM Night Out: VICTOR BORGE BOREHAMWOOD Civic Hall: ACKER BILK BAND

BAND
BRIGHTON The Hungry Years: IMPULSE
BRISTOL Granary: SQUEEZE
BURY ST, EDMUNDS Corn Exchange: HELLO
CHESTERFIELD College of Art: MIKE HARDING
CRAWLEY White Knight: THE SNAKES
CROYDON Fairfield Hall: JACK JONES / LYN DAID

PAUL
DERBY Cleopatra's: SNAFU
DERBY Kings Hall: HEAVY METAL KIDS / NUTZ
DUNDEE Royal Central Hotel: SLACK ALICE
DURHAM University: KURSAAL FLYERS
EASTBOURNE Congress Theatre: GEORGE HAMILTON IV / BILLIE JO SPEARS
ERDINGTON Queens Head: HOOKER
GLASGOW College of Art: MIKE ABSALOM
GLOUCESTER Leisure Centre: HOT CHOCOLATE
GOOLE Baths Hall: AMBER SIN
HANLEY Victoria Hall: ANDY FRASER BAND
HIGH WYCOMBE Nags Head: BRETT MARVIN &
THE THUNDERBOLTS
HUDDERSFIELD Peacock Hotel: MATHEWS BROTHERS

BROTHERS
IMMINGHAM Mayflower Club: JIMMY JAMES & THE VAGABONDS

THE VAGABONDS

LEEDS Polytechnic: BOB HARRIS ROAD SHOW with DRUID

LIVERPOOL Empire: NAZARETH / SNAFU

LONDON CAMDEN Dingwalls: CAROL GRIMES

& THE LONDON BOOGIE BAND

LONDON CHARING X RD. Sundown: WILD

WALT BROWN

LONDON ENFIELD Middlesex Polytechnic: JOHN

MARTYN / HEDGEHOG PIE LONDON EUSTON RD. Bettina's: RASPUTIN LONDON FINCHLEY Torrington: MOON
LONDON FULHAM Greyhound: HOMBURG
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow:
CHAMELEON LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: MUNGO

LONDON Marquec Club: SASSAFRAS LONDON New Victoria Theatre: JOHN CALE

INASTY POP
LONDON Queen Mary College: ENO (lecture)
LONDON REGENT'S PARK Bedford College:
MIKE MARAN/B RILLO
LONDON Speakeasy: SEASIDE STEVENS / JOE
JAMMER

LONDON STRAND King's College: ALAN HULL
LONDON WANDSWORTH Two Brewers: STAN
ARNOLD
LONDON W.11 The Elgin: 101-ERS
MANSFIELD Town Hall: GEORGE MELLY & THE FEETWARMERS
MAPIOW RAE Medimenham: AGNES STRANGE

MARISFIELD TOWN Hall: GEORGE MELLY & THE FEETWA RMERS
MARLOW R.A.F. Medmenham: AGNES STRANGE MIDDLESBROUGH Teesside Polytechnic: RICHARD DIGANCE / SILLY WIZARD NEWCASTLE City Hall: BLUE OYSTER CULT /BIRTH CONTROL®
NEWPORT Gwent College of Education: GRYPHON NOTTINGHAM University: FOX OXFORD Polytechnic: DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE SHOW®
PENZANCE Winter Gardens: BE-BOP DELUXE PETERBOROUGH Marina Stadium: CAMEL PONTEFRACT Kiko's: FLASHBACK PORTSMOUTH Guildhall: SUPERTRAMP / JOAN ARMATRADING & MOVIES SOUTHAMPTON Guildhall: STRAY SOUTHPORT West End Club: BREAKDOWN /EGG-ON-TOAST BAND STOKE Skrikes Club: MUSCLES

STOKE Strikes Club: MUSCLES
SUTTON Scamps: LINDA CARR & THE LOVE TREFOREST Glamorgan Polytechnic: DOCTORS

OF MADNESS
WARRINGTON Padgate College: COCKY
WENTWORTH Rockingham Arms: JOHN BALDRY
WORCESTER College of Education: RICHARD &
LINDA THOMPSON / SPUD

RIDA

ABERDEEN Gordon Institute: KURSAAL FLYERS ANDOVER Country Bumpkin: KENNY BIRMINGHAM Aston University: GOOD HABIT BIRMINGHAM Barbarella's: GEORGE McCRAE BIRMINGHAM (Edgbaston) Bell & Pump: JAKE

Thackray
BIRMINGHAM Night Out: VICTOR BORGE
BIRMINGHAM Newman College: MAGNUM OPUS

BIRMINGHAM Polytechnic: SHAKIN' STEVENS &

THE SUNSETS
BIRMINGHAM POLYGENIC: SHAKIN STEVENS &
THE SUNSETS
BIRMINGHAM Rebecca's: EXCITERS
BOLTON Albert Hall: HEAVY METAL
KIDS/NUTZ
BOLTON Red Lion Hotel: McCALMANS
BRADFORD Star Hotel: MATHEWS BROTHERS
BRADFORD University: ANDY FRASER BAND
BRIDGEND Youth Wings SOULEFEE BRIDGEND Youth Wing: SQUEEZE BRIGHTON Sussex University: GONG BRISTOL Newlands Park College: BOOMBAYA BRITTON FERRY Rugby Club: RED BEANS &

RICE
CAMBRIDGE Com Exchange: SASSAFRAS/BAND
CALLED 'O'/RANDY PIE
CARDIFF University; SUTHERLAND BROTHERS
& QUIVER/DOCTORS OF MADNESS
CLEVELAND Lazenby Social Club: NOVA CODSALL The Crown: GEORGE MELLY & THE FFETWARMERS

FEETWARMERS
COVENTRY Arches Night Spot: MATCHBOX
COVENTRY Lanchester Polytechnic: JOHN MARTYN/HEDGEHOG PIE

TYN/HEDGEHOG PIE

DARLINGTON Incognito (doubling STOCKTON Incognito): LIMMIE & THE FAMILY COOKIN'
DERBY College of Education: THIN LIZZY DUNDEE Technical College: SLACK ALICE DURHAM University: FUMBLE EASTBOURNE Congress Theatre: JACK JONES/LYN PAUL EDINBURGH University: CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND FALKIRK Arts Theatre: NEW CELESTE GLASGOW Apollo Centre: NAZARETH/SNAFU
GLASGOW Strathclyde University: MIKE ABSALOM

OM
GUILDFORD Surrey University: STACK RIDGE
HATFIELD Polytechnis: CAN
HUDDERSFIELD Ivanhoe's: TRACE
LAMPETER St. David's University: PANIC
LANCASTER University: JUSTIN HAYWARD &
JOHN LODGE/AJ WEBBER
LEEDS Cowper Street School: JIMMY JAMES &
THE VAGABONDS
LEFDS University: ENO (lecture)

LEEDS University: ENO (lecture)
LIVERPOOL Cavern Club: MICK ABRAHAMS BAND
LIVERPOOL University: MIKE PATTO'S BOXER

LONDON CAMDEN Brecknock: HOMBURG LONDON CAMDEN Dingwalls: ROOGELATER-/WITCHES BREW LONDON CHALK FARM The Howff: HI-TONES LONDON EUSTON RD. Bettina's: JOHN DOE

LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: EDDIE & THE HOT RODS

LONDON HAMPSTEAD Westhill College: FAC-

LONDON ISLINGTON Kings Head: CAMDEN GOODS

LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: TROGGS LONDON KILBURN Gaumont State: BLACK SAB-BATH LONDON LADBROKE GROVE Acklam Hall:

STAGGERLEE/101-ers
LONDON LEYTON Blackbirds Folk Club: JUGUL-AR VEIN
LONDON Marquee Club: WALLY
LONDON Middlesex Polytechnic: DIRTY TRICKS
LONDON North-East Polytechnic: MUSCLES
LONDON PICCADILLY Hatchetts: WHITE SOUL

LONDON REGENT'S PK. Bedford College: AL-KATRAZ LONDON S.E.1 Southbank Polytechnic: PIGSTY

HILL LIGHT ORCHESTRA
LONDON Speakeasy: GONZALEZ
LONDON STRAND Lyceum: ROCK ISLAND
LINE/CRAZY CAVAN/ROCKING PNEUMO-

ROCK ISLAND

ONDON STRATFORD Can & Horses: STRANGLERS LONDON WALTHAMSTOW Polytechnic: CAMEL LONDON WILLESDEN Marshall's: STRETCH LONDON WOOLWICH Thames Polytechnic: BE-

LONDON WOOLWICH Thames Polytechnic: BEBOP DELUXE
MANCHESTER Free Trade Hall: BLUE OYSTER
CULT/BIRTH CONTROL®
MANCHESTER University Folk Club: HARVEY
ANDREWS & GRAHAM COOPER
MARLOW Crown Hotel: JIVE BOMBERS
MATLOCK Black Rocks: WITCHFYND
MILTON KEYNES Jenny Lee Theatre: MAGNA
CARTA

CARTA

NEWCASTLE City Hall: TOM PAXTON

NEWPORT College of Agriculture: STAN ARNOLD

NEWCASTLE Mayfair Ballroom: DR. HOOK

& THE MEDICINE SHOW NEWCASTLE Polytechnic: JON HISEMAN'S COL-OSSEUM II

NORWICH East Anglia University: RICHARD & LINDA THOMPSON/SPUD

LINDA THOMPSON/SPUD
NOTTINGHAM Trent Polytechnic: MIKE NESMITH Ø/SLENDER LORIS
NOTTINGHAM University: RICHARD DIGANCE/SILLY WIZARD
ORMSKIRK Edgehill College: COCKY
OXFORD New Theatre: GEORGE HAMILTON IV/BILLIE JO SPEARS
OXFORD Polytechnic: BRYN HAWORTH BAND
PETERLEE Seanate Club: MARMALADE
PLYMOUTH Fiesta: UPP

PLYMOUTH Fiesta: UPP
PRESTON Guildhall: OSIBISA
READING Windsor Hall: GENO WASHINGTON SHEFFIELD University: JOHN JAMES STOKE North Staffs Polytechnic: VIV STANSHALL'S VIVA RIUM/DAGA BAND
SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD Golden Diamond: SAM

APPLE PIE
TAUNTON Odeon: QUEEN

TONBRIDGE Medway College: FOGG
TRURO Plaza: HOT CHOCOLATE
TURNFORD New River Arms: TEQUILA
UXBRIDGE Brunel University: JOHN CALE/NAS-TY-POB TY POP UXBRIDGE Hamborough Tavern: LEE KOSMIN

WATFORD Red Lion: STRIKE A LIGHT
WELWYN GARDEN CITY Fountain Folk Club:
ROY HARRIS WEYBRIDGE National College of Food: BURGLAR

WIGAN Wrightington Dickinson Arms: BRIAN-DEWHURST YORK University: FOX

SATURDAY

ABERDEEN University: MIKE ABSALOM
AMMANFORD Betws Coopers Arms: AUNT FOR TESCUE'S BLUESROCKERS

AYLESBURY Friars at New Vale Hall: CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND
BIRMINGHAM Barbarella's: HOBO
BIRMINGHAM Railway Hotel: BEAU FLYER
BIRMINGHAM Santa Rosa Club: BOOMBAYA
BIRMINGHAM University: BE-BOP DELUXE
BRADFORD University: TOM PAXTON
BRISTOL Granary: STRIFE
CANTERBURY Kent University: BOB HARRIS
ROAD SHOW with DRUID
CARDIFF Capitol: BLACK SABBATH
Replacement for gig cancelled last week
CARDIFF College of Education: FACTORY
COLCHESTER Essex University: MIKE NESMITH
COVENTRY College of Further Education: ROCK-

COVENTRY College of Further Education: ROCK-ING PNEUMONIA
COVENTRY Walsgrave Hotel: SHAKIN' STEVENS
& THE SUNSET'S
CRANFIELD Technical College: ALKATRAZ
DARLINGTON College of Education: WALLY
DERBY Crown Hotel: MAGNUM OP

DONCASTER Freewheeling Club: ROGER SUI-CLIFFE
DUDLEY J.B.'s Club: MOON
DUNDEE Caird Hall: NAZARETH/SNAFU
EASTBOURNE King's Country Club: DES O'CONNOR
FALKIRK Arts Centre: CASTLE
FISHGUARD Frenchman's Motel: BURGLAR BILL
FOLKESTONE Leas Cliff Hall: SUTHERLAND
BROTHERS & QUIVER/DOCTORS OF MADNESS

FOLKESTONE Sundowners: STRANGLERS GLASGOW Sthrathclyde University: KURSAAL FLYERS/SLACK ALICE GLASGOW University: MICHAEL CHAPMAN HULL Albert Club: MATCHBOX LANCASTER University: FOX LEEDS University: CAMEL/GRYPHON LEICESTER DE Montfort Hall: VICTOR BORGE LEICESTER Saffron Lane WMC: BAND CALLED CHAPMEN.

CHARLIE
LEICESTER Polytechnic: RICHARD & LINDA
THOMPSON/SPUD
LEICESTER University: JON HISEMAN'S COLOS-

SEUM II

LIVERPOOL Empire: BLUE OYSTER CULT/BIRTH CONTROL

LIVERPOOL Stadium: OSIBISA
LONDON BARKING North-East Polytechnic: NIMDUS

LONDON BATTERSEA Town Hall: FATSO
LONDON CAMDEN Dingwalls: CHAMELEON

Highlights

HELLO, good evening and welcome to the show. And we've got a tremendous bill lined up for tonight, so just sit back and enjoy yourselves. If you feel like joining in the chorus, or clapping your hands and stamping your feet — well, you do just that. Okay? Well, let's go. Up with the curtain. Er, one, two, three, • BLUE OYSTER CULT head the list of new tours starting this week, but only because they are alphabetically first of the three bands setting out on the road on Thursday! The near-legendary U.S. outfit played their first-ever British gig last month, prior to setting out on a Eu-ropean tour. And now that they've com-pleted their Continental gigs, they're coming back for a mini-tour, giving pro-vincial Cult enthusiasts a chance to catch them. Supported by one of Europe's leading bands, Birth Control, they're playing Newcastle (Thursday), Manchester (Friday), Liverpool (Saturday) and London (Sunday).

DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE

SHOW are always good value for money, and they're coming in for a string of dates, which also serve the purstring of dates, which also serve the purpose of promoting their new Capitol album "Bankrupt". Rather prematurely, they're going out under the banner of "Dr. Hook's Christmas Show" and, supported by Unicorn, they're playing Oxford (Thursday), Newcastle (Friday), London (Saturday), Bristol (Sunday) and Plymouth (Wednesday). If you can't get along to one of those gies, you can get along to one of those gigs, you can see them in concert on "Whistle Test"

• NAZARETH have introduced an innovation into their act for their British tour opening in Liverpool on Thursday. They've expanded their line-up by bring-ing in ex-Zzebra keyboards player Tom-my Eyres. And they intend to retain the extra keyboards man (though not neces-sarily Eyres) in future, because it affords them greater flexibility and gives Dan McCafferty more freedom to perform his solo material. Other gigs this week are at Glasgow (Friday), Dundee (Saturday), Preston (Sunday), Manchester (Monday) and Birmingham (Wednesday). Support act on all dates are Snafu.

MIKE NESMITH — who, despite his new-found credibility as a soloist, is still having difficulty in shaking off the Mon-kees tag — opens a short British tour in Nottingham (Friday), Colchester (Saturday) and Belfast (Sunday). He'll be performing solo in the provinces — but will have Red Rhodes, Dave Pegg and Dave Mattacks with him for his London concert on November 30. • SASSAFRAS, A Band Called "O" and German outfit Randy Pie are the three components of a package tour called "Hot On The Trails", which sets out on the road on Friday in Cambridge, followed by Loughborough (Saturday), Edinburgh (Sunday) and Glasgow (Monday). It marks a big breakthrough for both British bands, whose previous concert tours have seen them confined to supporting roles. Outside of London, admission price will be at a maximum of 99p. And if you're one of the first 200 in the queue at any venue, you'll be given a free maxi-single comprising tracks by all three bands. CAN are another German band currently visiting this country, although

LONDON CHALK FARM The Howff: HI-TONES LONDON CHALK FARM The Howtt: HI-TONES
LONDON CHA RING X RD. Sundown: BIG LICKS
LONDON CHELSEA College: MAGNA CARTA
LONDON City Polytechnic: PHILLIP GOODHAND-TAIT
LONDON EUSTON RD. Bettina's: TEENAGE

REBELS LONDON HAMMERSMITH Odeon: DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE SHOW/ALBERTO Y LOST TRIOS PARANOIAS/UNICORN DLONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: 101-ers LONDON HAMPSTEAD Town Hall: BAZOOKA

JOE
LONDON Imperial College: GEORGE MELLY &
THE FEETWARMERS
LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: GOOD

HABIT

HABIT
LONDON LEWISHAM Concert Hall: SYD LAWRENCE ORCHESTRA
LONDON Marquee Club: GAS WORKS
LONDON New Victoria Theatre: BRITISH COUNTRY & WESTERN SHOW with RAY LYNAM &
HILLBILLIES/CLIFF LEDGER & COUNTRY
BOYS/RYE WHISKEY ROAD BAND/BRYAN
CHALLER & C.

CHALKER etc.

LONDON North-East Polytechnic: RONNIE & THE BIGGS
LONDON PICCADILLY Hatchetts: WHITE SOUL

BAND
LONDON Speakeasy: F.B.I.
LONDON STREATHAM Philippa Fawcett College: LONDON TWICKENHAM Maria Grey College: COCKY

LONDON W.C.1 Collegiate Theatre: CAJUN MOON/ANDY ROBERTS LOUGHBOROUGH University: SASSAFRAS-/BAND CALLED 'O'/RANDY PIE● LUTON Cesar's: CANDLEWICK GREEN LUTON Roman Way: TEQUILA MANCHESTER U.M.I.S.T.: GONG MANCHESTER University: ANDY FRASER BAND

MATLOCK Black Rocks: ZACARIAH
NEWCASTLE City Hall: SUPER
TRAMP/JOAN ARMATRADING & MOVIES NEWCASTLE Polytechnic: ALAN HULL
NORTHAMPTON Chimes: AL MATTHEWS &
THE LAST WORD
NORTHAMPTON County Ground: HEAVY

METAL KIDS
NOTTINGHAM Boat Club: MICK ABRAHAMS BAND

BAND
OLDHAM Uppermill Civic Hall: MIKE HARDING
OXFORD New Theatre: GEORGE HAMILTON IV/BILLIE JO SPEARS
PETERBOROUGH ABC Theatre: JUSTIN HAYWARD & JOHN LODGE/AJ WEBBER
PETERLEE Senate Club: MARMALADE
PLYMOUTH Polytechnic: GENO WASHINGTON
RAND

BAND
PORTHCAWL Esplanade Hotel: JIMMY JAMES &
THE VAGABONDS

PORTSMOUTH College of Education: FOGG
READING Target Club: KAV
READING University: RICHARD DIGANCE/SIL-

LY WIZARD

REDDITCH Cloud Nine: TRACE

RETFORD Porterhouse: SWEET SENSATION

RICKMANSWORTH Keystone Club: STRIKE A

LIGHT
SHEFFIELD City Hall: THE GREATEST SWING
BAND IN THE WORLD with LITA ROZA/DEN-

NIS LOTIS
SHEFFIELD University: JOHN MARTYN/HEDGE-

HOG PIE SOUTHAMPTON University: CAN●

DEREK JOHNSON

THE IOWN

ov. 20-26

their visit is but a brief one. They're playing a couple of college dates — at Hatfield (Friday) and Southampton (Saturday) — followed by a major London concert on Sunday, and that's their lot. They're a highly individual band, whom you either love or hate, and their devotees will certainly not want to miss out on this opportunity of seeing them.

LIMMIE & THE FAMILY COOK-IN' made a considerable impact on the charts last year, but have been conspicuous by their absence this year. One of the reasons could well be that Limmie has been reshaping the group, and they went through a transition period. They're now attempting to re-establish themselves by way of a new British one-nighter tour, opening in Stockton and Darlington on Friday plus Harrogate on Tuesday, with more gigs to follow next week. • LIMMIE & THE FAMILY COOK week.

PAUL KOSSOFF is in the news again this week, and happily it's good news this time. It is really remarkable that after a heart attack brought him so close to death three months ago (we're told that his heart actually stopped beat-ing for half-an-hour), he has now reing for halt-an-hour), he has now re-covered sufficiently to return to the con-cert platform. Naturally he's taking th-ings easy and is only playing a handful of gigs at this stage — but if all goes according to plan, there'll be a full tour in the New Year. Together with Back Street Crawler, Kossoff is in action at Liverpool (Sunday) and Glasgow (Wed-nesday).

Liverpool (Sunday) and Glasgow (Wednesday).

• HENRY COW haven't toured Britain for 16 months, the last occasion being as support act to Captain Beefheart. But they have played a few one-off gigs in London during the interim period, and have toured extensively on the Continent. Now they're making a comeback in a grand manner, with a tour comprising no less than 30 dates — the first of which are at Cambridge (Monday) and Norwich (Tuesday).

• URIAH HEEP are the last, but by no means least, of the ten new tours getting means least, of the ten new tours getting under way this week. Just back from an extended tour of the U.S. of A., the band are headlining major concerts through until mid-December. And this will be your only chance to see them in this country until next autumn at the earliest, because they are already committed to overseas tours lasting until the end of the summer (see last week's news pages for details). They kick off at Newcastle (Tuesday) and Edinburgh (Wednesday), and the support act is Tim Rose.

• BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN again provides the week's principal one-off gig, for the second week running. After making his British debut at London's Hammersmith Odeon earlier this week, he's back at the same venue for a repeat performance on Monday. But don't go along on the off-chance, because all tickets have been sold.

So once again we have another busy week for you. Quite apart from the highlights detailed in this section, there are several hundred other gigs listed from which you can choose. But may we just remind you that, through circumstances over which we have no control, an occasional booking may be choreed on sional booking may be changed or cancelled at the last moment. So if you're travelling to a gig, it's always best to check with the venue beforehand denotes gig details in above panel

CHELTENHAM Town Hall: GONG

symbol

SOUTHEND Cliffs Pavilion: RUSS CONWAY SPENNYMOOR Top Hat: CHRIS FARLOWE SPENNYMOOR TOP Hat: CHRIS FARLOWE
BAND
ST. ALBAN'S City Hall: STACK RIDGE
ST. IVES (Hunts.) Civic Centre: THE EXCITERS
SUNDERLAND Empire: CLIFF RICHARD
TOTNES Dartington College of Education: UPP
WASHINGTON Whitehouse Social Club: JAB-JAB
WEST RUNTON Pavilion: KENNY
WEYBRIDGE College of Food & Technology: BRYN HAWORTH BAND

SUNDAY

BARROW Civic Hall: MILLICAN & NESBITT /BOBBY CRUSH
BASILDON Centre Hotel: MAGNA CARTA
BEDWORTH Civic Hall: HEAVY METAL KIDS /NUTZ

BELFAST Queen's University: MIKE NESMITH
BEXHILL De La Warr Pavilion: OSIBISA
BIRMINGHAM Barbarella's: BOB HARRIS ROAD
SHOW with DRUID
BIRMINGHAM (Moseley) Fighting Cocks: KNEES UP BAND
BIRMINGHAM Repentory Theatre: GEORGE MELLY & THE FEETWARMERS
BOURNMOUTH Winter Gardens: QUEEN
BRISTOL Granary: JOHN RENBOURN & JACQUI
McSHEE

McSHEE

BRISTOL Yate Stirling Suite: DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE SHOW ©

CAMBRIDGE Claire College: STAN ARNOLD CHEADLE Highwayman Inn: McCALMANS

CHELMSFORD Chancellor Hall: ANDY FRASER BAND

CHESTER Farndon Raven Hotel: MATHEWS BROTHERS
COVENTRY La Chaumiere: ROCK ISLAND LINE CROYDON Greyhound: GREENSLADE
DORKING Halls: HELEN SHAPIRO
DURHAM van Mildert College: MICHAEL CHAPMANN MAN
DURHAM University: MIKE ABSALOM
EDINBURGH Caley Cinema: SASSAFRAS / BAND
CALLED 'O' / RANDY PIE

EDINBURGH Usher Hall: SUPERTRAMP / JOAN
ARMATRADING & MOVIES
FARNWORTH Blighty's: MIKE HARDING
GLASGOW City Hall: GABERLUNZIE
GORSEIGNON Bryngwyn Club: JIMMY JAMES &
THE VAGABONDS
GRAVESEND Woodville Hall: RICHARD & LINDA THOMPSON / SPUD
HARROW Tithe Farm House: MOON
IPSWICH Com Exchange: STEPHANE GRAPPELLI

LI KENDAL Brewery Arts Centre: BRIAN DE-

WHURST
LEICESTER Saffron Lane WMC: BAND CALLED CHARLIE LIVERPOOL Empire: PAUL KOSSOFF'S BACK

STREET CRAWLER®

LIVERPOOL Royal Court Theatre: MAC & KATIE KISSOON

LLANHARAN Rugby Club: FACTORY
LONDON BATTERSEA Town Hall: JOHN JAMES
LONDON DEPTFORD Albany Empire: STRUTTERS

TERS
LONDON DRURY LANE Theatre Royal: CAN /TERJE RYPDAL / ODYSSEY LONDON FINCHLEY Torrington: KILBURN &
THE HIGH ROADS

LONDON HAMMERSMITH Odeon: BLUE OYS-LONDON HAMMERSMITH Odeon: BLUE OYSTER CULT / BIRTH CONTROL
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: Fulp CITY LONDON ISLINGTON Pied Bull: NIGHT LIFE LONDON Wictoria Palace: HOT CHOCOLATE LONDON Victoria Palace: HOT CHOCOLATE LONDON TWICKENHAM Winning Post: JON HISEMAN'S COLOSSEUM II LUTON Cock Inn Park Square: TONY ROSE MANCHESTER Opera House: TOM PAXTON MIDDLESBROUGH Town Hall: KURSAAL FLYERS

MANCHESTER Opera House: TOM PAXTON MIDDLESBROUGH Town Hall: KURSAAL FLYERS
NORTHAMPTON Salon: GENE PITNEY
NORWICH Theatre Royal: GEORGE HAMILTON IV / BILLIE JO SPEARS
NOTTINGHAM Theatre Royal: VICTOR BORGE NUNEATON Atherstone Club: MAGNUM OPUS II PLYMOUTH Fiesta: CHRIS FARLOWE BAND PORTSMOUTH Centre Hotel: THERAPY PRESTON Guildhall: NAZARETH / SNAFU REDCAR Coatham Bowl: FOX ROCHDALE Seven Stars: ALKATRAZ ROMFORD Albemarle Club: MYND SHEFFIELD Woodhouse Central Club: MATCHBOX SOUTHAMPTON University: PIGSTY HILL LIGHT ORCHESTRA STOCKPORT Davenport: ANITA HARRIS / KENNY BALL SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD Golden Diamond: SIGHT & SOUND STOKE Trentham Gardens: JUSTIN HAYWARD & JOHN LODGE / AJ WEBBER WARRINGTON Ring o' Bells: DAVE BURLAND WEALDSTONE Goodwill To All: STRANGLERS WOLVERHAMPTON Polytechnic: HARVEY ANDREWS & GRAHAM COOPER

MUNDAY

ABERYSTWYTH University: ANDY FRASER

ABERYSTWYTH University: ANDY FRASER BAND

AMERSHAM Folk Club: TONY ROSE
BIRMINGHAM Town Hall: RICHARD & LINDA
THOMPSON/SPUD

CAMBRIDGE University: HENRY COW ©
CARDIFF University: BRYN HAWORTH BAND
CHIGWELL Camelot: SOUNDS COUNTRY
CRUMLIN Navigation Hotel: FACTORY
DONCASTER Outlook Club: ALBERTO Y
LOST TRIOS PARANOIAS
GLASGOW Apollo Centre: SUPERTRAMP/JOAN
ARMATRADING & MOVIES
GLASGOW City Hall: SASSAFRAS/BAND
CALLED 'O'/RANDY PIE®
HALESOWEN Tiffany's: GENE CHANDLER
HATFIELD Red Lion: GEORGE MELLY & THE FEETWARMERS
HUDDERSFIELD Polytechnic: MIKE ABSALOM
LANCASTER University: BRIAN DEWHURST

LANCASTER University: BRIAN DEWHURST LEICESTER Bailey's: GLITTER BAND LONDON EALING Technical College: STAN AR-

NOLD
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Odeon: BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: THUN-DERBIRDS LONDON HARROW RD. Windsor Castle: BURGL-

AR BILL
LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: GRAHAM BELL BAND
LONDON Marquee Club: JOHN BALDRY
LONDON PUTNEY Half Moon Hotel: JIVE BOM-

BERS
LONDON Speakeasy: BIG JOE LUIGI BAND
LONDON Upstairs At Ronnie's: THE SNAKES
MANCHESTER Free Trade Hall: NAZARETH-SNAFU ●
OCKLEY Red Lion: STRANGLERS
REDRUTH Regal Cinema: CHRIS FARLOWE

BAND SHREWSBURY Music Hall: HEAVY METAL KIDS/

NUTZ
SOUTHAMPTON Gaumont: QUEEN
SOUTHAMPTON University: CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND
STAFFORD Top Of The World: DRIFTERS
SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD Golden Diamond: AL-KATRAZ
TONYPANDY British Legion: PANIC
WREXHAM Fagin's: THE EXCITERS

TUESDAY

ABERYSTWYTH University: PIGSTY HILL LIGHT ORCHESTRA
AMBLESIDE Park Hotel: SWAN ARCADE
ANDOVER New River Club: GEORGE MELLY &
THE FEETWARMERS
BIRMINGHAM Barbarella's: ANDY FRASER
BAND

BAND
BRIGHTON Dome: CAPTAIN BEEFHEART &
THE MAGIC BAND
CAMBERLEY Lakeside Country Club: CLEO
LAINE / JOHN DANKWORTH / ROLF HARRIS

CARDIFF TOP Rank: CITY BOY
CROYDON Red Deer: ROCKING PNEUMONIA
DUNDEE Caird Hall: SUPERTRAMP / JOAN ARMATRADING & MOVIES
DUNSTABLE Civic Hall: HEAVY METAL
KIDS/NUTZ

HANLEY Victoria Hall: THE EXCITERS
HARROGATE Intercon: LIMMIE & THE FAMILY

HARROGATE Intercon: LIMMIE & THE FAMILY COOKIN' •

HUDDERSFIELD Ivanhoe's: ZZEBRA ILFORD Green Gate: MAC & KATIE KISSOON KEELE University: BRYN HAWORTH BAND KENILWORTH Chesford 1812: MATCHBOX LONDON CAMDEN Dingwalls: KILBURN & THE HIGH ROADS
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Odeon: JUSTIN HAYWARD & JOHN LODGE/AJ WEBBER LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: WILD WALT BROWN
LONDON ISLINGTON The Florence: CHRIS FOS.

LONDON ISLINGTON The Florence: CHRIS FOS-

TER
LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: FATSO
LONDON KENSINGTON The Nashville: FATSO
LONDON Marquee Club: STRAY
LONDON PECKHAM Newlands Tavern: MOON
LONDON SMITH SQ. St. John's: AMAZING
BAND/CHAMBERPOT
LONDON Speakeasy: HUNGRY HORSE
LONDON S.W.5 Hollins College: ENO (lecture)
LONDON WANDSWORTH Lord Westbury: THE SNAKES

SNAKES
LONDON W.14 The Kensington: TONGE
LONDON 100 Club: TYLA GANG / BOOMBAYA
MANCHESTER Golden Garter: VICTOR BORGE
MILFORD HAVEN Showboat: LIGHT FANTAS-

NETHER HEYFORD Old Sun Folk Club: TONY NEWCASTLE City Hall: URIAH HEEP

NORWICH East Anglia University: HENRY COW
NOTTINGHAM University: GONG
PLYMOUTH Guildhall: CAMEL
PRESTON Guildhall: FOX
SOUTHEND Talk Of The South: GENE PITNEY
UXBRIDGE Brunel University: JON HISEMAN'S
COLOSSEUM II

WEDNESDAY

ALDERSHOT Gaiety Bar: STRANGLERS
ALDERSHOT Princes Hall: GEORGE MELLY &
THE FEETWARMERS
BARNET Trent Park College: COCKY
BIRMINGHAM Elizabethan Rock: HOOKER
BIRMINGHAM Town Hall: NAZARETH/SNAFU
BOURNEMOUTH Winter gardens: JUSTIN HAYWARD & JOHN LODGE/AJ WEBBER
CARDIFF Moon Club: RED BEANS & RICE
CARDIFF University: JON HISEMAN'S COLOSSEUM II
CARLISLE Coach House: MATHEWS BROTHERS
COLWYN BAY Dixieland Showbar (doubling RHYL Stables Club): THE EXCITERS
EDINBURGH Odeon: URIAH HEEP
EDINBURGH Usher Hall: CLIFF RICHARD
EGREMONT Rugby Club: SWAN ARCADE
FARNBOROUGH Burlesque: STRETCH
FISHGUARD Frenchman'S Motel: LIGHT FANTASTIC
GLASGOW Apollo Contrar BALL KOSSOFEIS

TASTIC
GLASGOW Apollo Centre: PAUL KOSSOFF'S
BACK STREET CRAWLER
GLASGOW City Hall: FOX
GLOSSOP Commercial Inn: TONY ROSE
GOWERTON London & North Western: STAN

ARNOLD
HATFIELD Polytechnic: ENO (lecture)
HULL University: ANDY FRASER BAND
KEELE University: WILD ANGELS
KING'S LYNN College of Art: FOGG
LEEDS University: JOHN MARTYN/HEDGEHOG

PIE
LEICESTER De Montfort Hall: GEORGE HAMILTON IV/BILLY JO SPEARS
LIVERPOOL University: JOHN CALE/NASTY POP
LONDON BELLINGHAM Saxon Tavern: GOOD

LONDON BELLINGHAM Saxon Tavern: GOOD HABIT
LONDON CAMDEN Dingwalls: DOBIE GRAY
LONDON CAMDEN Nero's Palace: DRIFTERS
LONDON City Polytechnic: JOHN JAMES
LONDON FULHAM Golden Lion: DAGA BAND
LONDON FULHAM Golden Lion: DAGA BAND
LONDON HAMMERSMITH Red Cow: THE
SNAKES
LONDON LEWISHAM Concert Hall: GENO
WASHINGTON BAND/GONZALEZ
LONDON Marquee Club: SLACK ALICE
LONDON Marquee Club: SLACK ALICE
LONDON PADDINGTON Fang's Disco: FOUNDATIONS
LONDON Speakeasy: FATSO
LONDON W.1 Adams Arms (Dingle's Folk Club):
JOHN & SUE KIRK PATRICK/CHRIS FOSTER
LOUGHBOROUGH Town Hall: STEPHANE
GRAPPELLI

GRAPPELLI
MANCHESTER Free Trade Hall: STEPHANE
GRAPPELLI
MANCHESTER Free Trade Hall: QUEEN
MANCHESTER University: BOB HARRIS ROAD
SHOW with DRUID
MATLOCK Black Rocks: CLEO
NOTTINGHAM Imperial Hotel: SLENDER LORIS
PLYMOUTH Fiesta: DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE SHOW
REDRUTH Regal Cinema: CAMEL
SHEFFIELD Polytechnic: MIKE ABSALOM
SOUTHAMPTON Univeristy: RICHARD DIGANCE/SILLY WIZARD
SOUTHEND Talk Of The South: GENE PITNEY
SOUTHPORT New Theatre: VICTOR BORGE
SOUTHSEA India Arms: EWAN McCOLL
& PEGGY SEEGER
SWANSEA Brangwyn Hall: CHRIS FARLOWE
BAND

BAND
UXBRIDGE Brunel University: CAPTAIN BEEF-HEART & THE MAGIC BAND

RESIDENCES

ATHERTON Garrick: WILMA READING
Week from Sunday
BEDFORD Nite-Spot: DIANE SOLOMON
Tuesday for five days
BELFAST Girton Lodge Hotel (doubling BANGOR Coachman's Inn); JOHNNY JOHNSON & BANDWAGON
Tuesday (25) for five days
BIRMINGHAM La Dolce Vita: TOMMY HUNT
Week from Sunday

Week from Sunday
BIRMINGHAM Night & Day (doubling NORTHAMPTON Chimes): CANDLEWICK GREEN
Week from Sunday
BLACKBURN Cavendish: STARFIRE

Week from Sunday
CHARNOCK RICHARD Park Hall: ROCKIN'

BERRIES
Week from Sunday
DERBY Bailey's: PAPER LACE
Week from Sunday, except Tuesday
DERBY Talk of the Midlands: COOL BREEZE
Week from Sunday, except Tuesday

Week from Sunday
GLASGOW Rangers Social Club: DANA
Wash from Sunday

Week from Sunday
HEDON BIRKHOLME Country Club: STUART
GILLIES

GILLIES
Week from Monday
HULL Bailey's: GUYS & DOLLS
Week from Sunday
HULL New Theatre: "JOHN, PAUL, GEORGE, RINGO... & BERT"
Week from Monday
LIVERPOOL Bailey's: JIMMY RUFFIN
Week from Sunday
LONDON Ronnie Scott's Club: SADISTA SISTERS
Thursday for a season of early evening (8 p.m.) per-

Thursday for a season of early evening (8 p.m.) per-formances

MANCHESTER Golden Garter: MATT MONRO

Week from Monday, except Tuesday
MANCHESTER Talk Of The North: BUDDY GRE-

Week from Sunday
MEXBOROUGH Jesters: PETER GORDENO
Thursday (20) for three days
MIDDLESBROUGH Southbank Sporting Club: SOL-

OMON KING
Thursday (20) for three days
NORWICH Theatre Royal: "ROCK NATIVITY"

NORWICH Theatre Royal: "ROCK NATIVITY"
Week from Monday
OLDHAM Bailey's: DETROIT SOUL MACHINE
Wednesday (26) for four days
OLDHAM Bailey's: SHOWADDYWADDY
Sunday (23) for three days
SHEFFIELD Bailey's: BLACK ABBOTTS
Week from Sunday
SHEFFIELD Fiesta: BARRON KNIGHTS
Week from Sunday

Week from Sundav STANMORE Wheatley Taverns: MIKE REID Week from Monday
STOCKTON Fiesta: THE ROCK'N'ROLL SHOW

Sunday (23) for four days
WAKEFIELD Theatre Club: BACHELORS
Week from Sunday
WATFORD Bailey's: MARTHA REEVES
Week from Sunday

Open every night from

Thursday 20th Novem

Friday 21st November 65p WALLY

Plus Guests & Ian Fleming Saturday 22nd November 70p before 8 p.m. GASWORKS

Plus Hungry Horse & Ian Fleming

Sunday 23rd November 65p ree admission with this advert before 8 p.m. POODLES

Plus Burlesque & Mark Poppins

Monday 24th November 65p LONG JOHN BALDRY + FRIENDS & Jerry Floyd

Tuesday 25th November 75p Plus Friends & Jerry Floyd

Wednesday 26th November 65p SLACK ALICE Plus Guests & Jerry Floyd

Thursday 27th November NATIONAL FLAG Plus Support & Ian Fleming

Reduced Admission for Students and Members Hot Dogs/Hamburgers and other Hot Snacks are now available

BRUNEL UNIVERSITY

Tel. Uxbridge 39125

Friday. November 21st. 8 p.m.

JOHN CALE

NASTY POP Tickets £1 advance, £1.20 on door (inc. V.A.T.)

Tuesday. November 25th

COLOSSEUM II

Tickets 50p advance, 60p on door (inc. V.A.T.)

Wednesday, November 26th, 8 p.m.

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART

SECRET OYSTER

Tickets £1 advance, £1.20 on door (inc. V.A.T.)

Saturday, December 6th. 8 p.m. (In the Sports Centre)

Justin Hayward

John Lodge

BLUE JAYS

Tickets £1 advance, £1.20 on door (inc. V.A.T.)

Wednesday, December 17th. 8 p.m. (In the Sports Centre)

Tickets £1.30 advance, £1.50 on door (inc. V.A.T.) Cheques/P.O.'s payable to Brunel University S.U. Available from Social Secretary, Brunel University, Uxbridge, Middlesex. Tube: Uxbridge. Motorway M4 1 mile. Uxbridge Road 100 yards. Buses 204, 207, 223

BAR AVAILABLE FOR CLUB MEMBERS

ENTS COMMITTEE

115 NEW CAVENDISH STREET, W1. 636 6271

Friday, November 28th, 8 p.m.

SUTHERLAND BROS and QUIVER

+ BRAND X (Genesis' — Phil Collins) Tickets 70p N.U.S. advance only. £ 1.10 on door

ROUNDHOUSE CHALK FARM

ROUNDHOUSE CHALK FARM, N.W.3

BOB FISHER FOR VIRGIN CONCERTS

presents

BRYN HAWORTH

RABBIT & ROSCO GEE & BAND MIKE HERON'S REPUTATION BANCO + D.J. JERRY FLOYD

5.30 p.m. Sunday, 30th November

Tickets £1.30 from Roundhouse, London Theatre Bookings + Virgin Records (Marble Arch)

Good Earth Promotions present at the

NEW VICTORIA THEATRE Wilton Street, S.W.1

Sunday, 14th December 7.30 p.m.

+ FBI

with special Guests

THE SURPRISE SISTERS

Tickets £2.00, £1.50, £1.00 from Box Office LONDON THEATRE BOOKINGS 439 3371 + USUAL AGENTS

OUEEN ELIZABETH COLLEGE

Campden Hill Road Kensington, W.8

ALL NIGHT CHRISTMAS BALL

Friday, 28th November, 8 p.m. to 8 a.m.

Starring: GEORGIE FAME & THE BLUE FLAMES
MIKE ABSALOM, SLACK ALICE, CIRCUS
North Circular Accidental Band P.C. Dixie Dance Band, Stan Arnold Naked Eye Disco, Randy Rhino Roadshow

Films, Buffet Dinner with wine, breakfast inclusive. Dress formal or dark suit.

Tickets in advance £6 double, £3.50 single.

On door £7 double, £4 single. Tickets available from Social Secretary 01-937 9714/1794

barbarella's

umberland Street irmingham 021 643 9413

Fri. 21st GEORGE McCRAE Sat. 22nd

GONZALES & RAYMOND FROGGET Sun. 23rd

THE BOB HARRIS ROADSHOW Tues. 25th

THE ANDY FRAZER BAND + STRANGE DAYS

Fri. 28th LIMMY & THE FAMILY COOKING Sat. 29th

LONG JOHN BALDRY + UPP Sun. 30th

DR. HOOK & THE MEDICINE SHOW

Tues. 2nd Dec. MOTORHEAD Sun. 7th GREENSLADE

and special guests

EW VICTORIA THEATRE Thursday 20th November 7-30pm

IRFIELD HALL CROYDON Sunday 30th November at 7-30pm

Bob Fisher for Virgin Concerts presents

ODEON HAMMERSMITH SUNDAY 23rd NOVEMBER at 7.30pm

IMPERIAL COLLEGE

Prince Consort Road, London, S.W.7 SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22nd

BURLESOUE

Saturday, 22nd November

80p in advance. £1 on door

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 29th OSIBISA f 1 30 in advance. £1.50 on door.

Tickets available from LC Union Office, Prince Consort Road S.W.7. S.A.E. in Virgin Records, Oxford Street and Marble Arch. Engineers to 0 - 889 5111

ext. 1043 or 1042

bettina's 383 EUSTON ROAD, N.W.1

Friday 21st November JOHN DOE

TEENAGE REBELS Next Week THE FABULOUS POODLES

OPEN 730 SPECIAL REDUCTIONS TO STUDENTS ADMISSION 60p

Alan Ray presents "KING OF DISCO MUSIC"

HEORGE MCCRAF

WITH HIS AMERICAN NEW BORN BAND

Plus Special Guest Stars SWEET SENSAT

ATTHE

NEW VICTORIA THEATRE Wilton Street, London, S.W.1.

on

SUNDAY, 23rd NOVEMBER at 4 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Tickets £3.00, £2.00, £1.00 Box Office 01-834 0671

KINGSTON POLY ENTS

Friday 21st November at the Canbury Park Campus ALBERTO Y LOST TRIOS PARANOIAS

Admission 60o Left out Kingston Southern Region Station under railway bridge, first right, 100 yards left

HATFIELD POLY S.U.

presents

Friday, November 21st 8 p.m. in the Main Hall

Tickets £1.00 adv. £1.20 door Hatfield Poly is just off the A.1

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON

Saturday, November 22nd, 8 p.m. CAJUN MOON + Andy Roberts

Tickets 80p in advance. 90p on Door Bar, Disco, Lights Tube Euston. Telephone: 01-387 3611

KINGS COLLEGE, Strand, W.C.2

+ MOONRIDER

Thursday, 20th November 8.00 p.m.

Tickets 70p in Advance. £1 on Door N.U.S. only 01-836 7132

U.M.I.S.T. Students Union, Sackville Street, Manchester 1 8 p.m. Saturday, November 22nd

GONG + CLEAR LIGHT ORCHESTRA

Tickets in advance 80p.

N.U.S. 60p

BEDFORD COLLEGE S.U. Inner Circle, Regent's Park, London, N.W.1. 01-935 5867

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21st, 8 p.m.

(Ex-Neutrons) ALCATRAZ

+ Disco
Admission 40p. Bar (cheap) to 11 p.m.

STRAIGHT MUSIC PRESENTS

.

SOLO ACOUSTIC SET ALSO WITH BAND FEATURING

TICKETS £2.00 £1.50 £1.00 (INC.VAT.) ADVANCE FROM THEATRE BOX OFFICE 836.8108

TICKETS £1.75 £1.50 £1.25 £1.00 (INC.VAT.) ADVANCE FROM THEATRE BOX OFFICE 836-8108 LONDON THEATRE BOOKINGS SHAFTS.AVE. 439-3371, USUAL AGENTS OR ON NIGHT

honely Hears 6 Long acre wants to Hear King Howard on 01 240 - 2266

TICKETS . . TICKETS . . TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR LONDON CONCERTS OF THE FOLLOWING:

JOHN CALE BLACK SABBETH DR. HOOK Nov. 20th Nov. 21st Nov. 22nd Nov. 23rd HOT CHOCOLATE Nov. 23rd Nov. 23rd CAN BLUE OYSTER CULT Nov. 23rd Nov. 27th GEORGE MCRAE WEATHER REPORT Nov. 28th DEMIS ROUSSOS PAUL KOSSOFF Nov. 28th MIKE NESMITH Nov. 30th Dec. 1st/2nd QUEEN Dec. 1st FOX ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA Dec. 6th BLUE JAYS SUPERTRAMP Dec. 6th Dec. 7th Dec. 7th Dec. 7th Dec. 10th кокомо BLUE JAYS For more information send s.a.e. to:

LONDON THEATRE BOOKINGS

96 SHAFTESBURY AVENUE, W.1. Tel. 01-439 3371

• Continued from page 13

recording it but I didna think it was going on. I didna realise how drunk I was when I recorded it. Elliot said the punters would like it, so it went on."

Paradoxically, Frankie li-kes his lyrics to that particular

"They're very real. The last verse was written around the time I stopped heavy drinking. It was one of the few songs on the album that I wrote in London. Everybody goes through it, you wake up in the morning and you think you're going to die. You say to God, 'I'll never drink again.' I went down to the preacher and fell on my knees,' he says, quoting the lyrics. 'Asked the preacher to right all the wrong / But he shook his head.' I actually had the whole song finished up to that point and when I came back from the pub it was like I'd been down to the preacher, I'd fell on my knees, I'd asked the preacher to right all the wrong.

"Then when I came back I said that 'He just shook his head, he looked sorry | And he said you've been out on the streets for too long.' And that's the way it went. So that "I like 'The Rock' 'cause where I was staying in Sausalito (the other side of the San Francisco bay to the city itself) looked straight out on Alcatraz. Going over to San Francisco on the boat I used Francisco on the boat I used to pass it a lot.

"I read a lot of things about it. It's the heaviest prison there ever was, man. And I just thought of all the people that I know of who're in prison. It's not their fault they're there, it's society's."

And that's really Frankie so far. There's a good chance he'll be playing in Britain before the year is out, and with his new sense of direction I'll be surprised if Miller's name isn't well known by this name isn't well known by this time next year. He certainly isn't the future of rock 'n' roll (is anything?) but another very valuable talent.

SO HERE WE are in the closing months of dreary old 1975 with Rock's endless highway still a prime black-spot for breakdowns, shakedowns and fractured impasses, and even bluff boyo aggregates like the Faces have been experiencing more than just the odd twinge of internal dissent.

I'd talked to them on their last Stateside tour in February and despite their show of good cheer they'd seemed pretty down at that time if you peered through the wisecracks.

The oddity was that in spite of their questionof their question-ble corporate status the band was playing better than ever. Now things had, on the surface at least, taken an even darker turn. Ron Wood had been loaned out to the Stones for their summer tour, amid myriad their summer tour, amid myriad rumours of permanent defec-tion; meanwhile Rod Stewart had sought professional help in Muscle Shoals (Steve Cropper, Al Jackson etc.) for the record-ing of his latest solo album, and released it accompanied by a fusillade of personal and professional insults aimed at his long time cohorts, whom he seemed ready to write off as punchup drinking buddies and nothing

The Faces are no strangers to being placed on the receiving end of some outspoke Stewart harangue — but never had he maligned them in such blanket, final terms. And yet here they were, scant days later, beginning another tour together, their longest in years. The mood around the Faces' office in New York was harried; Rod had his own personal PR people, and was keeping pretty much to himself and his blonde consort Britt Ekland.

The latter course of action seemed only natural, since a couple in swoonland need their privacy, which perhaps is why it seemed most peculiar to walk into the lobby of the Regency Hotel and immediately pin the glamatic duo hiding behind sun-glasses, billing and cooing and playing kneeses for all the world to see.

Ascertaining that they were most certainly in a world of their own, I foreswore journalistic instinct and ignored them, heading for the bar to have a drink while I waited for Ronnie Wood to get out of bed and MacLagan to finish his break-

Only later did it occur to me how curious their behaviour was. It made sense that they would not want to get their faces on the covers of the fan-mags. but their approach seemed rather unorthodox wasn't the customary procedure, when one wishes to turn on the lights of the papparazi.

A few minutes later I asked MacLagan about this, and he snickered and made a pointedly prurient crack about Rod's

In 1975 the Economy ground to a halt, the potato crop failed and suicides were more in vogue than ever before.

amatory appetites. A few minutes later Wood came sliding in, smiling and obviously float ing on his own wires. At times, during the interview, it was hard to fell whether his answers were the effluvia of scrambled lobes or merely evasive, and his school prankster's face was just beginning to grey. Mac's al-ready had. Two old Pinocchios. I asked them if the Faces, as presently, constituted, had a fu-

"Future?" said Mac, feigning surprise. "It's ripe, it's rich." He looked me in the eye, speaking slowly and leaving measured spaces between his sentences for emphasis. "It's not over, mate, the band ain't split up."

The Faces aren't feeling too good either hadn't seen us in so long and

Is the end of Civilisation as we know it? LESTER BANGS fingers the pulse of history.

beat. "That's a fact."

The silence between Wood's statements were different - he kept dropping non sequiturs and then laughing at his own private jokes, attention strung and meandering, a curious stillness to his whimsy. I asked them if they could see any future for themselves with and he said: "Yeah . . . but does he?" Silence, click, whirr. "See future with himself? That's why this, uh ... gypsy, with a crystal ball ... looked into it and said ... 'Rod, take your and said ... 'Rod, take your hat off. I can't see your brain cells'." His face snapped sideways and down just slightly in a soundless hippy laugh as if to say, Wow, what a far out thing just said, but I'm cute and I know it.

I told them what Rod had said in the interview, and Wood leaned forward with a smirk on his face. "Now Lester, come on, you know that's a pure shit story, scraping the barrel to a terrible degree ... just because what Rod says is true, and ...

may change the next day ... "
He was still smiling. I had never conducted an interview in a room whose atmosphere was dead in quite the way this was And I have been in some flat places. I told them Rod had called them sloppy musicians.

"Yeah, that hurt," said Mac.
"We asked him about that and he said he didn't say it. We read it in an interview — it may have been something that's going across his mind and it's just been blown up. I thing the whole was really because Rod wasn't in contact with us for such a long time — he was surrounded by Hollywood and all nat. Rod shouldn't have said those things because if the band's gonna split up, surely the band should know about it. If Rod's gonna leave the band, then Rod's gonna leave the band . . . we wouldn't necessarily know about it ..."
Confused, I asked him if he thought it beyond Rod to simply walk out.

"I don't know, I class these latest remarks exactly as when he passed all those comments on 'Ooh La La'. Remember?" The bitterness beneath the deliberate vagueness began to assert itself. "We were all very proud of what we'd done, and then he came out and slaved it! At the time we were happy, because we'd spent a lot of time on it and finally it was

Wood jumped in and set about covering up the wounds MacLagan had begun to open. "When 'e came home, he his imagination was starting to get the better of him." I said that I thought his latest move was symptomatic of white sing ers (Janis Joplin, for instance) who want to "legitimise" themselves and that the Faces were the perfect complement to Rod's singing. "Yeah," said Mac. "It's a necessary bit of roughage... "Actually." said Ron, "the musicians he's used on this al-bum are the cream of musicians. But as far as I can see it's a mistake. It's using people from one kind of musical field and trying to make them into rock musicians, which they're not. With Janis, something like the Full-Tilt Boogie Band was

Continues over page

Watch out Rod, she's after your vein.

What me worry? No! I mean Yes!

WE WASH FADE N'PRESS ALL OUR DENIM!

DENIM FLARES
(Seyle Nº 11016 25" Boktoms)
WAIST 28130132134136138 48
LEG 34 34 34 34 34 34 34
DENIM FLARES
(Seyle Nº 11053 29" Boktoms)
WAIST 28130/32/34/36 68.5°
LEG 34 07 36
DENIM FLARES
(Seyle Nº 118874 27" Boktoms)
(2 back pochets only)
WAIST 281 30/32/34/36 68.5°
LEG 34 07 36
DENIM FLARES
(Seyle Nº 118874 27" Boktoms)
(2 back pochets only)
WAIST 281 30/32/34/36 68.5°
LEG 34 07 36
DENIM TACKETS
30/32/34/34/48/48/48

30 1321341341381 £ $ 1.75
40(32)434106148
DENIM SHIRTS
115 51/61621/17 £ 7.25
CORD FLARES GrOX/Glue
Block / Novy / Dark Brown/ Dark Green
WAIST 28 130/32134/34/38 £ 7.50
LIGHT BLUE SHIRTS
14 1/421/8 1/531/61/62 £ 6
CHECK SHIRTS
1061 1850 1862 6 6
CHECK SHIRTS
1061 1860 1862 6 6
CHECK SHIRTS
1061 1860 1862 6 6

CHECK SHIRTS
Blue | Brown|Green|Red $7.50 MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

DENIM FLARES
(Scate Western Style or 4 Patch Petchets)
WAST 26 127 128 129 130 E7-50
LEG 36 136 136 136 136 136
LEG 36 136 136 136 136 136
LEG 36 136 136 136 136 136
CHELSER' DENIM FLARES
(26 Front Cross Packets)
Leg Seud on Back Packets)
Leg Seud on Back Packets
Leg Seud Packets
Leg 34
33 134
LEG 36
OXARIEGE DENIM
A-LINE BAGGETS
(VAREO DENIM A-LINE BAGGETS
(2 Back Packets Only)
LA 127 La 127 La 129 130 131 132
33 134 136 LEG 36
DENIM SHIPTS X SMALL | SMALL |
SMALL | LEG 36
DENIM SHIPTS X SMALL | SMALL |
LEG 36

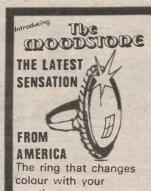

Lee for kids 4/6/8/10/12 E7 4/6/8/10/12 E7 VIM BIB'N BANCE 2/3/4/5/6/7/8/9 E5.25

DELIVERY 7/14 DASS

DENIM FLARES £7.5° (Style Nº FITS) £7.5° (2 Back Pockets Only) WAIST 28/30/32/34/36LEG36

(Add £2 Per Itor for All OTHER Countries emotions

Wear "The Moodstone" or "Awareness" ring and watch your moods reflected in its changing colours

SPECIAL PRICE £2.50 NME READERS

The ring is fully adjustable, gilt finished and is individually packed in presentation box.

Send cheques/P.O.'s to. DIRECT DISCOUNT CLUB 41 Blackacre Road

Theydon Bois

FANTASTIC VALUE !!

per flowing feminine less in cotton. Plain slours: Light Blue, earn. Dark Brown. ust. Wine, Black, Deep irple, Bright Green. So Red ingham, neckline mmed with cotton nmed with cotton e. IN ANY SIZE!! at se unbeatable prices Pinafore (sleeveless) 99 + 35p p&p. 99 + 35p pep Puffed steeved dress 99 + 35p pep late style size, colour and cheques or PO's to, Jennier Walker Degl. NME 30 Stag Leys, Ashlead Surrey KT21 2TF country mouse Send cheque/p.o. to Country Mouse, 66 St. Michael's Trading Estate, Bridport, Dorset.

TO ADVERTISE IN NME

01-240 2266

Allow 21 days delivery. State colour, design, alternative colour and size. Block capitals. Money back if dissatisfied

TRADE ENQUIRIES WELCOME

$ 399.4.25n.gp.gp.gp.gp. £3.99 + 25p p&p Smock £4.99 + 25p p&p Dress

ORIGINAL OLD DENIM GEAR

TOMMY'S JEAN STORE 151-153 Wellingborough Road

TOMMY MANUFACTURING (NME 5)
2 Oakley Street, Northampton (Please add £1 p&p if outside U.K.)

JEAN LAPEL JACKET

Nicely fitted flared jacket with centre vent. State chest/bust size.

JEAN WAISTCOAT

£4.50. Very well fitted old denim warsh back yoke. State chest/bust size

JEAN SHIRT

£6.95. Our ever popular old denim Jean shirt, wear it as a shirt or as a jacket. Cut to fit guys or chicks. State chest/bust size

SPLIT-KNEE JEANS
£6.50. Original old Levi or Wrangler jeans to the knee but flaring out with panels of matching old denim to 28' bortoms. State waist (girls.hips) and inside leg measurements.

JEAN BOMBER JACKET

£6.75 — with fur collar.

£6.50 — plain denim collar. Old denim bomber with two front pockets, chunky zep fastener and elasticated waistband and cultis. Looks glood on guys or chicks. State cheekbust size.

JEAN SKIRT
£4.75. Knee-length skirt made from Levi or Wrangler jeans, with V insert front and back. State hip size.

JEAN SHOULDER BAG £2.50 (not illustrated) Made from old Levi-Wrangler shorts with base sewn in and shoulder strap

JEAN OVERCOAT
£14.00 — with fur collar
£13.00 — with plain denim collar Knee old denim overcoat with stud fasteners a belt. State chestbust size.

Buy it with Acces

ALL GOODS ARE MADE FROM FAMOUS NAME OLD WORN DENIM JEANS TRADE ENQUIRIES WELCOME

We now accept ACCESS cards. Simply send your ACCESS number with your order and we will do the rest

SIZE OF DESIGNS ON BOTH T.SHIRT AND SWEAT SHIRT

All designs of full colour photo transfers are available on both superior quality T. Shirts and

Full Colour Photo

Exclusive to Anabas · Trade Enquiries Welcome Full Colour Photo Transfers are 100% Washable and Fade Proof, average Size of Picture 9" x 11"

very heavy cotton Sweat Shirts.

TIAT ERIC CLAPTON

ANABAS PRODUCTS LTO. (Dept. NME1)
CHESHAM CLOSE, CEDAR ROAD,
ROMFORD, ESSEX, RM7 7EX. ENGLAND.

PROBER TURN TO THE GERMANTS INCHES OF THE STATE OF THE CONTROL OF

3.95 P&P

20p

Sweat

Shirts

DENIM WESTERN FLARES & 8 (Scyle Nº F800) WAIST 28/30/32/34/36/38 LEG36 CENIMA - LINE BAGGIES
(Style Nº F325)
WAIST 20130132/34/36 LEG36 68
($ FUIL SIECUS, BUTTON THE LEG36 68) £11.50

DENIM FLARES
2 Sorte Pockets
Lee Cooper Studion Back Rock
WAIST 28/30/32/34/36/38
EG 36

HEQUES PO PAYABLE TO: MAIL TO:
JEAN KELLY. (DEPT NME)
THE MALL, BROMLEY, KENT BRI ITR
FREE POP UK EIRE BFPO

BOMBERS & BAGS ZIP BOMBER DENIM WAISTCOAT

DENIM BIKINI Knee-length £4.00 Calf-length £4.75 Send P.O./Cheque (plus 30p P&P) to BONEY MARONEY (Depl. NME) 387 Bath Road Briatol 854 3EU native colour choice for bombers and bags. Our usua always within 14 days. Prompt refund if unhapp

CORD £4.50 £6.00 £4.70 £3.90 £4.50 VELVET DENIM SATIN HI-WAIST BAGS

CORD $4.90 $6.60 $4.90 $4.90 VELVET DENIM Cream Canvas GABERDINE £5.60

ADDRESS

DRDER FORM

Atlas Castings, 40 Sydney Street, Brighton Like magic, your favourite pic-ture is shown beautifully on our Swiss precision made jewelled pin-lever digital watch, perfectly

AFGHAN COATS! 3 I. brown to 38" ch. New (slight invis. mend) £8.50 + 95p p&p (retail £19) pin-lever digital watch, perfectly reproduced by modern technological skills. The choice is endless. Send us your favourite photo of husband, wife, sweetheart, child, pop star (like Kojak right), footballer, film star, cricketer, pet. etc. Monochrome picture available on gold dial, or other colours available are: Silver, white, green, biue, red, orange or yellow. Please state colour preference. FREE Rolled gold multiflex strap to fit any wrist. Plus presentation case.

BIG BOY JEAN CO. (N) 48 Manor View, London, N.3.

presentation case.
Fully guaranteed for 12 months. Money refunded if not delighted. Ideal gift for Birthday, Wedding and Christmas.

Trade and Fan Club enquiries welcome. Send P.O., cheque or cash to UNIQUE GIFTS CO. (Dept. NME10) 7 Gerrard Stree London W.1

POSTAL BARGAINS FROM PERMAPRINTS  PERMAPRINTS (Dept. N.M.82) P.O. BOX, 201, 485 HORNSEY ROAD, LONDON N19 3QP ALSO AVAILABLE * CAGNEY MARLENE DIETRICH BOGART MONROE MARX BROTHERS 10. LAUREL & HARDY 13. ALEX HARVEY BAND 12. PANS PEOPLE 1. JAMES DEAN 3. EDWARD G 11. PINK FLOYD NOS. 1 to 10 NOSTALGIA POSTERS 40" x 30". B/W ONLY 80p EACH (or £2 FOR ANY 3) NUMBERS 11-14 FULL COLOUR POSTERS 38" x 25" ONLY £1 EACH. 14. YES NOW AVAILABLE 1976 CALENDARS 20" x 30" IN COLOUR ONLY 80p EACH IDEAL XMAS PUT COLOUR ON YOUR CHEST! GIFTS FROM ALL PERMAPRINT DESIGNS SHOWN BELOW il a though I walk PERMAPRINTS LIPSWAKIN THUSTOUTHCHIN AVAILABLE ON THREE GARMENTS through the unley of the shater of both I stall from no evil Cance I am NOAMACIN HEATIN the mounest Salt of a Bitch that NAUS ACREATIN ever malked in the valley ames ream 51. YES 52. LED ZEPPELIN 53. APOLLO T-SHIRTS Only £1.55 each (or £2.80 any 2) SWEAT SHIRTS Long sleeved T-Shirts Only £3.55 each (or £6.75 any 2) No. 20 SON OF A BITCH 55. JAMES DEAN No. 21 LIPSMAKIN No. 22 SNOOPY Only £1.95 each (or £3.70 any 2) HORTH CAROLINA All designs shown Nos. 51 to 119 are available on all three garments. OONE'S PA CAMEL Details as follows. Colours: Red, Yellow Blue, Black and Whit Sizes: 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 inches. It's frothy man When ordering state size, colour and one alternative colour. STRAWBERRY STATE HILL LIPSMAKIN THIRSTQUENCHIN GUTROTTIN BRAINDAMAGIN 59. CAROLINA 62. CAMEL 57. CRESTA BRAINDAMAGIN TEETHEATIN BLINDMAKIN NAUSIACREATIN WINDGIVINSOUL DESTROYIN STOMACHTURNIN COOLFIZZIN 60. STRAWBERRY HILL 61. DRINK TEAM ONTEND PATIENCE TOOK-64. NEW PINK FLOYD ETTRA STUUT GUINNES 1 11 1 63. LIPSMAKIN 68. GENESIS 69. QUEEN THE PARTY OF CONNA WILL PRISO WASHINGTON SOMETHING! NO HANDS!!! 66. INTER TITTY 67. VULTURES 71. GUINNESS 72. CONTENTS BA A just inid 77. DARTMOOR m noney? 73. HUNEY 79. WASHINGTON 74. BEACH BOYS DESIDERATA 78. STATUS QUO 75. BLACK SABBATH 76. BOOT AND O PLACIDLY AMID THE NOISE & HASTE, & REMEMBER WHAT PEACE THERE MAY BE IN SILENCE, AS FAR AS POSSIBLE WITHOUT urrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth FRIEND surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly & clearly, and listen to others, even the dull & ignorant; they too have their story. A Avoid loud & aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain & bitter, for always there will be greater & lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. We Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what wirtue there is, many persons strive for high ideals, and everywhere life is full of heaviers. 93. CANDY IS DANDY 81. LOOK BEFORE YOU MOUNT 86. SGT. PEPPERS MEWAN'S 87. SCREW 80. DESIDERATA (Complete Poem) The state of LOOK! FEWED IN SCOTLAND BEFORE YOU 83. TRUCKIN MOUNT 95 MOUNT [2] 92. McEWANS IS THE ONLY ANDWERS "Rollerball TRADE ENQUIRIES WELCOME VISIT THE PERMAPRINTS TRADE AND RETAIL SHOWROOM AT 292 HOLLOWAY ROAD, LONDON, N.7. 97. HEDGEHOGS PLEASE ADD the following for Postage and Packing: One garment add 25p (50p for abroad); Two or three garments add 35p (70p for abroad); For four or more garments add 45p (90p for abroad). For: Posters/Calendars add 20p (50p abroad) to total order. MARTIN FREE CATALOGUE OF OUR RANGE WITH EVERY ORDER 98 MARTINI 102. ROLLERBALL 99. NEW ZEPPELIN 101. FORD MURDERS Orders to: PERMAPRINTS (DEPT. N.M.82) 100. BLOOD Beer P.O. BOX 201, 485 HORNSEY ROAD, LONDON N19 30P YOUNGER'S Our beer which comes in bottles, wallowed be the fate, the will be drunk, As we will be drunk, IPRINT CLEARLY TUBULAR SMELLS 103. TUBULAR SMELLS bars as it is in hotels AMERICAN MALT LIQUOR daily beer, And lead us not into 107. EAGLE Special 105. ELTON ory bars, forgive those not who are reetotallers, But deliver us from 104. COLT 45 NEW 109 THE SENSATIONAL ALEX HARVEY BAND DESIGN being sober, for mine is the timple, the bottle and the can Oreper and ever, Ah Beer. 108. PEACE OFF 112. SANTANA 110. ROXY 111. COCKNEY REBEL NEW FROM PERMAPRINTS HAVE SEEN IN 119. OUR BEER KEY RINGS 3" x 2" PERSPEX attachments. Colour design Four titles CALLING ALL CLUBS, GROUPS, ETC HAVE YOUR OWN DESIGN TITS GREAT (A) DRINK TEAM (B) JAMES DEAN PRINTED ON T-SHIRTS N.M.82 (C) GUINNESS (D) YES (MINIMUM QUANTITY 20) Only 45p each + 10p p&p 116. NEW YORK 118. GREAT TITS 117. MOUTH WRITE IN FOR DETAILS

MUSICAL SERVICES

11p per word

ARTISTS/SONGWRITERS. Music transposed, arranged, transcribed from tape, etc. — Transmusic', 47 Eland Close, Kenton Bar, Newcastle Upon Tyne, NE3 3EP. 0632 864177.

EARN MONEY songwriting. Amazing free book tells how. — L.S.S., 10-11 (X) Dyden Chambers, 119 Oxford Street, London, W1; 6½p stamp.

LYRICS SET to music by professional composer. — Rynne, Quin, Ennis, Co. Clare, Ireland.

SONGWRITER MAGAZINE. Free sample from International Songwriters Association (NME), New Street, Limerick.

YOUR SONG recorded professionally. — Henshilwood, 130 Frankby Road, W. Kirby, Wirral.

SCOOPNECKS

Cotton interlock Scoop neck featuring flared sleeves and shirt tail bottom.

teil bottom.

Only 95p plus 17p p&p.

One size left only, size
35" chest/bust to 36"
colours: sky blue, brown,
white, pink. burgundy,
red. (Please state alternative colour).

FAN CLUBS

10p per word

ENGELBERT FANS (stamped addressed envelope please) to: Janet Wynn, Engelbert Humperdinck Fan Club, 49 Ashford Road, Ashford Common, Ashford, Middlesex.

GENE PITNEY Appreciation Society. — Sae. to Alan Bell, 89 Netherby Drive, Newcastle Upon Tyne, 5.

GILBERT O'SULLIVAN Official Fan Club. — Send stamped, addressed envelope to P.O. Box 251, Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs.

JET HARRIS OFFICIAL Fan Club. S.a.e. to: Carol and Jenny, 30 House Dan Close Strood. Kent.

TOM JONES Official Fan Club. — Send a stamped addressed envelope to P.O. Box 3, Shepperton, Middx.

COTTON DRILL

LOONS

Nice fitted loons, flared bottoms, in a good quality cotton drill. Only £2.50 plus 330 pp. 2 pairs 55p p&p. Colours: black, Pacific blue, maroon, brown, dark green, navy, purple. Guys waist sizes 27" to 34". Please state an alternative colour.

to 40". Please state an alternative colour. Girls, please state your hip size.

FOR SALE

7p per word

CZARIST MUSQUASH-LINED coat, sult 6 ft. man, condition excellent, guaranteed 1912, £200. — Box No. 3174.

DYLAN PHOTOS, four magnificent 10" x 8" b/w close up 1974 stage stu-dies, £2.75 per set. — Griffiths 66a High Street, Kingston, Surrey.

KINKS FANS. Unique items.— S.A.E. Babs, 34 Winchester Way, BL2

S.A.E. Babs, 34 Winchester Way, BL2 5AA.

PIRELLI CALENDAR, 1970, offers.

— Tel. 0.632 22.255 office hours.

ROCKSTAR — FULL colour concert photos. A set of 10 glossy 3½ in. by 5 in. is available of any of the following, priced £2.45 plus 10 p. P.&P.: Bowie, Rollers Essex, Purple, Reed, Ronson, Ferry, Gallagher, Entwistle, T.Rex., 10.cc, Cassidy, S.A.H.B., Pie, Bad Company, Sparks, Slade, Kinks, Who, Sayer, Earning, Queen, Harley, Steeleye, Quo, Wishbone, Hunter, N.Y. Dolls, Faces, Yes, Kiki, Etton. S.a.e., please, for lists. Money back guarantee. — Cheque/P.O. to: lan Clegg, 11 Woodside Crescent, Batley, W. Yorkshire, WF17 7DZ.

SPARKY PIANOS, bargains from SPARKY PIANOS, bargains from £25. — 136 Warwick Road, Sparkhill, Birmingham. Tel. 021-773 2289.

TOLKIENS HOBBIT Calendar, 1976; £2.25 inc. P.&.P. Lord of the Rings, 3 volumes in one edition £3.95 plus 40p P.&P. — S.A.E. for lists of Tolkien books and posters and other interesting books to: K. J. Stott, Polzeath, Wadebridge, Cornwall.

THE WHO AT WEMBLEY 10" x 8" glossy close-ups; also Roxy Music, Melanie, Alice, Wings and many others. Cheapest and best available. Money-back guarantee. — S.a.e. for details: Ten By Eight, 28 Sherriff Road, London, N.W.6.

WANTED

7p per word

BEATLES MONTHLIES wanted, preferably complete sets but also bought separately. Other Beatles material publications, etc. required. — Send details to: 32 Lindsky Drive, Chorley, Lancashire. Tel. Chorley 77573.

BOWIE'S M.M. article 22.1.72. — manda, 14 Grasmere Avenue, Ryde,

CASSETTES, CARTRIDGES urgently needed, ones or large quant. —
Details for quote to: Geocrafts, 49 Glynde Crescent, Bognor, Sussex.

PAUL SIMON concert tickets, exchange 2 tickets 12 Dec. for 2 tickets 11 Dec. — Box No. 3173.

SONG LYRICS wanted, exciting proposition. — Details (s.a.e.), Robert Noakes, 30 Sneyd Hall Road, Bloxwich, Staffordshire.

TICKETS for the forthcoing Frank Sinatra concerts. — Phone day 01-628 4791; eve. and weekend 01-654 4473.

WANTED, Composer to out music to my lyrics, must be into Elton John, Kent area. — Box No. 3175.

SHAPES MAIL ORDER (DEPT. WANTED DESPERATELY! Chicken Shack's I'd Rather Go Blind, £1, good condition. — P. Kenny, 1 Brook Road, Shotton, Deeside Clwyd.

For further details ring

01-240-2266

or write NME

Classified Advertisements

128 Long Acre, London WC2

RECORDS FOR SALE

Please add 50p for Box No. All Classified Advertisements must be pre paid

AAAAAHII "DOWN BOY" BILL CARLISLE. Seeking records like these on the original U.K. labels? Don't miss latest catalogue available now. Stacks of rock 'n' roll, rockabilly, doo-wop. Capitol, Mercury. Philips. London. Top Rank labels, mint condition, cheap prices. — U.S. labels include: P. Little "Hollywood" 85p. — Hoyt Johnson "You'll Never Be A Stranger 85p. — D. Burnette "Till The Law Says Stop £1. — Joe D. Johnson "Rattlesnake Daddy" £1. — Arabians "Crazy Little Fever (Called R 'n R)" Red Transparent label, over 20 years old, at only £1.50. — Albums by Paino Red "Rockin" With "£2. — Jo Ann Campbell "End" — J. Scott "Carlton/Rank". — Domino. — "Imperials," Valens. "Delf", London," — Cochran, and numerous other '50s greats SECTION B. Early '60's teen singers, U.K. beat groups, pop, soul, etc. Records from 15p. Every record listed gives the artist, title, label and price. Original labels at cheaper prices than re-Issuest! — Send only 15p stamps or P.O. to cover postage of 40-page complete catalogue (overseas two I.R.C.s) to Watson, 280 Neasham Road, Darlington, Co. Durham.

ABOUT OUR INLAND DIS-

ABOUT OUR INLAND AND OVERSEAS MAIL ORDER DISCOUNT SERVICE. Up to 35p discount on new LPs and cassettes. Overseas orders supplied, tax free, plus large discounts. Wholesale inquiries welcomed.

— Send for free catalogue listing 800 top sellers, or visit Cob Records N1300, Portmadoc, Caenarvonshire, U.K. (Tel. 07662170).

ABOUT RECORDS AND CASS

O76621701.

ABOUT RECORDS AND CASSETTES, efficient Mail Order Service for OVERSEAS CUSTOMERS only from JO-JO'S, TAX FREE, send for up-to-date CATALOGUE and BARGAIN OFFERS. — JO-JO'S RECORDS, 60 Adams Street, BIRMINGHAMB7 4AG, England.

HAMB7 4AG, England.

ACHTUNG — PLATTEN. Send for 2 f.R.C. for lists. — Goddard, 105 Canrobert Street, London, E.2.

ALWAYS AVAILABLE. Over 5,000 quality guaranteed used LPs. — Send for free catalogue or visit Cob Records N1300, Portmadoc. Caenarvonshire.

AMERICAN IMPORTS. Ten Soul or pop singles £1.00. Ten pop LP's £5.50. — ISA Ltd. (NME), New Street, Limerick.

Limerick.

AMAZING SELECTION of golden oldies (1955-75) from 10p. — S.a.e. for lists. — 82 Vandyke Street, Liverpool, oldies (1955-75) from 10p. — S.a.e. for lists. — 82 Vandyke Street, Liverpool, L8 ORT.

ATTENTION D.J.'s and collectors: Send s.a.e. for monster lists, unplayed oldies and ex-juke. — 105 Canrobert Street, London E.2.

ATTENTION! ACHTUNG! ATTE-ZION! Up to the minute U.K. and American chart albums plus soul, C/W and a very wide range of other LPs, cassettes and cartridges. We offer the lot, not just a selected few. Send for our free list now in good time for Christmas. Big savings — monthly new release mailout — quick efficient service — overseas and domestic enquiries welcome. Just Record exports, 41 Lynton Square, Perry Barr, Birmingham, England.

BARGAINS L.P.'S, 45's, all types,

BARGAINS L.P.'S, 45's, all types, many rare. — S.a.e.: 32 Whitehead Crescent, Wootton, I.O.W., PO33 4JF.

BILL HALEY original 78 Rock Around the Clock plus others. — Tel. 01-954 2069, after 6 p.m.

954 2069, after 6 p.m.

BRIGHTEN YOUR LIFE. Join Taw
Record Library. — Westover, lyybridge, Devon. S.a.e. details.

CHARTBUSTERS! 55-75. Always a fantastic selection of top fifty oldies available. Rock, pop, soul, Tamla. A must for collectors — a godsend for D.J's —
S.a.e. Diskery, 86/87 Western Road,
Hove, Brighton. Callers welcome.

DELETED L.P'S our speciality. —
S.a.e. for details I.T.C., P.O. Box 4, Birkenhead, Merseyside.

DELETED L.P'S, CASSETTES,

Sale, for details In.C., 10. Box 9, blk kenhead, Merseyside.

DELETED L.P'S. CASSETTES,
CARTRIDGES. Also Golden Oldies. —
Send for fantastic lists to Elpees, 70
High Street, Bexley, Kent.

FANTASTICI — PHIL SPECTOR
STORY — by Rob Finnis — most fax 'n' info and great pix 'n' discographys per square inch — few badges left — £1.85
inc. post and packing. — Rock On Books, 3 Kentish Town Road, London,
I.W.1

GOLDEN PAST HIT SINGLES including 1958. Albums, many Elvis Send 10p plus large s.a.e. for new Xmas list.
— £127 Peterborough Road, London,

GOLDEN OLDIES GALOREII Record Mart Magazine list 1000's every month — find that elusive disc through Record Mart! For latest issue send 40p P.O. to 16 London Hill, Rayleigh, Essex.

IMPORTS/DELETIONS. Albumsngles. — S.a.e. lists: 186 Bramall

/singles. — S.a.e. Lane, Sheffield 2.

/singles. — S.a.e. lists: 18b Bramall Lane, Sheffield 2.

JACK SCOTT Ponie" LP, in stock now £5.50 (p.&p. 25p) Also Crazy Cavan LP. £2.75 (p.&p. 25p). Shakin' Stevens (EP) Tear it up/Frantic etc. 90p. &p. 15p). Just arrived new batch of R. & R/R Billy 45's incl: Tony Cassonova — Boogie Woogie Feelin (Dore) £1.25, Mac Rebennack — Storm Warning (Rex) £1.50. Teen Beats — Swimming (O. Sound) £1.25, Move — Boyd Bennett (King) £3, Sadies Back in Town — S. Burgess (P.1) £3, Aunt Susie — Mr. P.T. & Party Timers (Federal) £3, You're Humbuggin Me — Rocket Morgan (27NN) £1.50. Surge — Monarchs IV (Erwin) £1.25 etc., etc. All in stock now! — At Vintage Record Centre, 91 Roman Way, London N7 BUN. (01) 607 8586 (Closed Mons & Tues).

KEITH POTGER (New Seekers) L.P.

KEITH POTGER (New Seekers) L.P. Philips 6308030. Mint. Singles Moody Blues, Go Now, Nights, Curved Air, Backstreet Luv. — Offers: Bowler, 108 Pinkneys Road, Maidenhead, Berks.

LARGE SELECTION ex juke box re-cords. — S.a.e., 47 Chelmsford Street, Weymouth, Dorset.

LARGE COLLECTION 50's on-ward. Elvis, etc. — S.a.e.: 3 Rawson Place, Sowerby Bridge, W. Yorks.

RECORDS FOR SALE

7p per word

RECORDS WANTED

7p per word

ALL YOUR unwanted 45s and LPs purchased. Good prices paid. Any quantity but records must be in good condition. — Send s.a.e. with list for cash offer, F. L. Moore Records, 167a Dunstable, Luton, Beds.

AS MUCH AS £1.40 allowed for your unwanted LPs in part exchange for any new LPs or top cash price paid. — Send for details or phone Cob Records (NI), Portmadoc, Caems. (Tel. 0766 2170).

EMMYLOU HARRIS' first album on Jubilee, £10 paid if unplayed. — Wolfgang Doebeling, 1 Berlin, 49, Lint-truperstr. 39.

EARLY BOWIE SINGLES, all on Reaction, Club of Lights, Join My Gang, Holy Holy, etc. etc. Interested in any deleted Bowie material. Your price. — John, 74 Hyde Park Terrace, Sheffield, $2.5 LW.

HELP ME to get those LPs songs by Ricky Nelson: LP 9082 The Very Thought Of You/For Your Sweet Love, also by Ricky Nelson. Records must be in good condition. Your price. — Write to: John Clemmensen, Birkmosevej 54, Rodover 2610, Denmark.

LPs/SINGLES by Todd Rundgren,

Rodover 2610, Denmark.

LPs/SINGLES by Todd Rundgren,
Rhondells, Vaughan Thomas, Beatles
(Italian, German, Fan Club Labels), Mad
River, Black Widow, Feargas, Paul Williams, Roy Orbison, Ray Stevens, Mario Lanza. State artist, titles, catalogue numbers, prices; enclose s.a.e. — Hayes,
23 Arundel Drive West, Brighton.

WHAT PRICE your Wishbone live from Memphis Greasy Truckers Party
Five Live Yardbirds, any Flamin' Grovies and Bootlegs. — Andy, 17 Bridgend, Kilwinning.

TUITION

11p per word

ACKNOW EDGED as the best, the lvor Mairants postal courses for the plectrum and finger style guitar. — particulars lvor Mairants Musicentre, 56 Rathbone Place, London, W1P 1AB.

BANDS

7p per word

A1 BAND. — 876 4542. DISCOTHEQUES BANDS, groups 01-361 9385. HOWARD BAKER, bands, groups Tel. 01-550 4043.

ENGAGEMENTS WANTED

6p per word

A1 ACCORDIONIST. — 4542. A1 PIANIST. — 876 4542.

SKINNY YOUNG DRUMMER

wanted for band into Loud Punk Rock M Dolls/Stooges Rock MC5/

Tel. 01-485 8113

FELLAS, ARE YOU A BORE?

Unsuccessful with women? Lack charm, personality, wit, confidence? Unique postal course can help!

S.A.E. to REF NE 5 RUPERT COURT, LONDON, W.1

-FREE DATE!!-

Meet new friends of the Opposite Sex

FREE INTRODUCTORY DATE! Plus a personal, friendly service

SEND S.A.E. TODAY
TWO'S COMPANY, 200A Mey London Road, Stone, Kent DA9 9JF

Dating Service

A sincere and confidential service for those looking fo friendship or marriage.

COUNTRYWIDE INTRODUCTIONS
67 (em) Slantgate, Kirkburton,
Huddersfield, HD8 0QN

Matchmaker

Place, Sowerby Bridge, W. Yorks.

OLDIE COLLECTORS, DJ's, rockers. Do you want records and information from the Golden 50's and 60's? If so, send 35p for our bumper magazine-listing with over' 1,000 golden oldie 45's, EP's and LP's. — Broadgreen Records, 266 London Road, Croydon, Surrey, (NM).

"OLDIES" 56-75, guaranteed condition, Large S.A.E. plus 5p for lists—21 Dukesway, Berkhamsted, Herts.
PASTBLASTERS GALORE! Top artists, top titles. — S.a.e.: 24 Southwalk, Middleton, Sussex.
POP, ROCK, soul, etc. State your wants and price, we'll supply. Roadrunner Records, 50 Bellhouse Road, Sheffield 5, Phone Sheffield 384096.

7p per word

POPULAR ROCK country brand new records at wholesale prices direct to customer, £2 L.P.'s at £1.25, £3 L.P.'s at £1.75. — Comprehensive catalogue 75p, to: Midland Mail Order Co. Ltd., 41 Femdown Road, Solihull, West Mid-lands.

SINGLES FOR sale, soul, pop, etc. Send S.A.E. for list — Wakefield Record Bar (Export) Limited, 55 Westgate, Wakefield.

Bar (Export) Limited, 55 Westgate, Wakefield.

SINGLES, GOLDEN oldies, ideal for D.J's, hundreds in stock, also L.P's.

S.ae, for lists, C. J. Feamley, High-field School, Liphook, Hants.

STOCK CLEA RANCE Pink Floyd's L.P, Obscured by Clouds, £2 including post and packing. — Princess Street Discount Stores (Records), 43 Princess Street Doncaster, Yorks.

SOUL COLLECTORS, our lists are not to be missed. — S.A.E. Graham Warr Records, 2 Carlton Road, Penn Fields, Wolverhampton, Staffs.

TAMLA SOUL, pop singles from 5p.— For list send large S.A.E. Soulscene, §8 Stafford, St., St. George's, Telford, Salop.

WARNER/REPRISE rare U.S. samplers. — Send s.a.e. for details. 15 Sawley Drive, Cheadle Hulme, Cheshire.

WHO, TOMORROW, Bowie, Standells, Action, P. Things, Creation, Yardbirds, Move, etc. Also rock 'n' roll and soul classics. — Send large s.a.e. (10p) for lists or state wants. 6A Ronalds Road, London N.5.

for lists or state wants. 6A Ronalds Road, London N.5.

ZZZZZZZZ — OOPS1 Nearly missed this week's advert again. — Been up all nite sending out Spector rarlius Istill some left). Shakin' Stevens EPs (8bp) — Crazy Cavan LPs (£2.75) etc. — Anyway, we got lots more goodies — Beatles 45s on Green Odeon — Lots of U.K. group albums and EPs in mint condition — Troggs — Kinks — Mindbenders, etc. Also huge selection of rock 'n' roll and rockabilly 45s, LPs and 78s (Werly Fairburn — All the Time, 78s — £5.00 — Little Richard 78s on Speciality £1.25 — Larry Williams £1.50 — all mint). Bargain albums — Siren — Strange Locomotion — £1.25 — Cowboy — Five II Getcha Ten — £1 — Dion & The Belmonts — Reunion (Live at Madison Square Garden — fantastic)— £1.45 — Sir Douglas — Mendocino — £2.75 — Belfast Gypsies £3.95 — Sky Saxon Blues Band £3.50 — Punk singles and albums list — now ready. Send London N.W. 1. Phone 01-485 5088. (Next to Camden Town Tube). Open Tuesday Saturday — 10.30 a.m.-7 pm. Thursday late opening 'til 8.30 p.m. Also at 1, 2 and 3 Soho Market, Newport Place, London, W.C.2.

1955-75. — Large sa.e. 32 Rovely Court, Stoney Stratford, Milton Keynes, Cou

1955-75. — Large s.a.e. 32 Rovely Court, Stoney Stratford, Milton Keynes Bucks.

5000 + OLDIES 1956/75. Send 10p for 18 page catalogue -- Rox (N), 67 Mill Lane, Wallasey, Merseyside.

PERSONAL

17p per word

ALONE? GENUINE introductions riendship/Marriage Confidential details S.A.E.) — Elite Bureau 243 Regent tireet, London W1R 8PN BEAUTIFUL GIRLS from Europe

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS from Europa Asia, Latin America want correspon-dence, friendship, marriage: details and sample photos free. — Hermes, Berlin 11, Box 110660, M.S. Germany. DO YOUR DATES TURN YOU ON? If not — switch to Scientifically matched dating and you'll date the kind of people who do. — Details from S.I.M. (NME/4) 109 Queens Road. Reading. EXCITING! DIFFERENT! The best service for dating/penfriends or romance or marriage; thousands of members of all ages; England and abroad. — For free details send s.a.e. to W.F.E., 74 Amhurst Park, London N.16.

mer. control N.1b.

GIRLS, WOULD you like to meet me? I'm a 21 year old car owner, likeable sort of guy. If you live in the Bromely or Blackheath area, why not write?

Box No. 3171.

Box No. 3171.

HOW TO WIN fans and influence agents. Buy my large mediaeval house in Norfolk. Built 1540. A real eye-stopper your friends will never believe you, £30,000. — Box No. 3172.

JANE SCOTT for genuine friends, introductions opposite sex with sincerity and thoughtfulness; details free. — Stamp to Jane Scott, 37MM North St., Quadrant, Brighton, Sussex, BN1 3GJ.

PENFRIENDS AVAILABLE, home and abroad. — S.a.e. to: Pen Society (T.88), Chorley, Lancs.

(T.88), Chorley, Lancs.

PENFRIENDS AT home and abroad all ages, send s.ae., for free details European Friendship Society, Burnley.

PENFRIENDS HOME and abroad.

H.F.B. Penfriends, P.O. Box 109, Stoke-on-Trent, S.ae., for details.

PHOTODATES (NM) — 29 West-fields Avenue, London, SW13 QAT POEMS NEEDED URGENTLY for new books, exciting prizes; send poems for free aditorial opinion. — Regency Press, A/3, 43 New Oxford St. London, W.C.1.

POEMS PUBLISHED free. International Poetry Guild, Rynne, Quin, Ennis, Clare, Ireland.

UNDER 217 Pen-pals anywhere.

UNDER 217 Pen-pals anywhere, send s.a.e. for free details. Teenage Club, Falcon House, Burnley.

WORLDWIDE CONTACTS in oc-cult, witchcraft, circles, etc. — S.A.E. to Baraka, The Golden Wheel, Liverpool, L15 3HT.

SITUATIONS VACANT

7p per word

EARN £100 MONTHLY, addressing envelopes plan. — S.a.e. to Homeworkers Agency, Site 3, Church Street Diss, Norfolk, IP22 30D.

TO ADVERTISE IN NME

01-240 2266

SHAPES SHOP

OPEN ALL WEEK

'Our beautiful Lee-made jeans come just in time for Christmas.'

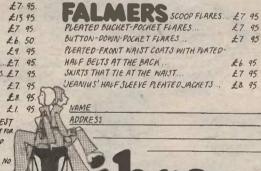

73 CORNWALLS ROAD EDMONTON, LONDON N9 OJJ

For dancin'cheek-to-cheek at bum Christmas-parties, our faded Lee & Falmers are 2nd to none. Send away for your pair now and join the fun.

SCOOP FLARES SAFARI JACKETS JACKETS. NEW STYLE SHIRTS. BAGGY DUNGAREES. CHELSEA'FLARES WITH BACK & SIDE POCKETS... £7. 95. 'NAKED'FLARES WITH 2 BACK POCKETS& BUTTONS . £7. 95. OXBRIDGE BAGGIES WITH SIDE POCKETS ...

PORTOBELLO' FLARES WITH & POCKETS ... BEANIE HATS & CAPS. WHEN ORDERING PLEASE STATE BUST, CHEST AND WAIST SIZES PLEASE ADD 25P PER GARMENT FOR NASHING & FADING & PLEASE PONT FORGET THE SOP PER GARMENT FOR THE PRP IF YOU'RE USING YOUR ACCESS CARD TO PAY FOR THE STUFF LETS HAVE YOUR NO PLEASE MAKE CHEQUES, POSA MOS PAYABLE TO LIBRA! SEND IT WITH YOUR ORDER TO LIBRA (NME), IS, SHRUBBERY RD, STREATHAM, LONDON, S.W.16.

YOU MUST BE DELYGHTED OR RETURN
WITHIN 7 DAYS FOR FULL CASH REFUND (LESS PAP)
SHOP AT LIBRA 10 TILL 6 MONDAY TILL SATURDAY.

SKIRTS THAT TIE AT THE WAIST .. DEANIUS' HALF SLEEVE PLEATED JACKETS . £8. 95. ADDRESS

Fashion is Fading

CCLES-SKIR Style 245 DENIM JEAN JACKET £5.99 DENIM JEAN TYPE SKIRT or PLAIN £4.99 Style 242 BAGGIES CORD 5.20 GABERDINE 5.50 DENIM 5.60 CALICO 5.25 DENIGAL 6.25 VELVET (Side pkt. DENIM JEANS Side or Back Pkt.only $5.99 FLARES Style 244 CORD 5.10 GABERDINE 5.40 DENIM 5.50 CALICO 5.15 DENIM DRESS £9.99 COLOURS SIZES R 75 CORD 4.50 DENIM 4.60 DONIGAL 4.90 SATIN 3.80 VELVET 6.00 CALICO 3.99 GUYS 26"- 36" 32"- 42" CHICKS 8-18 32"- 42" CORD-GABERDINE-CALICO SATIN-VELVET: BEIGE-BLACK-NAVY-GREY BROWN-WHITE-LIGHT BLUE BOTTLE GREEN-BURGANDY DENIM WAISTCOAT £4.25 PLEASE STATE: COLOUR SIZE STYLE ALTERNATIVE OSTAGE & PACKAGING CHEQUE/P O PLUS POSTAGE AND PACKAGE TO Dept. NME DENIM FADED wrider 11061 (70 High Street Jean Co Dudley West Midlands DONIGAL: BLACK or BROWN DENIM: WASHED or NAVY of Berlin audiences. Then everyone begins to feel better. It's not so bad getting the bird when it puts you in such illustri-ous company. The German M.C. arrives backstage and launches into a blistering tirade against his fellow citizens that shows a remarkable command of basic English. Full of apolo-gies, he promises a better reception next house. Then a few fans manage to sneak in, con-firming his opinion with a similar set of epithets that you won't find in any regular Anglo-German phrase book.

R & B like it used to be Contd.

Continued from page 37

By now the fighting spirits have been raised again and they're all prepared for anything to happen.

They needn't have worried. The goons had gone safely home to bed, replaced by a house full of impatient enthusiasts raring to go. It was a wipe-out. The same show that had just collapsed in the middle takes off from the opening num-ber and just goes on flying high-

ACROSS

Baldry?

See below.

Oscars. See 27

In hobo drag, Clark Kent's flash-rock rival?! P. Noone as was.

One dimension of John

Materially similar to Lou's New York roots! Husband Richard is ex-Fairport, now they perform together. Loony label?

& 31 In Vic's a daddy? (anag. 5,7).

& 14. American music industry's equivalents of

One of two U.S. members of short-lived power trio starring Scotland's own J. Bruce. John or J.J. Correct form of address

U.S. records conglomerate incorporating Warners, Atlantic, Elektra labels (inits.).

Almost cut his hair (4,6).

Does he play gorilla to his old lady's possum?!

girlfriend of P. McCartney, brother Peter now manages 26

Featured cover drawn by

Klaus Voorman, and widely regarded as Beatles finest creative White punks on dope — L.A.'s latest shock-rock attraction (3,5).

for Jimi's Joe!

Eight piece outfit.

33 Sister Jane was one-time

31 See 13.

across.

achievement.

This time Johnny Watson slays 'em with his artistry and slays 'em with his artistry and even gets a few squeals from the girls. Forty years old, and looking all of 25, it surely can't be long before he hits the big time. As Jay chided him when he came offstage, "You got no damned right to look so pretty at your age".

Jay goes on to a roar of approval. After the previous fiasco he'd cut his act down to three numbers, so he can hardly three numbers, so he can hardly believe it when he brings the back for a rousing encore.

And then the only man in town who could possibly follow that — Bo Diddley. In black shirt and hat, pillar-box red pants and waistcoat, and demonstrat- ng that he can still turn on the fancy footwork,, he gets the whole theatre rockin'. After years of appearing with incompetent pick-up bands, here's his chance to play with excellent musicians and he doesn't miss a trick. You haven't seen nothing 'til you see

Bo and Johnny cuss one another out in a spectacular 'talking guitar' routine.

The rest of the tour is a jumbled impression of exciting music, cheering audiences and back-slapping reminiscences about the hey-day of rhythm and blues. Paris audiences are even more enthusiastic than second house at Berlin, and whereas the one city was started by Jay's "Constipation Blues", here they actually shout requests for it. This is his city. They've been waiting twenty years to see the man and they can't get enough.

But by now everyone on the bill is a sensation, even James Booker 'rehearsing'. Standing in the wings watching his first set, the band are amazed to see him stroll on stage in his street clothes and run through a con-siderably looser but equally compelling act than usual. Fif-teen minutes later he's standing next to me watchin the band.

Mind you, he's supposed to be on stage with them — nevertheless, here he is in the wings. After a few minutes restless con-templation he leans across and enquires "how long is this rehearsal going on?"

Here's a man who's just played before a couple of thousand cheering fans and thought it was a sound-check. It was that kind of show . . . it was that kind of tour.

As I reluctantly head for the blues-starved shores of Britain, I wonder yet again, why wasn't this show brought across the Channel?

INSTRUMENTS FOR SALE

AMERICAN EPIPMONE Caballero acoustic, original condition, untouched since 1965, with case, exchange for playable 330, Casino or similar. — 01-940 6555.

BODH RANS for sale, hand-made, £20 plus P.&.P. — Write, D. Ryan, 923 Springfield Estate, Tallaght, Co. Dublin, Iroland

COLUMBUS L/P new, £35. Fenton practise amp, £10. — 720 7371.

COLUMBUS LEGISON ES120T CUSTOMIZED GIBSON ES120T CUSTOMIZED GIBSON ES120T plus case, £180. Old, very rare and beautiful. — Charlie, Bristol (0272) 29481, ext. 134/5 (day time).

CUSTOM Les Paul, Walnut, Gibson, Humbuckers, controls, fittings, etc., excellent guitar, with case, £ 125, or swap good stratocaster/telecaster. — 01-672

DAN ARMSTRONG guitar, with case, perfect. — 01-346 1834. EPIPHONE BASS. — 837 4242, EPIPHONE ET280 bass, good condition, £60. — 01-592 5666.

dition, £60. — 01-592 5666.

EPIPHONE RIVOLI bass guitar, Blonde, good condition, £90 o.n.o. — 203 3879.

EPHPHONE 6 STRING bass, £180. — Chris, 01-992 7471.

EPIPHONE WHILTSHIRE, 1962, £155. — 15 Churchfield Rd, Ealing, FENDER JAZZ BASS, 1962, US built, in good condition, inc. original Fender case. £198 ono. — Call 247 2082, ext. 2. — 01-531 6211.

FENDER MUSTANG, bass, excellent condition, £185, with case. — 01-531 6211.

excellent condition, £ 125, with case. — 01-531 6211.

FENDER PRECISION BASS, old but good! £150 onc. — Perth 28437.

FENDER Precision, isx months old, cannot sell case, hence £155 onc. — 622 2107.

FENDER PRECISION L/H, nice, £180. — Ingreboume 47380.

probably best remembered for "Hold On I'm Coming" (3,3,4). Not just any ordinary axes! (4,7). Original line up featured David Brown (bass) and Mike Shrieve (Drums). Recent bit for H. Reddy 622 Z107.

FENDER PRECISION L/H, nice, £180. — Ingreboume 47380.

FENDER PRECISION ORIGINAL, 1960. natural, wide neck, ebony fretboard and case, immac. £180, or swap for Dan Armstrong ES3. Guild bass. — Ring 370 1637.

FENDER STEEL GUITAR, £80.

Gibson Blue Ridge acoustic, £165. — 01-954 5868.

FENDER STRA. White, Maple ne k, tremelo, no dents or scratches, first class, £225. — Tel. Oxford (0865) 773645 days, 34022 evenings.

FENDER TELECASTER, 1966.

Maple neck, natural body case, £180 ono. — Phone Leslie, 01-883 7097.

FENDER TELECASTER de luxe, Recent hit for H. Reddy (5,4).

(3,4).
Straight-shooting guitarist (4,6).
Cut original of "I'd Rather Go Blind" subsequently covered by Chicken Shack and R.

'Never A Dull Moment".

A Pretty Thing (4,3). Little Miss Dynamite of the 50's (6,3).

32 Soul partnership

Stewart (4,5). See 28. 27 & 19 James Dean's first

FENDER TELECASTER de Juxe, Sunburst, Mapleneck, Humbuckers, 1 year old, immaculate with plush-lined case, £185, consider part-exchance, also 6-string steel guitar with stand and case, £40. — 01-672 8056 (6.30-8 (sensational) starring movie (4,2,4).

28 & 24 down Or wart Betty (anag. 6,5).

30 Just like Mr. Cochran.

32 See 7.
33 Dirty rat remixed comes out smelling clean!

case, £40. — 01-672 8056 (6.30-8 p.m.), FENDER MUSTANG bass, £110: Sound City 120W. amp., £50; Marshall 4 x 15 cab. £110; or offers. — Ring Reading 59292. FENDER STRATOCASTER, black tremelo, excellent condition, £180. — Worthing 36190 weekdays, or Worthing 36939 evenings and weekends. (Courtesy Cryptic Clues

Worthing 36190 weekdays, or Worthing 38939 evenings and weekends.

FENDER BASSMAN 100 wt. bass amp and cab. list price £440, our price £360, new and fully guaranteed. — Pall Mall Music, 58 Pall Mall, Chorley, Lancs. Tel. Chorley 71124.

FLUTE, YAMAHA Concert, In unused condition, £79. Also Italian, £45.—01-440 0066.

GIBSON DOVE Sunburnst, untouched, plus case, £450, Hofner Verithin cherry semi-acoustic, vgc, plus GIBSON LES Paul De Luxe, £200.—Cheltenham 25988.

case, £80.—Ring 01-584 0741 after 6.30 p.m. during week.

GIBSON FLYING V, 1970, with hardshell, Martin D-35, 1973 with hardshell, Martin D-35, 1973 with hardshell, All immaculate. Private sale.—Leicester 739573.

GIBSON HERITAGE, as new, six months old, £300.—Phone Simon, Horley 2112, Sundays only.

GIBSON KES PAUL Deluxe, Cherry Sunburst, good condition, shaped hard case, £250. Watkins, Copicat, £35.—Mr. Knibb, Flat 2, Bournemouth 35436 day time.

GIBSON LES PAUL Deluxe, gold.

day time.

GIBSON LES PAUL De Luxe, gold, as new, £240, Fender Telcaster Pre CBS, £150. Marshall 200W stack, RHODES MUSIC CO.

22 DEN MARK STREET
01-836 4656
All prices include V.A.T.
AMPS & CABINETE
0 range PA 120 120 graphic, 120 alaves and mixers in steck and 4 x 12 and colounas, etc.
1 steck and 4 x 12 and colounas, etc.
2 Caribber Tep 100 map
1 Enan 100 Stava
1 Enan 100 Stava
1 Enan 100 Stava
2 Enan 100 Stava
3 Enan 100 Stava
4 Enan 100 Stava
5 Enan 100 Stava
5 Enan 100 Stava
6 Enan 100 Stava
7 Enan 100 Stava
8 Enan 100 Stava

spares

Gibson Las Paul Custom, within

Gibson Flyton V and case

Gibson Las Paul Deluxa, peld

Gibson Las Paul Deluxa, peld

Gibson SS Standard, cherry

Gibson SS Standard, cherry

Gibson SS Standard, cherry

Gibson SS Standard, cherry

Gibson GR Stendard, cherry

Gibson GR Stendard, cherry

Gibson GR Sheen Lass Lilleng y-up

Gibson GR Sheen Lass Lilleng y-up

Gibson GR Standard, cherry

Frander Strat S-In New

Frander Lift Telephone Lass Lilleng

Hary CSL - Epiphone - Suratt - Yuma

and occostics.

ALL PRICES INCLUDE VAT

PALL MALL MUSIC

The Electronic Music Specialist 58 PALL MALL, CHORLEY, LANCS. Tel. Chorley 71124

Agents for Yamaha Amplification, Guitars, Portable Organs and Organ - Speakers (up to 200 watt), etc.

ROLAND SYNTHESISERS, ELECTRONIC PIANOS, TAPE ECHOS AND EFFECTS UNITS

WANTED!!

Cash waiting for all disco equipment, guitars, amp-lifiers, and all group gear.

ALPAT SOUND 82-91 Lee High Road Lewisham, S.E.13 Tel. 01-852 9516

MUSIC PROJECTS

AMAT HAND MADE WOODEN CONGAS MEDIUM SIZE 12" £89.85 INCL. V.A T. LARGE SIZE 13" £98.22 INCL. V.A T. BONGOS IN SETS OF 3 AT £65.99 INCL. V.A.T. BONGAS IN SETS OF 2 AT £44 00 INCL. V.A.T.

76 Balls Pond Rd., Islington, N.1 Tel: 01-249 2850

MUSIC GROUND

STATION ROAD, STAINFORTH NR. DONCASTER. Tel. 0302 841398 Stockists for Orange, Marshall, Carlsboro, Ampeg, Peavey, W.E.M., etc. Largest discounts in the area — good part exchange, H.P. arranged

LIKE PRIVACY?

Soundproof Studios in private grounds, per hour and £2.00 per hour. 24, 7 days a week, only 40 minutes from the West End

WE WOULD LIKE TO PLEASE YOU FARMYARD INSTRUMENT RENTALS

SYNTHESISERS?

You will be amazed at the MINI-SONIC 2—a sophisticated synthe-siser for stage and studio at a truly extraordinary price.

For a free demonstration, ring: SMS, 12 HOLLAND PARK, (BASEMENT), W.11 01-221 5665

EQUIPMENT FOR SALE

ABSOLUTE BARGAIN, 100 watt PA system, five H/H amps, TPA 100s, 2 bass bins, 2 mid range bins (2 x 12 in.), 2 horns, 3 way active crossover, excellent Stak miker, complete with snake, £1,000 o.n.o. — Tel. Gerrards Cross 82632.

ACOUSTIC 136 combo, excellent, £200 o.n.o. — Bob, 51 Eisham Road, W.14.

ACOUSTIC 150 mid.

ACOUSTIC 150 guitar stack, good condition, £225 o.n.o. — 01-727 1163.

INSTRUMENTS WANTED

ALL TYPES of guitars purchased.
Alpat Dealers, 91 Lee High Road, London, SE13, 01-852,9516
ALL TYPES of amplification purchased.
Alpat Dealers, 91 Lee High Road, London SE13, 01-852,9516.

GOOD GIBSON or Fender guitar wanted, also Shure Unidyne 3 microphone, cash waiting private buyer. — 01-672 8056 (6.30-8 p.m.).

PURCHASED FOR CASH, good guitars, amplifiers, Hammond organs; top prices. — 01-836 7811.

ORANGE 3-4 NEW COMPTON ST., W.C.2 Tel: 01-836 7811/3 01-240 3159 ORANGE SUPER SALE GIBSON LEFTHAND IN STOCK LES PAUL CUSTOM EBONY LES PAUL DE LUXE SUNBURST S.G. STANDARD S.G. SPECIAL RICKENBACKER 4001 STEREO BASS OUR PRICE £350 FENDER BASSES for left ha SECOND-HAND GUITARS GIBSON 335 FENDER STRATOCASTER FENDER JAGUAR FENDER MUSTANGBASS GUILD STARFIRE EPIPHONE OLYMPIC MICROFRSET + CASE HARMONY H75 Mustang Musicmaster£100 New Suzuki 6 + 12 strings ORANGE FULL RANGE ALWAYS AVAILABLE ARP 2600 SYNTHESISER COMPLETE £900 MINI KURG £280. MOOG SATELLITE £280 AMPLIFIERS — New FENDER TWIN REVERS TWIN REVERS OBL... VIBRO CHAMP £275 £345 £55 £49.02 £105 SOUND CITY L150 SOUND CITY B150 SECONDHAND EQUIPMENT DUAL SHOWMAN COMPLETE BASSMAN COMPLETE TWIN REVERB FENDER SPEAKERS TWIN REVERB GAUSS SPEAKERS CARLSBRO 2 x 15 NEW VOX AC30 SOUND CITY 10 CHANNEL MIXER LANEY 200 WATT TOP MARLBORO COMBO VOX 4 x 12

FIREHAWK 50 COMBO - LOUDEST SMALL AMP COMBO EVER-£90

ROCK ON WITH

VOX 4 x 12 SIMMS WATTS 2 x 15

RS 66 'SWING BASS' RS 77 'JAZZ BASS'

GAUGE SELECTION

JAMES HOW INDUSTRIES BEXLEVHEATH KENT ENGLAND

Woodwind, Organ or String — Disco Units, Microphones, Amplifiers or Accessories — you can get them from Bell's, London's largest musical stockists. purchase terms can be arranged if you wish to suit your personal convenience. You are most welcome to call if you can or send coupon below for details of the instruments in which you are interested.

ALL THESE CATALOGUES

CUT OUT THIS FREE CATALOGUE COUPON . Post to BELL MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS LTD. (Dept. MX.51)

157-159 EWELL ROAD, SURBITON, SURREY Please send me any TWO Catalogues or details of the instrument(s) marked below

.....(CAPITAL letters, please)

I WOULD LIKE DETAILS OF

WRH

ACROSS: 1 Jim Capaldi: 7 "(Gasoline) Alley": 8 Arthur Lee: 9 Purple: 12 "Gasoline (Alley)"; 14 "Emma": 15 (Gilben) O'Sullivan: 16 Ian (Gillan): 17 "Let (It Be)": 18 "Tutti Frutti": 20 Grease (Band): 21 Hamish (Stuart); 22 "The Last Time)": 24 Elektra: 27 Metal: 28 ABC: 29 "(Let) It Be": 30 Howlin' (Wolf): DOWN: 1 "Jean Genie": 2 "Cahoots": 3 Allen Klein; 4 Deep: 5 Flop: 6 Ben E.: 10 "Ummagumma": 11 "Lamplight": 13 "(The) Last Time": 15 "On The Beach": 19 Taste: 20 Gillian: 21 Hardin (And Yourk): 23 Heavy (Metal): 25 K-Tel: 26 Amen (Corner).

LAST WEEK'S

ANSWERS

One half of rock'n'roll's most famous sibling pairing (4,6).

- Reggae bossman.
- Collectable Lennon (6,4).

DOWN

Hendrix-composed, covered by Rod on

WANT to save Bruce Springsteen from death by comparison to the wrong man.

Our New Yorker corker owes rather more to Arthur Lee's "bummer in the summer" style a la "Forever Changes" than to anything Bob Dylan has uttered. In fact, other than the fact that Bruce cannot grow a proper beard, talk of resemblance to Dylan is puzzling to say the least. Bruce doesn't even speak for a whole generation. He paints a picture of lovers and street life hums in of losers and street life bums in his neighbourhood — and that is all, substantially. Purely by il-lusory reflection do the majority of his listeners identify with the unorthodox lifestyle the singer projects.

Springsteen is a colourful story teller who might fit Jackanory when he reaches middle-age. Dylan was a serious philosopher who simplified the theories of his more high falutin' mentors for the ordinary people, who were thus given a new awareness that affected their entire outlook.

Springsteen is a minstrel who juggles with words, someone who scavenges from a bundle of who scavenges from a bundle of different musical styles and forges his own from that. Never have I heard one of his songs and thought: "Aha, he bin ripping of Dylan."

Who then, should we compare Bruce to? No one, cost hat's sheer laziness.—

ROBBIE BRECHIN, 37 Whitehall Place. Aberdeen.

tehall Place, Aberdeen.

• I'm glad your letter left me no reason to answer because this means I can now ignore Bruce and concentrate instead of a man of real charisma: Attila the Hun. Attila and Bleda were the nephews of Rua, King of the Huns — who by the middle of the fifth century A.D. had blitzed their way from the blitzed their way from the-Volga to the Danube, terroris-ing the Gepids and the Alans and virtually exterminating the ramshackle empire of Er-manarich the Ostrogoth. In 445 or thereabouts Attila had murdered his brother and assumed leadership of the ferocious nomads, who then prepared to (Continued next answer).

IT'S THURSDAY night, and on Tuesday I'm off to see Bruce Springbear so I thought I'd write to you before Philip Norman and Derek Jewell enter the scene.
One thing about Brucie, he's hard to ignore unless you don't have a radio, don't read anything post-war and never go out. Obviously the hype has gone too far, although thanks to CSM's marvellous piece a few weeks ago, I think he'll be pretty amazing next week (I even think that Andrew Tyler ended up impressed by the act).

But what of the albums?

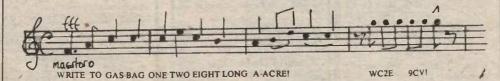

"Greetings From Asbury Park N.J." is obviously Dylan-influenced in its lyrics, but the influenced in its tyrics, but the only track that sounds to me like Bobby is "For You" where the keyboard is an obvious "Highway 61"/"Blonde On Blonde" period rip-off. Still, it's an excellent debut album. I'll discuss "Born To Run" in a few words — it's good, very good even if a little over produced but even if a little over produced but "Tenth Avenue Freeze-Out" and "Jungleland" are pretty

In my opinion Springbot's ain claim to fame lies with "The Wild, The Innocent & The E Street Shuffle" which rates with "Countdown to Ecstasy", "Sailin' Shoes" and "For Everyman", as perhaps the albums of the '70s (so far).

Have you really listened to it, you NME people you? Aren't you grabbed by the romantic feel, the knee-melting beauty of "Sandy" and "New York City Serenade", and what about the organ-break on "Kitty's Back", the late-night laid-back lyricism of "Incident On 57th Street" and, last and best, the magnifi-cent "Rosalita" which I con-sider the most exhiliarating piece of music I've ever heard If he's gonna keep on makin' music like this, they can hype him into the White House. Probably will.

Sorry this letter was so long. Bruce Springsteen is OK. Rock music is OK as long as we've got the Dan, the Wailers, the

Yes, it's the Theme from GASBA

Was Attila the Hun the Old Bob Dylan?

Feats. NME is the best music paper around. See ya at Hammersmith — both gigs. — CHRIS KIRKHAM, London

• (From previous answer) advance into central Europe. In alliance with Goths, Alans and renegade tribesmen, Attila's hordes of swift horse-archers swept into Hungary, razing citles and driving the Burgundians and the armies of the defunct Western Roman Empire like chaff. The Gothic and Roman infrantry, brought down and corrupt, were no match for the Huns: the nomads' ability to (Continued next answer)

WHAT A mealy-mouthed bunch of cheapskate chisellers you are, you lot. You just don't know how to handle a phenomenon do you? Give you a hardworking cult like Feelgood, or an ethnic un-derprivileged hero like Marley, or this week, a time-tested un-derdog like Nils Lofgren, and you're in your element. Second league sniping and grovelling.

But Springsteen. You haven't got a h'apeth.

Sure you've given him coverage. Insurance in case he does make it, but you've certainly had your money's worth. First, Charles "Star" Murray's wholly undeserved "Forget the albums, they're trash" — which must have completely under-mined any curiosity instilled in your readers' minds. They're not trash. None of them. Whats more "Born to Run" must rank up there with "Highway 61" and "Ziggy Stardust". It's a distillation of twenty-odd years of rock music you dunderheads. Get your fingers out of your bums and use them to unplug our ears.

Then this week we have the continued sniggering headline grabbing jerkoff about the Springsteen Hype. The man's got enough Record Company got enough Record Company crapola to get through without your half-assed tittering. "Wall of Faith" — pah! "King's New Clothes" — pshaw! You're victims of your — and I use the word inadvisedly — art. Your worn out, played out, battered shattered, weather-beaten, footsore style of journalism has sore style of journalism has rendered your critical facilities inert to the perception of talent. He's the greatest new figure to emerge in rock since the Beatles, dare I say, since Elvis.

Yep. Nick Logan's little coterie of squirmers is going to be pretty busy re-assessing over the next few years. But don't worry. I know you'll find a way to wriggle out of it. Jus' joshin', huh, folks. — JULIAN MOSELEY, 24 Colebrook West Hill, London Close, SW 15.

Attila: wrote songs, invaded Europe, had a good thing going until numbered by a nosebleed.

• (From previous answer) concentrate, disperse and reconcentrate; and their tested policy of utterly ruthless extermination (they razed all cities which did not surrender and literally depopulated the territories they occupied) sent a wave of terror ahead of them which effectively numbered (Continued next answer)

GLAD YOU did a review of Feelgood last week. We wondered what was wrong when Wilco went off stage, and of course when their set ended, we, like everyone else, expected them to come back on, but they didn't, and we all had to go

However, if that was Feelgood operating below par, all I can say is they must be un-believable when they're playing well. my sister and I only went because we'd read so much about Feelgood in NME, all to the good, so we thought we'd better see them.

We were a bit doubtful at first, especially when the set started, but then we were convinced - well, I was complete ly won over, but my sister's still not quite. — DEBBIE LOE, Barnes, SW 13.

• (From previous answer) all opposition. By the year 451 Europe was freaked out and the Huns under Attila had crossed the Rhine and were menacing the Romanised (i.e. decadent) province of Gaul. Luckily for the city of Orleans, besieged by the Huns in 451 A.D., the Western Empire had at least one man of real ability: the Patrician Actius. Forming a desperate alliance with Theodosius the Visigoth, Actius force-marched into Gaul and raised the siege of Orleans by means of desperate street means of desperate street fighting. He then pursued the checked (but by no means defeated) army of Attila across the Mauriac Plain and, at the great battle of Chalons that same month, sent the Huns reel-ing back across the Rhine.

Nonetheless the Hunnish army was not defeated. The following year they crossed the Alps into Italy itself and began to beat up the countryside as they moved south. Rome lay defenceless. (Continued next answer)

I DON'T like The Who, Led Zeppelin, Roxy or the Feelgoods.
I do like Yes, ELP, Greenslade and Camel.
Am I a Philistine or an electrician. — JON ANDER-SON, Blandford Forum, Dorset.

• (From previous answer) At this point the Pope (a certain Leo) decided to lay his sacer-dotal cajones on the line: he led an embassy to Attila's camp and (Continued next answer)

I WOULD JUST like to say a huge thankyou to Bob Edmands for his outstanding review of John Fogerty's latest album.

I am the proud owner of nineteen albums, either by Creedence, by the individual members, or in tribute to Creedence by other groups.—F. C. JOGERTY (no address).

• (From previous answer) attempted to (Continued next answer)

I REFER to Bob Woffinden's excellent "Quick Before They Vanish" (NME 8 November). He quotes "The success of David Bowie's 'Space Oddity' re-issue really is unique. Never before — listen carefully, has any re-issued single which has already been a Top 10 record first time around subsequently reached No. 1".

Sorry, Bob, I hate to prove you wrong. One record has actually done better than Bowie's, namely "Honey" Goldsboro. by Bobby Goldsboro.

Whereas "Space Oddity"
only reached No. 5 back in 1969, "Honey" reached No. 2 in 1968, and then when it was re-issued earlier this year it went one better and reached

No. 1.

Don't get me wrong. Personally I can't stand "Honey" or Bobby Goldsboro - just setting the record straight so to speak. — MARTIN JONES, speak. — MAR Crewe, Cheshire.

• (From previous answer) dissuade the ferocious and pissed off Hun from sacking the Eternal City. Although Chris-tian legend claims that Attila was deterred by the plous thunderings of His Holiness (some hopes), it seems more likely that the Hun (Continued next answer)

THERE SEEMS to be a lot of arguments and doubts as to who really is "The Greatest Rock "n' Roll Band in the World". As far as I can see the title belongs to the group touring at the time, whether it be the Stones, Zep or the Who.
Notice how they never tour at the same time.

Zep were the "Greatest ..."
last May when they appeared at Earls Court. The Who were the "Greatest ..." last month. The Stones will be touring soon. You see if they get the title then. I can't see them touring without it.

Who ever is the "Greatest..." one thing is certain, THEY'RE ALL BRITISH, and I can see very little or no rivalry from the States or anywhere else, for the title.

DUNCAN DE BONDT, Kemptown, Brighton,

I'VE JUST realised the reason so many of us dislike the music of Black Sabbath.

It's because — now hold on because this might sound really silly — they are realists. They play paranoid music to people who are themselves paranoid. So to those people the aural trip they are being presented with is completely realistic, they relate

We (who dislike it) find no attempt in this music to trans-cend the barriers of ego and paranoia, inferiority complexes, and all the rest of it. The Black Sabbath solution is simply to give in to your own bad trip instead of seeking an escape to a higher awareness, and eventually to even glorify in it. It's the mental state of the barbiturate and heroin addict; the kind of perverted romanticism and self pity that leads him to accept even the final "Death-Trip".

The opposite of this is the music of Jimi Hendrix, which at the heat completely transcended.

its best completely transcends the ego in ecstatic selfawareness and freedom. Too bad he died. It will never be known whether it was a complete accident or whether he finally gave himself up to the "Death-Trip", but what matters is that this is not where his music was at. When he played he put his whole self into it, heaven and hell combined not heaven and hell combined, not

Anyway, I hope it was an ac-dent. — KEVIN OLIVER, Catford, London SE6.

SO WHAT the heck is going

Now I can remember the days when a letter containing the word "fugue" would have been censored, and when "class' was a term used to "class' was a term used to decribe Tina Turner. Things is deferee that Turner. Things is different now. Everybody wants to be rock's answer to F.R. Leavis; "slagging" has become "critique" and approval has become panegyric. "It's only rock 'n' roll but I'm gonna write a thesic on it anyhow"

a thesis on it anyhow".
"Why," Mr. Lambert asks solemnly, "do we have music?" A good question, but let's define the terms, by music we mean rock. Classical music is a whole other thing. Beethoven didn't chop the legs off his piano just so some crud could gyrate to the Ninth Symphony and talk about getting his rocks off. With me so far? Good.

Now, the essence of the question is — what is rock?

Answer: All things to all men. In other words, the heading "rock" covers the Bay City Rollers as much as Steely Dan. Rock is a popular art form, so popularity is a basic criterion. This is, of course, merely a crap-out a refusal to adopt critical standards, if you like (and I hope you don't like). So, next step.

What constitutes good rock? (the "high-class stuff" that Mr.

L lusts after).
He offered us, as I unders-

Edited by TONY TYLER

tand it, six basic criteria, namely rock should be skilled, in-dustrious, progressive, catholic, cosmopolitan and liberal. The first two are obviously valid. The third is debatable. The last

So try this. Rock should be
(a) skilled (this lets out the
Rollers); (b) economical (this cuts out, among many others, Grand Funk Railroad and their Grand Funk Railroad and their British counterparts ELP); (c meaningful to its potential audience (which includes countless singer-songwriters); (d) exciting (no question about this one. It throws Mike Oldfield right out the back door). And that's it. Simple, yes? Bands which best fill the category among those currently popular are Little Feat, the Wailers, Steely Dan and Bad Company. A good musical example would be the Stones "Satisfaction" or "Brown Sugar". Geddit?

Now Rock, as I said, is a popular art form, and as such must be readily accessible (in the sense of understanding) to the sense of understanding) to the mass of young people. Popular art, although someone with an elitist attitude like Mr. Lambert's would be loath to admit it, is in no sense inferior to Art with a capital A (as in English Literature classes). In its directness, immediacy and lack of pretension it can be in fact superior. Yet it is exactly these three qualities which are being thrown to the four winds by the grandiose posturings of the latter day cult bands and by the lunatic critical aberations such groups inspire.

So the message is: Keep it simple. Rock, at its best can be more exciting and rewarding than any other type of music; but we have to recognise its limitations and when people start favourably comparing Bob Dylan with T.S. Eliot and Mike Oldfield with Mozart then its time to call a halt.

Let's leave cerebral mastur-bation to the Times Literary Supplement. Enjoy rock for

Get up and dance, Lambert.
And smile, damn you, smile!
— ANDREW HOLMES, Stirling University, Stirling.

• (From previous answer) sent the Papal Embassy packing. But two nights later Attila took to wife a captured Gothic chick, called Ildico, or Hilda; he got totally pissed at his wedding reception and nodded out on the couch. And, as you might guess, just like a rockstar, he had a nosebleed in his sleep and choked on his own gore. A week later (Continued next answer)

DON'T EVEN think about "maybe". Nils Lofgren is Nils Lofgren is Nils Lofgren is everything rock music should be, pure, raw dynamic energy — linked with the personal charisma of the guy. Then his whole pure and complete comstance and complete comprehension of adolescence masterfully handled in his songs, to wit: "Back It Up," "Sometimes", "Another Saturday Night", "Soft Fun", etc.,

So how can he fail? It sure beats me. I mean, how can he fail when guys like Elton John and John Denver succeed? When did E.J. ever write a "Moontears"? Maybe Nils is to good for mass acceptance but that sure ain't no consolation to him.

I was personally responsible for making eight people see him — now all true converts. As for you, NME, you keep spreading the superlatives 'cos he sure does earn them. There is a core of die-hard Lofgrenites out here besides you rock critics — but you're the ones that give the exposure.

Like the man says — Take

Like the man says — Take

Me. — LIZ SHANNON, Me. -Ewell.

• (From previous answer) the Huns packed up and split to South Russia. And within two years the Empire of Attila — which had stretched from the Caspian to central Gaul — withered away. The West was saved. Just thought you'd like to know.

Now -where were we?

And now for something completely different: ead Teazer about Buo Dylan: according to last week's Cash Box a plan was afoot for The Zim to make an album with the absolutely wonderful Emmylou Harris rumour which naturally we checked out. Seems it could happen, though. Emmylou herself declined to comment after her show last Saturday (enthusiastic review, page 38). Over the week-end we spoke to Felice and Boudleaux Bryant at home in Nashville (you remember Felice and Boudleaux — they concoted all those dynamite Everly Brothers songs. "Wake Up Little Susie", "All I Have To Do Is Dream", "Poor Jenny", etc., etc.); they confirmed that they had been approached to submit material for consideration for the joint Dylan/Harris project; both emphasised that, though they were writing furiously, no kind of recording deal had yet been set up; and if you breathe heavy, it might blow away; By the way, the telephone conversation with Felice and Boudleaux produced fascinating

TEAZERS

A Weekly Complication

which will be disclosed to readers shortly; meanwhile thank a bundle to Dave Walters of Warner Bros. for setting it all warner Bros. for setting it an up...

We hear Roy Wood, whose new album is called "Mustard", is doing some kind of deal with Colman's — shall we soon be seeing Wood's new product for sale on the supermarket "Condiments" shelf? ... Dave Edmunds wishes to contact singer/ munds wishes to contact singer/ songwriter Susie Cope who used to play the Cardiff scene around two years ago so's he can record one of her songs.
Contact Dave through Dai
Davies at 01-870 2166 ... Dressingroom nerves in Dublin weren't improved for the Andy Fraser Band by the entrance of a gent who'd lost his way to the bog and proceeded to vomit all over the lot of them; the show was half an hour late (since costumes had suffered in the spout) and understandably it wasn't too hot, either...

On Jerry Lewis' recent coast-to-coast US TV Telethon from the Hotel Sahara. Las Vegas, copies of "The Beatles" - An Illustrated Record" (penned by NME's Tony Tyler and Roy Carr) were used to raise mucho greenbacks for charity: incidentally, same slim volume has now gone gold in USA, i.e. over one million dollars' worth of business — hotcha! ... Are snails the next big things? and is Patti Smith (CSM's next big thing) really as good as all that? ... And whatever happened to limping?...

Christmas: and for the person who has everything, the place to shop is the Neiman-Marcus store in Texas: latest offer: a 10 day dinosaur dig in Utah at £1,500 a day . . .

Paul Simon's career as TV host building nicely ... Jack Nicholson making a movie of Ken Kesey's "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" ... Jeff Wald on his $6,400 customs fine in Hawaii, where the customs officials kindly ignored a reefer found in the luggage: "That stuff about me having one of my 'patented fits' was all wrong, can you imagine me throwing a fit at a guy who's holding my grass? I did a lot of yessirring."... Yeeesirreebob!

New Queen single currently Eno's fave rave; he even send the band a telegram of con-gratulations and reckons it to Richard Perry in studio with toe-tappin' Manhattan Transfer ... Shades of 1984: Britain's 16th commercial radio station covering Ipswich area is called Radio Orwell ... Is it true Elton's Rocket

Records turned down oppor-tunity to sign Riago Starr? . . . All four Eagles albums now gone platinum in States . . No gone platinum in States ... No big deal y'all, but break-up of Souther Hillman Furay Band now confirmed ... Any truth in story that during stay in Hollywood hotel, Cinzano Jagger let her bathtub overflow and flooded the suite below? ... Househout this one then?

Howzabout this one then? (It's from an Irish source so we be held responsible): a certain promoter on checking his outgoings recently noted that Don McLean's entourage required eight plane tickets from L.A. to London as against only seven names on list provided; on enquiring further he discovered that the eighth ticket was for Mr. McLean's banjo! ... Maccamania Down Under: Asking price for Wings tickets by Perth ticket touts was 100 dollars...

Frank Zappa planning to bring out early tapes of himself bring out early tapes of himself and Captain Beefheart recorded in pre-Mothers days. They were made at Zappa's old Studio Z on his little five track machine, circa 1963-4, and are magnificent R&B tracks with Beefheart's 4½ octaves really wailing over Zappa's tracks; Beefheart seemed to think they were to be a Christmas release but there's probably not time; but there's probably not time; even to select which tapes to even to select which tapes to use would take months because, to quote the Captain, "Frank has so many tapes. He has a tape for every cigarette he's smoked"... "Little Kate, the girl with one skate": Beeficart on NME's Kate Philips after reading her recent article on him... Phil Manzanam begins work on another solo project when Roxy return from their current U.S. tour; no musicians yet lined up though he threatens yet lined up though he threatens to enlist the work of "the mad MacDonald"... Nico — currently hiding out in southern France — confused as to why Spanish TV deem her unsuitable for chat show ...

Todd Rundgren claims to have turned down offer of producing Bette Midler's next ...

David Bowie's mum, Mrs. Jones, phoned from downtown Beckenham to ask if we would thank all readers who wrote to her after reading CSM's interview ... Elton John had to decline invite to appear in Royal Variety have cost Sin Possible to the cost Sin Pos Variety Show due to U.S. commitments, but sent Sir Bernard Delfont a cheque for £1,500 for Variety Artists' Benevolent Fund ... Herbie Flowers tells us he played on David Bowie's 1969 "Space Oddity" session — and received a £6 fee! ... Attending Alex Harvey's

Attending Alex Harvey's opening at the Roxy in L.A.: Bruce Springsteen, Bad Company, Alice Cooper, Frankie Miller, Allan Clarke and Spencer Davis ... America's Record World publication describes Mag & Keth Wiscons Record World publication describes Mac & Katie Kissoon as a folk duol ... Allman Brothers forced to cancel second part of U.S. tour due to injury sustained by drummer Jaimoe Johnson who's suffering from a "herniated cervical

Two major news handouts arrived by express post this week, headed "Des O'Connor to star in Las Vegas" and "Lena Zavaroni for Germany";

OUT NOW! TWO FANTASTIC SOUL SINGLES PHYLLIS HYMAN

"LEAVING THE GOOD LIFE BEHIND"

on Private Stock PVT 31

"I WANT TO GIVE YOU MY EVERYTHING" bvCARL DOUGLAS

on Pye 7N45551

KPM GROUP, 21 Denmark Street, WC2. 01-836 6699

128 LONG ACRE LONDON, WC2E 9QH

01-240 2266 (10 lines) Cables: Newmusex London

EDITOR: NICK LOGAN

Assistant Editor: Tony Tyler News Editor: Derek Johnson Features Editor: Neil Spencer

Special Projects Editor: Roy Carr Production Editor: Jack Scott

Staff: Julie Webb Tony Stewart Charles Shaar Murray Steve Clarke Pete Erskine

Kate Phillips Contributors: Ian MacDonald Andrew Tyler Nick Kent Andrew Weiner Roger St. Pierre Steve Turner Tony Benyon Max Bell Fred Dellar Mick Farren Chris Salewicz

Charlie Gillett

Rod McShane

Brian Case Cliff White

Reviews Editor: Bob Woffinden New York:

Los Angeles Barry Levine

Photography: Pennie Smith Joe Stevens

Research: Fiona Foulger

Advertisement

Director: PERCY DICKINS

Publisher: Eric Jackson Editorial Consultant: Andy Gray IPC Magazines Ltd. Production of any material without permission is strictly forbidden.

TAILOR MADE JINGLES featuring your own name puts real sparkle into your show. Wide range available. Top studio quality, low cost. — Tel. Barbara, ROGER SQUIRE'S (DJ Studios). 01-722 8111.

D.J. COURSES

D.J. JINGLES

RADIO DJ COURSES held weekly in our St. John's Wood Studios. Don't miss your chance with commercial radio. — Tel. Barbara, ROGER SQUIRE'S (DJ Studios). 01-722 8111.

Departments still operating Ring 01-722 6885

Watch this space for details of our grand re-opening.

DISCOS

WEST COUNTRY D.J.'s

For all your disco requirements visit our showrooms. All types of equipment in stock

ALSO DECEMBER 2nd IS OUR

GRAND EXHIBITION

AND SOCIAL EVENING

Many leading products on display

DECIBEL SHOWKOOMS, 7 Market Place, Melksham Wilts. Telephone: 702800. Open Twesday-Saturday

DISCOS AND DISCO UGHTING

Whether you're setting up for the first time, or trading in your place to go than Roger Squires.

UK - at the best prices!

old disco system for a new one - there's no better

We have the biggest range of disco equipment in the

So visit our disco showrooms soon, or send 60p. for

MAIL ORDERS · EASY TERMS · ACCESS · BARCLAYCARD

Roger Squire's Dirco Centrer

LONDON 01-272 7474

176 Junction Road, N19 5QQ

MANCHESTER 061-831 7676

72 page catalogue featuring our entire range.

as everibable from in advances --- Why not enous along?

ASTRID DISCO, Full jingle and ligh-' effects. Any occasion, anywhere.— irry, Ruislip 37663. DAVE JANSEN.— 01-699 4010. DJDISCO BEST for your party.—

01-455 9612.

DISCOBOBBY BABY Super DJ
Stereosonic soul. — 01-204 4365.

MOBILE DISCOTHEQUES. —
01-897 1879.

OSCAR J. ANDERSON Mobile Disco, lights, etc., very competitive rates. — Jay 01-658 1666.

PHOENIX Mobile Discotheque, any casion, any time. — 01-485 2880.

SOTO DISCOTHEQUE the profes-onal one. — Evenings, Hertford

SOUNDS BEYOND fully profes-onal mobile discotheque. — 01-363 sional mobile 43-6. 7858. STEVE DAY. — 01-524 4976.

STUDIO SOUNDS disco, full stereo lighting effects, all occasions. — Bruce, 01-427 0101.

SOUNDSAROUND Mobile Disco. Phone 01-733 3718 after 5 p.m

EQUIPMENT FOR SALE

AARVAK AUTUMN GIVEAWAY Soundlight convertors, 1-channel, 1000w, £91 3-channel 1000w, £16; Strobes 1-joule, £22, 4-joule £30. Bargains catalogue. — 12a(C), Bruce Grove, N17 6RA. 01-808 8923.

MGBILE DISCO, includes 100 watt Seimer P.A., Garrard decks, lights, projectors. Many, many extras, £300 o.n.o. — 01-508 4564.

Roger Squire's NOW OPEN IN MANCHESTER 251 Deansgate. 3. Tel: 061-831 7676

1,090 WATTS A CHANNEL

SOUND TO LIGHT UNITS
Supplied direct from the manufacturers at cost price and have a frequency response that other manufacturers envy!

SWIFT ELECTRONICS 98 WEST GREEN RD., LONDON, N.15 Phone 01-800 4344 Just thought you'd like to know ... of marginally more interest, we do now have cast-iron news on the forthcoming Stevie Wonder album; it is definitely a double-album, titled "Songs In The Key Of Light" and is set for release November 25. For the first time on a Wonder album, entirely instrumental tracks are included — Stevie quotes his influences as South African, reggae and classical -Sounds different, huh?... On a different note, an artificial leg, complete with shoe, is waiting to be claimed at London Heathrow lost property office...

Meanwhile, many apologies to Baker-Gurvitz Army whose new single was recently reviewed by Kate Phillips while she was suffering from extensive brain damage; for a start, the errant Phillips gave the catalogue number as the title — the real title is "The Gambler"; further, the B-side is not, as was stated, the same as the A-side; and to complete this chapter of disasters, neither side lasts for five minutes. The first side clocks in at three minutes, the second side at four; apart from that, everything Kate told you was absolutely correct. She was back on target with the label (Mountain)...

Congratulations to Charlie Gillett for getting hold of James Burton and Glen Hardin for his Radio London "Honky Tonk" programme; both appeared on condition they were asked no embarrassing questions about Elvis ... Ike Everly, father of the boys, and a country music star in his own right, died two weeks ago of pneumonia after a short illness . . . Major operation for Barbra

Streisand: she had her finger-nails cut so she could play guitar on her new album ... Ailin' Elton, to whom we say Get Well Soon, reportedly now accounts for some two per cent of all world's records sales; from same source we also learn that his own record collection numbers some 30,000 —not buying your own are you, Elt?

... Aerosmith, huge in the U.S. reports Lisa Robinson, currently mopping up in grand style over the water: Seems they sold out the New Haven Coliseum in one day when just one year ago they couldn't even fill a much smaller venue in same town...

Alex Harvey mysteriously dropped from Little Feat bill at dropped from Little Feat bill at U.S. gig; sources say Lowell George didn't want SAHB on bill because "it's not our kind of music" ... In New Haven, Dylan's Rolling Thunder troupe joined by Joni Mitchell who sang duets with Ronnee Blakely (as well as two of her own songs); Mimi Farina also dropped by to sing awhile with dropped by to sing awhile with sister Joan Baez ... while his four-year-old "Imagine" climbs NME charts, John Lennon do ing nothin' much 'cept get up with his and Yoko's new baby every four hours ... Other Top Rock Attractions doing nuthin' much this week include Led Zeppelin, Bad Company, Elvis Presley, and Bullmoose Jackson - be sure that if they make the slightest move, Teazers will be there to record the event...

CLOSED MONDAYS 251 Deansgate M3 4EN

Together again... imons

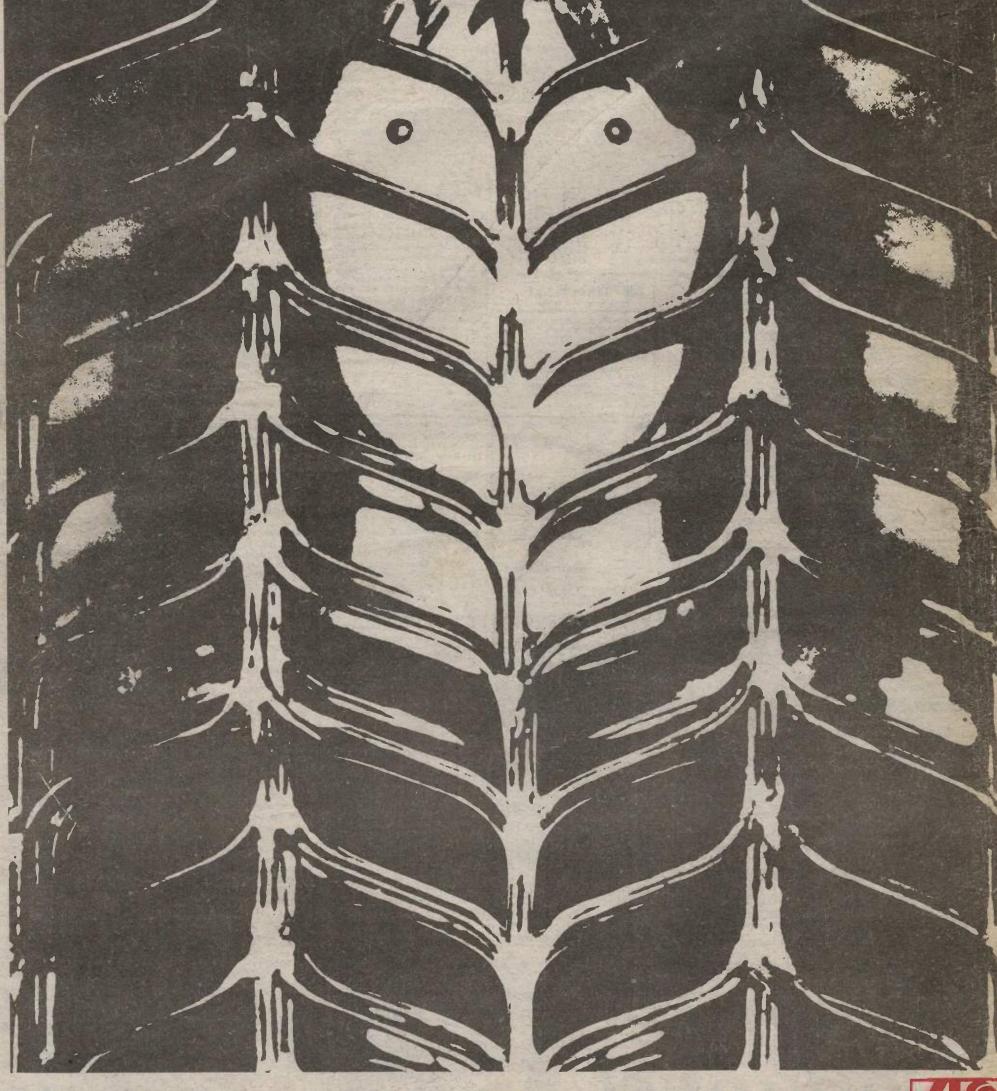

...their new single on CBS 3712

Published by IPC Magazines Limited, Fleetway House, Farringdon Street, London E.C.F at the Recommended maximum price shown on the cover. Editorial and Advertisement Offices, 128 Long Acre, WC2E 90H. Printed in England by King & Hutchings (Westminster Press Ltd.) Uxbridge (T.U.), Registered at the G.P.O. as a newspaper. Sole Agents. Australia and New Zealand. Gordon & Gotch (Asia) Ltd., South Africa, Central News Agency Ltd., East-Africa, stationery and Office Supplies Ltd. Publishers

CHRIS SQUIRE

Fish Out Of Water

Chris Squire's first solo album. On Atlantic Records and Tapes.

"God rest ye merry Gentlemen" - "Here's ten pee. Shove off!"

Faces keep on going etc.

• From previous page

fantastic, but Rod's singing tight with a tight band - each track is its own tight vacuum."

"Right," I said. "You hire competent musicians, and you end up with nothing but competence."

"I was asking Steve Crop-per," said Rod, "like, ah. fan-tastic, you played on 'Red Beans and Rice' and all that, and he said 'I don't remember that'. And he doesn't remember the Sam & Dave things. He remembers some of the songs that he wrote, but there have been so many sessions ... he just kind of seeks his own ge-

THE CRUX of this matter, it seems to your reporter, is that there is a certain school of journeyman musician who can be plugged into any session, and then there are people like the Faces who may be only good at one thing, but have mastered that style so intuitively that they create their own magic that no amount of professionalism can copy. Besides which professionalism is in no way synonymous with inspiration.

"Do you think," I asked Woody, "that after a while musicians like Cropper can't tell when they're good and when they're bad?"
"Some of them. A lot of times it's not a question of being good or bad, it's efficiency. Bear in mind Jackson and Cropper, and respect their approach.

proach.
"Because they invented that little idiosyncrasy in the first place, and there are plenty of drummers and guitanists who are still trying to get it. We work differently. Kenny just plays the drums the way he would have anyway; and when it comes time to rehearse Rod's old songs with the band I have to learn them all again because I forget everything. Not exactly efficient, but it's not like sitting in my room figuring out the chords either, because I play them instantly with the voice. There's nothing to it. Although there is a fine line between knowing the stock house of riffs and delivering it over to a big

One way they planned to deliver on this tour was by augmenting the band with Jessie Ed Davis on rhythm guitar and a whole string section in tuxes and black ties. When I asked whose idea the violinists were, Wood smirked. "Mr. Stewart." "What do you think of

"Well, I had planned with Mac to get a synthesizer . . . incredible sound . . . we knew that was available anyway to any keyboard player. But one thing we all knew was that Rod was dedicated to the thought of hading strings for the tour was dedicated to the thought of ha ing strings for the tour.

He also suggested getting Steve Cropper, said 'Woody's used to playing with another guitarist'.

I said 'No — Jessie Ed Davis.' I love Steve Cropper, but Jesse has a lot more weight to lose, and he'll do that on the road. And he's got a lot more rocks to get off..."

HIS ATTENTION began to drift again. I asked him about drift again. I asked him about the rumour of him becoming a permanent Stone. "Well, it's hardly an idea of any founda-tion. It's just an arrangement if I've got the time ... and they haven't got the money... do a tour! But I haven't got much time, and they've got loads of money. For instance, I've got to do a December tour of Europe with them for nine or ten days. We just work it out each time. And I don't think it will harm any relationship with the Faces. This working relationship between the two bands can only go on for so long, but while there's no tension, and while it's helping both bands, it's no reason to make a major thing out of it." out of it.

I reminded him that Rod had said he wasn't going to see the Stones and didn't know if Wood was dead or alive.
"Yeah, I read that Showed pretty good interest at the time. Luckily I was too busy to — it was another bit of press thrown in front of me and . . . I didn't take it too seriously. Especially when I spoke to him, and he said 'Well, for all I know, you could have passed away.' But he . . . more or less apologised for saying it."
What about the long overdue

Faces album? "I've got twelve songs" said Mac. I don't know how many Woody's got left but I know he had a lot at one point. He's still writing . . . and I don't have to rely on Rod so much for words now. J.P., a buddy of mine. has found he can write lyrics to songs . . . I've always had problems with lyrics . . so we've been getting songs together easy as hell . . . how good they are. I don't know . . basic ideas, down on tape. So I see that, and it's encouraging. Before it was always a liability for Rod to have

Did they, I wondered, think the band was becoming more independent of Rod? "More protective towards ourselves, rather than independent of Rod. I've always relied on Rod for words..."

"Plus." said Ron, "We've got a collection of all the songs we think the fans would like to know. A kind of Best of the Faces for next year ... songs you may have overlooked

Was he sure that the Faces were in it for anything besides the money at this point? "All the cats that come to our concerts have curiosity . . . and that's what . . . collects cash!" He smiled at his alliteration. He undoubtedly thought it was an impish grin.

an impish grin

I THINK the truth at this point is that even the Faces don't know whether they're going to last or not. Rod may see the band as chattel or at least a convenience, but there is a certain professionalism — "The Faces' last tour was the most competent, the most in-tune blockbusting tour we ever did. at a time when there was real depression and bad outlooks," Mac told me earlier — that carries them through both Rod's temperamental thrashings and their own uncertainty and apparent recording stagna tion. But all the swallowed pride and best-of albums and friendswriting-lyrics in the world won't pull them out of their very real quandary.

Meanwhile, it's thrilling and frustrating to watch them stave off the day of reckoning. That night on a football field in Jersey they took to the boards again, and surprised a jaded press junket by delivering a piledriving performance that, for the Faces, was downright savage. Rod, in spite of the fact that he was sporting what ap-peared to be a Davy Crockett haircut, sang with a fury that made you wonder exactly who all that bitter edginess was aimed at: and it was obvious that, for all his rather insipid affectations of the latter's blowzy wastedness, Wood had si-phoned some dilute guitar fire out of Keith Richard.

Simply, the whole band pla-yed with a vengeance, in spite of the fact that the electrified string the fact that the electrified string section, Stewart's folly, creaked and groaned unmercifully. It may be that Rod's aggression was directed at Mick Jagger, who slummed around in the mud backstage, jawjacking with Ronnie Van Zandt, lips bigger and eyes smaller than ever.

The band may be working

The band may be working so hard for a change because they know that this is the last or perhaps they are out to show Rod. by force if necessary, that they can cut anybody at his riffs; perhaps they will all shove each other into renewed love and inspired interaction. Nah, you know they hate his

But the Faces party never seemed so close to exploding into gridiron carnage before. If you made this one. you were lucky. It won't come again.

opyright CREEM magaz ne

thenew from Randy Pie

Randy Pie on Tour

November

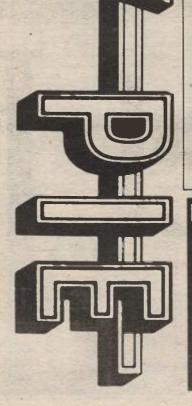

21st CAMBRIDGE Corn Exchange 22nd LOUGHBOROUGH University 23rd EDINBURGH Caley Cinema 24th GLASGOW City Hall 27th CLEETHORPES Winter Gardens 28th DURHAM University 29th FOLKESTONE Leas Cliff Hall 30th MIDDLESBROUGH Town Hall

December

3rd MANCHESTER University 4th HULL City Hall 5th COVENTRY Lancaster Polytechnic 6th BRADFORD University 7th LONDON Hammersmith Palais 8th BIRMINGHAM University 9th SWANSEA Branwyn Hall 10th CARDIFF University 11th ABERYSTWYTH University 12th HANLEY Victoria Hall 14th BATH Pavilion

> Randy Pie on

PHONE 247 5761 AND HEAR

AMS 5503

LEO SAYER

THE NEW SINGLE

"Let It Be"

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY

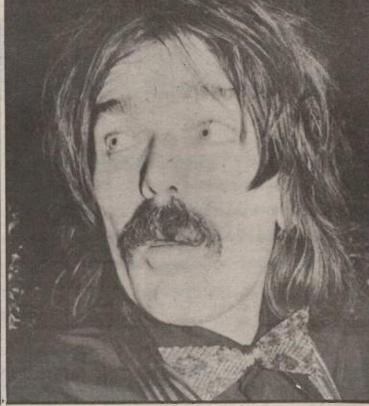

200

ON Chrysalis RECORDS

CHS 2080

Edited by Mick Farren

ZAPPA & BEEFHEART: "We have made an album together, but Virgin won't let it out."

K & THE CAPTAIN THE LEGAL PITFALLS OF HAVING FUN

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART stood on the stage at London's New Victoria, "Francis Vincent Zappa and I have made an album together", he places his hands together in prayer, "but Virgin Records won't let it out!" His prayer is not really serious, everyone can see that his pinkies and second fingers are playing with each and second fingers are playing with each other — what children call 'gubbying' and it's not a real prayer at all.

The dismal story of Beefheart's business career is final proof that the Road of Excess does not lead to the Palace of Enlightenment. In referring to a previous management he delivered the classic line: "Those Italian fellows RIPPED ME OFF!"

Virgin Records have issued an injunction preventing Warner Brothers from releasing "Bongo Fury" in this country. Virgin say they have an exclusive contract with Beefheart himself, signed in Los Angeles as well as having a contract with his management of the day. They would like the album to come out but want a sleeve credit and a financial arrangement since they regard him as one of their artists. Ri-chard Branson told me that if Beefheart really wants to change to Herb Cohen's Discreet label then Virgin would not stand in the way.

The Captain is concerned only with getting the record out: "They have no right to stop the world from hearing Frank and I having fun. Who are they kidding with a name like that? There are no more virgins, we all know that. The dance of the seven veils is over!"

WEA seem to be experiencing a repeat performance of their Rod Stewart act. It is probably time that the entire industry got together and worked out some kind of charter to deal with the ever increasing problem of artists working togeth-er who are under exclusive contracts to rival com-

Meantime, "Bongo Fury" is available on import but the way things are going the British version should be available soon.

MILES

Na I

YES VIRGINIA, YOU TOO CAN HAVE

WHILE ARCHITECTS ARE still arguing as to the design of the "deposit" window of the First International Sperm Bank, the British Academy of Sciences are extremely concerned over the problems inherent should Artificial Insemination establish itself as a major consumer industry!

After an intensive 18 month study, the BAS has recommended to Parliament that British rock stars be prohibited by law from selling their semen to commercial sperm banks.

Seemingly, the Academy is worned that lack of strict control could eventually result in a "sperm bank pop star war."

bank pop star war.'

bank pop star war."

Their concern revolves around the possibility that the likes of Mick Jagger. David Bowie and Paul McCartney might sell off their excess sperm to unscrupulous frozen-sperm bank operators, who would then advertise the fact, thereby attracting as customers thousands of female groupies wishing to become inseminated by proxy.

They fear a High Street sperm war where banks would discount their wares in the same way as Rird's Eye and Ross slash pennies off way as Bird's Eye and Ross slash pennies off their frozen fish fingers.

However, the Academy is not too upset by the knowledge that Mick Jagger might sire 5.000 off-springs. What puts the Academy in peril is the thought that in the not too distant future, these artificial children would grow up and intermarry without realising they had the same father and apart from the implications of incest, could finally

ROY CARR

OKAY!! WHO NICKED MY SUIT !!

THE LONE GROOVER

JESUS FREAKS START

THE INTERSECTION where Vine Street meets Hollywood Boulevard was where movie producers and actors used to congregate for lunch and dinner. That sort of openness has now disappeared but many still regard the junction as a symbol of what Hollywood is and stands for.

So, it's no surprise to find clusters of various wierdos gathered along the sidewalks shouting their slogans and distrubuting leaflets to passersby prepared to extend their hand.
Last week, assorted Jesus Freaks launched a campaign against the porno shops and "massage parlours" that line the side-streets.

Amongst the paraphernalia they are eager to part with is a leaflet with a boid headline proclaiming; "PORNOGRAPHY; what is it doing to our community?" Then lists a series of quotations on the subject by various upstanding members of the establishment:

"There has not been a sex murder in the his tory of our department in which the killer was not an avid reader of lewd magazines," Herbart W. Case, former Detroit Police Inspector.

"Obscene literature is a primary problem in the United States today. Sexual arousals from obscene literature have been responsible for criminal behaviour from vicious assaults to homicide," O. W. Wilson, Superintendent, Chicago Police.

"I have never picked up a juvenile sex offender who didn't have this stuff with him, in his car or in his house," Detective Lt. Austin B. Duke, St. Louis County Police.

Strong stuff chaps

Strong stuff, chaps.
As it says on the reverse side, we can all stamp out pornography. We can and we should because it degrades the community, fosters a climate fav-ourable to violent crime and rape.

"We don't have to stand for it! "Join the war against pornography and protest outside your neighbourhood porno stores!"

CHARLES VERFETTE

"JAILHOUSE ROCK" is just one of a whole collection of classic movies whose negatives are to be burnt in a purge of old film stock due to be carried out at MGM headquarters in Britain. The directive which came from the film companies headquarters in the US, ordered destruction of all feature films from 1932 to 1952. The Marx Brothers "Go West" and the Clark Gable monster "San Francisco" are also on the list. The reason MGM have given for this move is the threat of piracy, an increasingly common occurrence in the States where the nostalgia boom has prompted thefts from film laboratories. The move is being strongly opposed by the British

☐ DICK TRACY

Stars congregating opposite Woolworths. Pic: BOB GRUEN

THE SCENE is backstage, or in a hotel room somewhere in England, 1966. Bob Dylan is talking to a girl after one of his shows. "How did you like the show?" he asks. "Well I liked your part very much," she answered, "but I don't like The Band much." "Well," he smiled, "I have to give my friends work, don't 1?"

— From "Eat The Document", a TV film made by Howard Ork and Dylan of UK tour.

WATERBURY, CONNECTICUT, a mere two hours drive out of New York, is Americana incarnate and all that label entails. Holiday Inns and fast-food stands dot the highway, while the Palace Theatre (literally) on East Main Street, is really just like any old cinema in any old

All things considered then, it sure is weird to see "The Rolling Thunder Revue" with the names Bob Dylan/Joan Baez" on the marquee.

The Palace is opposite a Woolworths and next to the Palace Hotel, and Veneziano's Market, an unassuming (who said mundane?) environ, to say the least, and a far cry from the huge arenas Dylan performed in two years ago.

You must know all the basic facts by now.

Messiah Dylan, a whole host of old folkie chums, plus some new comrades whose talents had contributed actively to those already-destined-to-be-legend Greenwich Village bashes of a month or so back, banding together in an effort to extend the freewheelin' spirit of those intimate sessions.

So, curtain up The Village-based musicians like T-Bone Burnette (gtr), Rockin' Rob Stoner (bs), Mick Ronson (gtr), David Mansfield (slide gtr, dobro, fiddle), Howie Wyeth (drms), Steve Soles (gtr), and Luther Ricks (percussion) were all in evidence from the outset from the outset.

The whole assembly performed some The whole assembly performed some numbers together — country type rockers mostly, and then they all did solo turns. Rob Stoner did a song called "Catfish", Mick Ronson did "Life On Mars" (not Bowie's "Life on Mars" from "Hunky Dory" LP).

Ronson, I must say this now, was not at all out of place as I thought he would be. He's totally at ease with these musicians, and playing better than I've ever seen him.

I've ever seen him.

And he must be relieved to be able to come onstage wearing just a black shirt (open almost to the chest of course) and jeans; he also seems ecstatic at the obvious rapport he has with Dylan. (Dylan, in fact, seems to depend on him quite a ... turns round to look at Ronno, smiles,

Anyway, we had numbers from Bobby Neuwirth, Ronnee Blakely, Ramblin' Jack Elliot, and some ensemble banjo pickin' by Roger

And then . . . you knew he was coming on. because the movie cameramen stood up and focussed on stage. "Dylan!!", someone yelled, and Neuwrith snarled, "Yeah . . . he'll be here in a minute."

A minute later and there he was. Wearing a cowboy hat, jeans, vest, scarf — and flowers in the hat, he and Neuwirth sang

DYLAN BLUE EYE-SHADOW SENSATION

"When I Paint My Masterpiece" together, joking, laughing at each other, trading lines back and forth. A cha cha (really) version of "It Ain't Me Babe" followed, with Dylan quite openly more energetic this time around than he was on that tour two years ago with The Band.

Then I noticed . . . was it possible that Bob Dylan was wearing blue eyeshadow and black eyeliner??? Yes, it was and he was.

"Hard Rain's Gonna Fall" was next, and to add an extra twist of the bizarre it was not totally unlike Bryan Ferry's arrangement. All throughout his numbers. Dylan obviously led the music his numbers, Dylan obviously led the music, forced it on by tapping his feet, turning and facing the musicians a lot(especially Ronson), broke into smiles occasionally — and always, and this was most striking — kept giving out this incredible most striking — kept giving out this incredible energy.

Dylan said: "We're gonna dedicate this next song to Sam Peckinpah," and Scarlett Rivera — the gypsy looking violinist (she's amazing, stands utterly still and has hair down to her waist) — tjoined them for a strongly Mexican-flavoured (song ... entitled "Durango," with Bobby JNeuwirth jumping around like he was doing a Mexican hat dance.

"Isis" — a great new song (to be included on the next Dylan I.P) followed, and Dylan sang it

"Isis" — a great new song (to be included on the next Dylan LP) followed, and Dylan sang it without the guitar.

After a twenty minute intermission there came the sound of Joan Baez and Bob Dylan singing "Blowing in the Wind" together. The curtain rolled up and there they were — the mid'60's sweethearts for the ban-the-bomb weird beards singing what some people here consider a national anthem. While it's never been one of my favourite numbers, it was kind of special to listen to them sing it wery strong voices nice feeling between sing it ... very strong voices, nice feeling between

Of course, Joan was a bit maternal, wiping his brow, arm around him, smiling at him benevolently in exactly the same way it's been described she does at each concert — I could have lived without that! Dylan seemed to take it in his stride. They did several ballads together -Johnny Ace, and they sang "I Dreamed I saw St. Augustine." Then . . "this is for Richard Manuel," Bob said, and "I Shall Be Released" ended the duet-set.

"Bob will be back," Joan said — but not soon enough. She proceeded to do about eight songs.

. . and I suppos it depends on how much of a Baez fan you are as to your reaction. I liked "Diamonds and Rust" — her song about Dylan, though yet again I could have easily lived without the fifteen minute a cappella version of "Swing Low Sweet Chariot".

She introduced Roger McGuinn who sang "Chestnut Mare." Then ... then, Joan went and whispered in McGuinn's ear, he smiled and said sarcastically, "Joan says I can do 'Eight Miles High' tonight. Thank you Joan." (I must say, the Cobra woman aspect of Baez's personality has been well-known to those who really know her for a long time: it was out in full force this night. She been well-known to those who really know her for a long time; it was out in full force this night. She wasn't about to let go of that stage easily).

And so . . . in what otherwise would have been a truly magnificent "Eight Miles High" . . .

JOAN BAEZ GOT UP, AND RIGHT IN FRONT OF THE MOVIE CAMERAS, RIGHT NEXT TO ROGER McGUINN, SHE DID THE FUNKY CHICKEN. Yes, the funky chicken done just like the way your parents tried to do The Twist. The single most embarrassing to do The Twist. The single most embarrassing thing on this, or any other show, I have ever seen, Cringe.

Finally ... Dylan returned. He's no fool, noone had any doubt as to who was the Star here, and he really had the audience wanting more of him. He came out alone and sat on a stool to sing "A Simple Twist of Fate" — cheers, of course, every time he started to play the harmonica.

Scarlett Rivera and Rob Stoner joined him for "Oh Sister," and then he introduced his single with this: "This is about a man who got transferred today — from one prison to another," and they did "Hurricane." Ronnee Blakely was back to join in on harmonies.

"This is an underground song," Dylan said somewhat mysteriously, and sang something new called "Another Cup of Coffee," Then came "Sarah" — the incredibly shattering love song to his wife

All the musicians (except Joan and McGuinn) returned for "Just like a Woman" . . . McGuinn returned for "Just like a Woman" . . . McGuinn came back for "Knockin on Heaven's Door," and then everyone — including Allen Ginsberg (and David Blue who we haven't seen all night), are onstage for "This Land Is Your Land," a corny, but fitting finale. No encore, just three and a half hours of music.

LISA ROBINSON

